Council Gives Counter-Plan On Gas Rates

Wellsville Proposal Made To 2 Offers Of Ohio Valley Co.

A counter - proposal to two previous requests for rate increases was presented to the Ohio Valley Gas Co. by Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

Council pointed out the new proposal is not binding and was being presented only for the utility's consideration.

The offer cuts the increase sought by the utility for the small consumer while remaining primarily the same for the larger user.

The counter - offer, read by Councilman Paul Nelson, calls for a charge of 30 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 1,000 feet; 15 cents per 100 for the next 500; 8.3 cents per 100 for all over 2,000 up to 300,000 feet, and 7.5 cents per 100 for all over 300,000.

The company has made two proposals. The first called for 30 cents per 100 feet for the first 2,000; 78 cents per 1,000 for the next 298,000, and 70 cents per 1,000 for more than 300,000. The revised proposal called for 30 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 1,500; 8.3 cents per 100 for the next 298,000 cubic feet and 7 cents per 100 for all over 300,000.

The present rate is $2.65 for the first 1,000 and 77 cents for each 1,000 thereafter.

By way of comparison, the charge on 7,000 cubic feet of gas would be $7.27 under the present rate; $9.90 on the utility's first offer; $9.07 under the second offer, and $8.32 under the counter-proposal.

Boy Trapped In Mountain Cave Rescued

RISING FAWN, Ga. (AP) — Rescue workers, inching their way through a treacherous mountain cave, brought to the surface about dawn today an injured teen-aged boy who had been trapped overnight.

The youth, Ronnie Reese, 15, did not appear to be in serious condition from his ordeal. He was taken to a nearby hospital.

"We had to have an awful lot of help from the man upstairs to get this boy out," commented weary Charles McGuire, chief of operations of the Civil Defense rescue unit from Chattanooga, Tenn., about 30 miles northeast of this remote, mountain section of Georgia.

Reese fell into a crevasse in the cave shortly after dark Tuesday while he, his brother, Byron, and two other teen-age boys were exploring the cave near the top of Fox Mountain.

He was trapped on a ledge 50 feet below the cave's main floor about 10 hours before rescue workers managed to bring him up. Then it took another gruelling two hours to reach the cave exit, about a half-mile away.

Mantle's Out Of Lineup As Series Opens

After taking two or three swings in batting practice, Mantle told Manager Ralph Houk he would not be able to play. "It will be a day-to-day proposition," said Mantle.

Mantle underwent minor surgery for an abscess on his right hip last week and has made a slow recovery. This was the first time he had swung a bat in over a week.

Aged Industry Man Injured In Car Crash

Michael Shevenaugh, 70, of Industry R. D. 1 is in "fair" condition today at Rochester General Hospital after his car sheared off a telephone pole Tuesday about 5:48 p. m. in Midland.

He was admitted to the hospital at 6:35 p. m. with contusions of the chest and a possible injury to the right forearm, the hospital said.

The accident occurred on Railroad Ave., between 8th and 9th Sts., when he apparently lost control of his 1954 auto, police said. There was extensive damage to the front end of the car.

Bargaining Resumes In Transit Walkout

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Striking Transport Workers Union representatives and those from the Columbus Transit Co. returned to the bargaining table today to try to work out a new contract and end a strike which has left Ohio's capital city without public transportation since Sunday.

3-Car Crash Injures 4 On Super-Road

City Resident Hurt In Another Mishap On County Roads

Four area residents were injured in a three-car collision at Silver Switch on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Super-road Tuesday afternoon, and a city man was hurt in a one-car crash on Route 172 near Lisbon early today.

Thomas Diddle, 31, of Annesley Rd. is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries received in the multiple crash yesterday on the super - road.

Robert George, 23, of 409 Azalea Ave. also is in "fairly good" condition at the hospital with injuries suffered when his car veered from Route 172 and struck trees about 1 a. m. today.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Diddle, driving a 1959 station wagon east on the superroad, slowed and began to make a left turn onto Kountz Ave. about 12:45 p. m. yesterday.

His vehicle was struck from the rear by a 1957 sedan operated by Miss Edith Fuqua, 36, of 1515 Main St., maid for the family of Atty. and Mrs. Delmar O'Hara, 245 Highland Ave., Wellsville.

The impact knocked Diddle's station wagon around so that it faced west in the westbound lanes, and it was struck by a westbound 1960 Mercedes sedan driven by Robert F. Beatty, 50, of Forsyth Pl.

Diddle received a possible fracture of the skull. Miss Fuqua, who was driving a car owned by Atty. O'Hara, was treated for bruises and lacerations of the lower lip, and Becky O'Hara, daughter of the attorney, was treated for abrasions and bruises of the lower lip.

Patrick O'Hara, 2, son of the attorney, was unhurt, the patrol said.

Ford, UAW Bargaining Is Resumed

Stumbling Block In Auto Walkout Is Non-Economic

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co., its plants closed by a United Auto Workers Union strike, today apparently faced long and tedious bargaining before the auto firm can return to full production.

Negotiating sessions were scheduled to resume at 10 a.m. today.

The UAW struck Ford Tuesday morning in support of new contract demands. A national money package had been reached, but non-economic matters proved to be the stumbling block.

Ninety-six days of negotiation failed to bring agreement and the 120,000 production workers walked out. Ford operates 88 plants in 26 states. Half of its employes and 32 of its plants are in Michigan. Normally about 30 per cent of all autos sold in this country are Ford products.

Malcolm L. Denise, Ford vice president labor relations and top management negotiator, said, "The issues on which we are apart are of great importance. Based on outward appearance we have a considerable distance between us."

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said the union did all it could to avoid the strike, saying, "We have been at the table for 95 days, more than adequate time to settle our problems, but we didn't even clear up the details of our economic agreement until 8 a.m. Tuesday."

The economic package closely parallelled the union's agreement with General Motors, reached two weeks ago.

Stumbling blocks are:

Production standards, especially working conditions on moving assembly lines; representation (the union wants more full-time,

Sam Rayburn Remains On Serious List

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn remained on the "serious" list today at Baylor Hospital. His doctors hope to know Thursday just how serious his condition is.

A team headed by Dr. Robert F. Short, prominent Dallas surgeon, started a series of tests on Rayburn Tuesday. They said it would be 36 to 48 hours before they knew anything definite.

They declined to comment on a report from one of Rayburn's aides that an exploratory operation may be performed.

"This man is in serious condition, just how serious we do not know at this time," one of the doctors said privately.

Rayburn, 79, known as "Mister Democrat" to millions, was under heavy sedation. At times he hardly recognized the few visitors allowed to see him briefly. With him for periodic visits were his two sisters, Mrs. W. A. Thomas of Dallas and Mrs. Robert Bartley of Bonham, Tex.

Rayburn was brought to the hospital unexpectedly Monday night after failing to respond to normal treatment for what had been publicly described by his office as lumbago.

Called To Washington

MOSCOW (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson today was called to Washington in connection with the Berlin and German questions and other East-West problems. He will leave Thursday.

8 From Area Deny Grand Jury Charge

Pleas Of Innocent Filed At Hearing In Steubenville Court

Innocent pleas were filed Tuesday in Jefferson County Common Pleas Court in Steubenville by eight East Liverpool area men named in indictments returned by the September Grand Jury Sept. 28.

They were arraigned before Judge John J. Griesinger, who set bond after hearing their pleas. Trial dates will be set later.

Robert Henry Vance, 23, of Toronto R. D. 2 denied charges of shooting with intent to wound, and destruction of property in connection with a shotgun blast fired at a Wellsville man's car Aug. 27.

Vance is accused of shooting Harry (Bud) Grimm, 30, of Wellsville R. D. while aiming at the car of Ronald D. Tice, 25, of Lisbon St., Wellsville.

Grimm was wounded with a "pumpkin ball" slug from a shotgun while in the rear seat of Tice's car. Authorities said Tice had been following Vance's car in which Mrs. Tice was riding.

The charge of destruction of property stemmed from the damage to Tice's auto, riddled by the heavy slugs, authorities said.

Vance was unable to post $2,000 bond and was returned to the jail in Steubenville.

Others who entered innocent pleas, the charges, and the amount of bond set by Judge Griesinger are:

Spectacular Rocket Firing Hinted By Reds

LONDON (AP) — A Soviet rocket expert hinted today the U.S.S.R. is about to bring off a spectacular new space launching.

Dr. Vladimir Dobronravov said on Moscow radio current tests of "new and more powerful multistage rockets for the launching of objects into space are going off very successfully.

"Thus, it may be supposed that in the near future the whole world will witness new and most interesting achievements by the Soviet people in the conquest of interplanetary space."

Ex-Officers' New Appeal Will Be Heard

A second appeal of Ira Cunningham, former city police officer, and Jerry Raimond, one-time special officer, of their conviction of a 1952 burglary nearly three years ago will be heard by the Ohio Supreme Court Friday at Columbus.

Cunningham, 55, is currently serving a 1-5-year term at the Ohio Penitentiary for attempting to bribe a prospective juror in the 1958 burglary trial.

He and Raimond, 34, were convicted in November 1958 of the burglary of the Burbick Hardware Co. store of Washington St.

The District Appeals Court previously reversed the conviction, on the grounds the trial had not been held within the statutory three-court-term period. However, the case was taken to the Ohio Supreme Court by Prosecutor G. William Brokaw, and the high court ruled the lower court should re-hear the appeal on its merits.

The appeals court then sustained the Columbiana County conviction, and Cunningham and Raimond then appealed to the Supreme Court on this appellate ruling.

Raimond has been free on bond since arraignment in 1956, when he, Cunningham, and five other officers were indicted for a series of burglaries.

Ambassadors May Continue Berlin Talks

Kennedy Expected To See Gromyko Friday On Matter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic sources said today U. S.-Soviet talks on Berlin may continue at the ambassadorial level after President Kennedy sees Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Formal announcement was expected shortly that Kennedy will see Gromyko Friday, with Secretary of State Dean Rusk sitting in on the White House session.

Rusk talked with Gromyko in New York three times in the past two weeks. This was a probing operation to find out if there are prospects for fruitful East-West negotiations to settle the explosive Berlin dispute.

Further U. S.-Soviet talks seem likely. So far, Gromyko has given Rusk only a limited clarification of the Kremlin's intentions on Germany.

Agreement Looms For 'Formula'

Announcement Due When Rusk Meets With Russian Aide

Informed sources voiced guarded optimism that a formula might be announced soon — perhaps when Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko meets Secretary of State Dean Rusk in Washington later this week.

Soviet delegates were giving the impression that their only demand on the naming of a temporary successor to the late Dag Hammarskjold is that he be screened by the Security Council, where the Soviet Union holds the veto power.

But if the selection is left to the General Assembly alone, as advocated by some Western nations, the Soviet Union will refuse to recognize the new secretary-general "even if he were a Russian," one high Soviet source said. There is no veto in the General Assembly.

Latest speculation centered on a plan to name an acting secretary-general with five deputies. Two would come from the Soviet Union and the United States, the other three from Latin America, Asia and Africa.

There was no indication whether such a plan would be acceptable to the Soviets, who have proposed naming a secretary-general to work with three deputies representing East, West and neutrals.

The Soviets are telling other delegations that this formula is a far-reaching compromise and that they have dropped the idea that the deputies would exercise any veto over the actions of the temporary secretary-general.

1-Way Rule Set Thursday For 3 Streets

New one-way traffic regulations will go into effect Thursday in two short stretches of downtown alleys and a residential street, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen reminded motorists today.

One - way traffic westbound will go into effect on Potters Alley between Walnut St. and Broadway and on Norton St. from Lincoln Ave. to Peake St. One-way southbound traffic will take effect on Union St. between E. 4th and E. 2nd Sts.

The changes were contained in legislation approved by Council Sept. 5. Since the ordinance did not carry an emergency clause, there was a 30-day wait before effectiveness.

The ordinance also provides that the regulations will not go into effect until "signs indicating the direction of traffic are erected and maintained." The director said street department crews will complete erection of the signs today.

All the changes previously had been cleared by the Council street committee.

Ordinances establish westbound traffic in Diamond Alley and northbound travel in Crook Alley between E. 5th and E. 6th Sts., he said.

Some motorists drive the wrong way in the two thoroughfares, particularly at night. The violations may result from the fact the warning signs at the approaches are high above street level and difficult to discern after dark, the chief said.

'With Extreme Reluctance'

Kennedy Signs Into Law 'Remains' Of School Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has signed into law "with extreme reluctance" a bill containing the remains of his aid to education program.

The measure: (1) extends for two years the program of aid for school districts crowded with children of federal personnel and (2) continues for two years the National Defense Education Act.

The former, known as the impacted areas program, carries about $300 million a year in U.S. grants. The Defense Education Act, which provides loans to college students and aids to teaching of science, mathematics and foreign languages, has been costing about $250 million a year.

It was all Congress granted the President of the ambitious federal aid to education program he proposed this year.

Kennedy Tuesday night vetoed a bill that would have given $60.8 million a year in pay raises to 560,000 postal workers through quicker longevity increases.

In a veto memorandum Kensaid, "Budgetary needs are too urgent to permit approval of this measure unattended by revenue increases."

Congress did not pass the postal rate increases recommended by both the Kennedy and Eisenhower administrations. The President cited this as one of the reasons he vetoed the measure. He said the proposed raises would have increased the postal deficit to more than $800 million.

New Rural Mail Delivery Route Will Start Oct. 14

A new rural mail route, the third worked out of the East Liverpool Post Office which will reduce the territory covered by present R.D. 2 and provide service to new territory on both routes, will go into service Saturday, Oct. 14, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said today.

Brown said the new route, which will cover 36.4 miles, generally will include all territory on the east side of St. Clair Ave. from Oakmont north to Fredericktown.

Approval of the new route has been received from postal officials in Cincinnati and the postal department in Washington, Brown said.

The new rural route will cover Moore St., Milton St., Purington St., Clifton St., Gonzales Ave., McCoy Ave., Dairy Ln. Homestead Dr., Christian Pl., Stage Coach Rd., Carroll Rd., Valley Dr., Hoppel's Corner's Dr., Trotter Ln., Berkshire Rd., McRae Rd., McIntosh Rd., Mud Ln., Sunset Dr., old Fredericktown Rd., South St., Van Buren St. and Main St. in Fredericktown, Duke Vodrey Rd., Grimms Bridge Rd., Elmhurst Dr., Fisher Rd. and Pennsylvania Ave. Ext., Brown explained.

Plans for the new route have been under way for some time, the postmaster explained, point-

Deaths and Funerals

Former City Resident Dies

Ray (Kink) Babb, 66, of Canton, a native of East Liverpool, died Monday morning at Timken Mercy Hospital at Canton.

He had been employed at Union Drawn Steel Co. at Massillon.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Kathryn Babb at home; three sons, and a brother, Leo Babb of East Liverpool.

Services will be held Thursday at 1:30 p. m. at the Reed Funeral Home in Canton. Burial will be in Forest Hill Cemetery there.

Gerry B. Roberts

Gerry B. Roberts 57, of Beloit R.D. died Tuesday at 10:30 p. m. at Alliance City Hospital, following an illness of about three months.

Mr. Roberts was born March 9, 1904, in Conneaut, son of Mrs. Eva Lane Roberts of Conneaut and the late Robert C. Roberts. He was employed for 20 years as a fitter at the Morgan Engineering Co. at Alliance. At one time he worked for the Mullins Manufacturing Co. in Salem. He was married to the former Gladys M. Burke in February 1927.

In addition to his mother and widow, he is survived by three sons, Marvin Roberts of East Liverpool, Robert E. Roberts of Salem and James Roberts of Beloit R.D. 2; two brothers, Kenneth Roberts and Clinton Roberts, both of Conneaut; two sisters, Mrs. Eva Johnson of Erie, and Mrs. Gertrude Powell of Girard, Pa., and 10 grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Stark Memorial in Salem. Burial will be in Hope Cemetery in Salem.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday from 7 to 9 p. m.

Mrs. Margaret Tilton

Services for Mrs. Margaret Eileen Schneidmiller Tilton of Omaha, Neb., a former Calcutta and Glenmoor school teacher, will be held Thursday morning at 10:30 at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Charles Kampmeyer will officiate. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Mrs. Tilton died Monday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Schneidmiller, in Glenmoor, following a long illness.

All three vehicles received extensive damage, officers said, and Diddle's station wagon was virtually demolished.

Miss Fuqua was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

George was driving east on Route 172 about four miles west of Lisbon when he apparently fell asleep and the car left the roadway. The 1959 sedan was heavily damaged, the patrol said, and he was charged with driving left of center.

John David Hoppel, 59, of R. D. 2 was cited by the patrol yesterday afternoon after his car and one operated by Robert Massey, 41, of 1726 Wyoming Ave. collided on the Smiths Ferry-Calcutta Rd. a mile and a half east of Calcutta.

Officers said Hoppel, headed east, made a left turn into the path of Massey's approaching car. He was charged with making an improper turn. The cars received moderate damage, the patrol reported.

Rural Route Set For Mail

ing out that Virgil Kirkbride, assistant superintendent of mails, made a survey of the territory and several trips were made over the route to check road conditions, names of streets or plats and future growth. Geren aided in the project.

To provide better service to more people, it was decided to reduce Geren's route from 58 miles daily at present to 30, and add in all the patrons who have requested service.

By splitting R.D. 2 and adding the new route, more than 16 miles of territory not previously served by a mail route will be covered, Brown said.

The department has several regulations which must be met in order for the service to be started, Brown said.

Patrons must erect approved mail boxes on the right side of the roads as they are traveled by the carrier, or file a written agreement with the postal officials that they will join with others in the use of the boxes, Brown emphasized.

The name of each family receiving mail at a box must appear so the carrier can see it as he approaches the box. Forms will be placed in the boxes so the names of all individuals who will receive mail at the office can be kept on record.

No exceptions will be made about placing the box on the side of the road the carrier travels or about placing the names legibly on the side of the box, he continued.

After the route has been in existence for some time, rural route box numbers will be assigned, Brown said.

A new rural carrier will be appointed, but in order to begin service by the target date a substitute employe probably will be assigned, the postmaster said.

The new route is another reason why East Liverpool should have a new post office "and soon," Brown commented. Because of a lack of space on the "work floor," one or two rural routes may have to be shifted to the basement to get operating room, he explained.

Brown urged that all mail contain a complete address, pointing out the difficulty in locating patrons when addresses are incomplete.

A letter bearing an address such as John Doe, R.D. 3, East Liverpool, is not complete, he explained, pointing out the carrier may have two or more individuals with the same name and middle initials on his route.

A complete example would be John Doe, 425 Stage Coach Rd., R.D. 3, East Liverpool, he added.

Many people address their mail simply to Fredericktown, Ohio. The local area known as Fredericktown is on a rural route out of East Liverpool, Brown said.

To a postal clerk dispatching mail, a letter addressed simply to Fredericktown without mentioning East Liverpool R.D. 3 will be forwarded to Fredericktown in Knox County, the postmaster explained.

Since Fredericktown has some street names, such as South, Van Buren and Main Sts., a complete address might be John Doe, South St., Fredericktown, R.D. 3, East Liverpool.

DeGaulle Takes His Stand

The French have several nicknames for President De Gaulle, but they all signify the same thing — his high opinion of himself as a strong leader.

He is fond of saying that power never retreats. Charles De Gaulle never retreats, therefore he is power. In his latest assertion of power over French affairs, he has made it plain again that he considers settlement of the Algerian question his primary responsibility.

He has not retreated an inch from his position that the job must be carried out by relentless use of his power to control Algerian rebels until it is possible to settle the Algerian question with a plebiscite. And at long last time seems to be coming to DeGaulle's rescue.

Time has given geologists a chance to learn more about the oil, gas and minerals in the Sahara Desert.

Time has given exploiters of natural resources a chance to apply knowledge of transportation and communication to the problems of desert travel.

Given a little more time, the Sahara might begin to get the fresh water it must have to make even its fringes habitable. These are things of great importance to the French soldier - general who has dedicated what is left of his life to settling the raging dispute over Algeria.

He is able now to paint a prospect of vast new wealth to be enjoyed if quarreling factions will settle their differences. He is able to play off one group against another and thereby to diminish the influence of both. He can offer all parties concerned in Africa the potentialities of more and more and more, instead of limiting them to the drab prospect of dividing less and less and less.

There is doubt among both De Gaulle's friends and enemies that he can outlast his problems. The man himself is above partisan politics, but partisan politicians are getting bolder in their pecking and nibbling, figuring that whoever is boldest may seem to have the greatest stature when De Gaulle is no more and small men once more can pretend to be large.

Whether France's benevolent despot should be judged right or wrong according to objective analysis never has been of concern to him or his followers. Charles De Gaulle judges things to be right or wrong according to his personal analysis and takes his stand. Thereafter, he cannot be moved. Instead of pursuing a vagrant popular opinion and trying to get ahead of it, he makes himself a fized point and invites opinion to rally around him.

It is not easy, and it is not popular. But it is admirable, and it has revived the strength of France.

If Hammarskjold Had Lived

Dag Hammarskjold's tragic death brought to finality the raging issue he was deeply involved in when he died.

Should the secretary-general of the United Nations think of himself as the executive director of an international agency pledged to keep the peace?

Or should a secretary-general think of himself as the moderator of an international debating society that strives to avert war by persuasion and is helpless if persuasion fails?

Hammarskjold thought of himself as an executive director.

He believed it was his job to take action to keep the peace; that was what he had been doing in the Congo.

He had done this first when he took steps to oust the Russians who tried to muscle into the Congo when it was thrown on its own after its release from Belgium. The Soviet Union thereupon marked him for ruin, exactly as it previously had marked Trygve Lie for ruin when he took steps to block Russian seizure of all of Korea.

The Soviet Union, dominated by a political movement that always has relied heavily on dialectics, wants the United Nations to be a debating society, nothing more.

THE HARD FACT is that all the other major powers in the United Nations also want it to be a debating society insofar as action against them is concerned, though they want it to keep the peace with military action if necessary insofar as action against others is concerned.

The Soviet Union does not want a secretary-general of the United Nations who might thwart its aims, but neither does the United States want a secretary-general who might thwart its aims.

Nor do Britain and France want to be thwarted, as they were five years ago this month when the United Nations demanded a cease-fire in Egypt. Israel complied immediately. Britain and France continued their attack for another week before complying, and many Britons and Frenchmen still feel that their governments should have refused to recognize U.S. authority.

IF HAMMARSKJOLD had lived, he would be in the thick of this issue. He had joined it squarely in the Congo, where he was using U.N. military force to subdue an uprising in Katanga Province — not because he denied the right of that province to engage in civil war but because he believed the presence of outsiders in the Katanga military force constituted interference, in the Congo.

The fight in the United Nations is not over Hammarskjold's successor. It is over the job a successor will succeed to — whether it will be that of moderator for an international debating society or of executive director of an international agency.

For all present purposes, the issue died with Hammarskjold, because it was essentially his own issue. His successor will be in no position to agitate it. That may very well be the first requirement of his succession—that he won't agitate anything.

A Long Time Since Spring

This is the year the Yankees play the Reds for the big prize. It is not, for the Reds, a thing that happens often enough to make it commonplace. For the Yankees, of course, it's old stuff.

We wonder about professional ballplayers when we are thinking about professional baseball. Do some players get to be like stage actors, who grow hardened to the roles they play in a long-running hit and forget that to the spectator every performance is a miracle?

Americans never tire of baseball. Each game is a separate experience in pleasure. Each "crucial" game is a high-water mark. Baseball players are an athletic breed apart. They have no counterparts in professional athletics.

It's no accident that foreigners are taken to baseball games when being made acquainted with the United States. They may not understand baseball any better than an American understands cricket, but what they fail to understand may shed as much light on America as what they do understand.

By the time the World Series has passed into the record books, the leaves will be falling off the trees, but another season will be under way long before they reappear.

It has been a long time since last Spring, but it will be no time at all until next Spring. The ball teams start their spring training in February.

That's the most cheerful thing there is to say at the end of another baseball season—the year the Yankees play the Reds for the prize. It all begins again late in February. It won't be long.

A New York psychologist has reiterated a theory long held by district veterinarians, along with Bob Croyle, city dog warden, and other canine experts.

Dr. Boris Levinson of Yeshiva University's psychological center says house pets, particularly dogs, are more important to man for psychological reasons than any other filling human needs for loyalty, trust, respect, obedience and submission.

Considering the cost of Rover's food, new collar for Christmas, flea spray and annual license fee, he is a very inexpensive form of psycho-therapy. Of course, Rover—lying peacefully in the sun—gets a lift, too, when he eyes some of the troubles and antics of his No. 1 patient.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

New York's Tammany Hall got the works from expert in firefighting. Fire Commissioner Ed Cavanagh directed the dismantling of Tammany Madison Ave. de luxe suite and opening of modest tepee in East 48th St.

He made sure the fire under former bosses wasn't put out. Cavanagh, familiar to TV fans for snappy interviews at Gothem blazes, may yet accuse Tiger of violating rules on exits, fire escapes, locked doors and excessive rubbish, if not arson.

Fireman notifies Cavanagh that Carmine DeSapio is trapped in smoke on top floor and is about to jump. "Don't stand for any delay. Tell him to jump. And see that a net with hole in it is stretched below," is order.

"There are other Tammany old timers in trouble," says fireman. "You're telling me!" exclaims Cavanagh.

"How about the furnishings? There's a chair Croker once sat in" remarks another member of the Wagner Volunteer Hose Company. "Use the axe on it," is order.

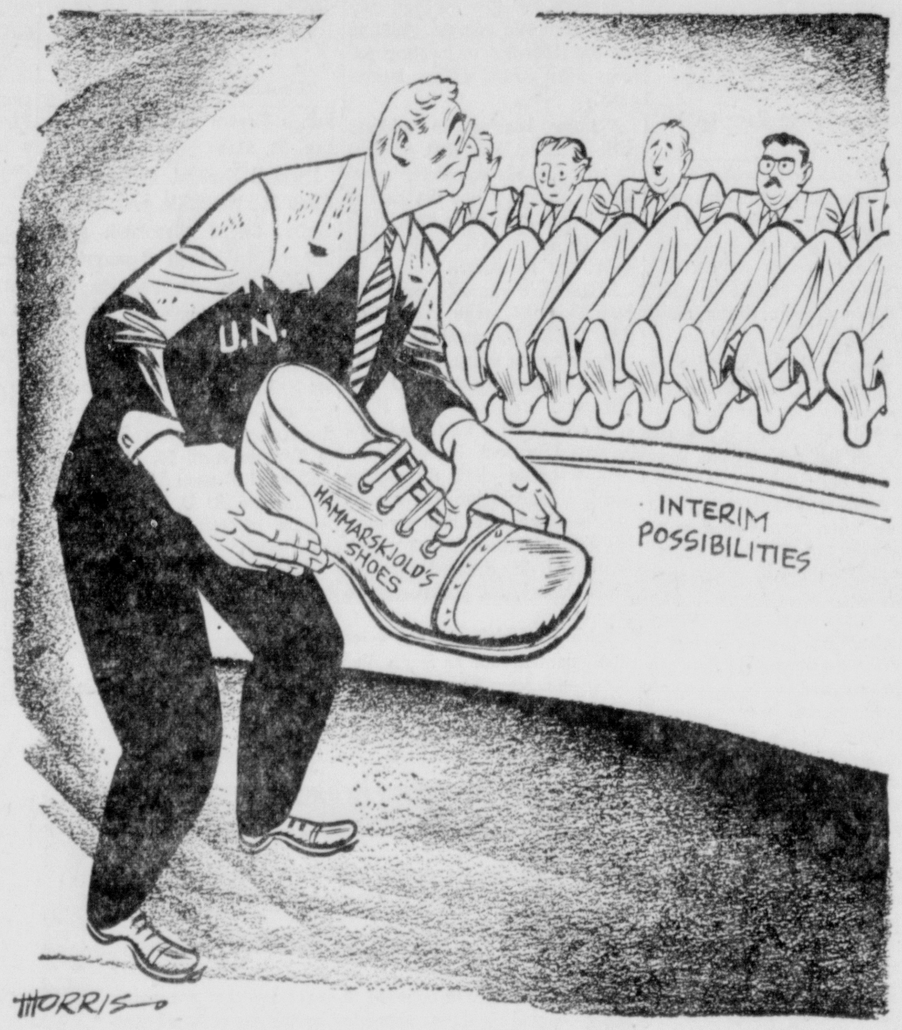

Oil portrait of Charlie Murphy is reported on wall. Cavanagh says, "Throw it out the window with DeSapio's shoes and other junk." "Big tiger skin on wall is in danger of smoke damage," says helper. "Rescue it and you'll be suspended from department," snaps fire chief.

"What about a collection of Indian feathers, Tammany tomahawks, beads and moccasins?" comes excited query, "Let 'em burn" orders Cavanagh, adding as an afterthought, "No, save the tomahawks. They may come in handy later for us"!

ALBIE PEARSON, baseball star, is also a singer and has made hit recordings of "I'm Still in Love With You" and "Anytime, Anyplace, Anywhere." How about "My Eyes Have Been On Pop Flies But My Mind Has Been on You," "I'm Always Chasing Doubles" and "In the Outfield of the Ballclub and the Infield of Your Heart"?

John A. McCone, new Central Intelligence chief, began his life as a riveter in a boiler shop. He will have to be quieter than this training would indicate.

The Original Cinderella Job Was Easy

Latter-Day Barnums Gyp Public

By Victor Riesel

HOUSTON, Tex.

After hedge-hopping this country of ours for some 5,000 miles, I find there are racketeers and racketeers. Not all use guns and muscle. Some pick the pockets of American families with a manicured finesse which nets more than a billion crooked dollars a year. These are the operators I had thought went out with Barnum's stuffed elephant.

Victor Riesel

They chisel the consumers, and mighty few people seem to care or are concerned over the fact that there are more consumers rackets — some of them literally lethal — than there are columns in a Greek ruin.

So I contacted a crusading fellow and said to hell with anonymity, let's expose this.

He is Leo Perlis, national director of the AFL-CIO's Community Service Activities. He too has been hedge-hopping. We made contact and he started by saying:

"You ask how much the American people are bilked yearly.

"I have found the best figures available come from the Association of Better Business Bureaus which estimates that in any one year about $500 million is spent for phony home repairs alone.

"ABOUT $100 MILLION is lost in dieting aids, pills etc. which couldn't reduce a cake of ice in a hothouse. About $200 million is thrown away on phony charities and causes of all kinds; about $50 million goes for quack cancer cures (and that's a low estimate); and about $100 million to $150 million is lost in stock frauds.

Throw in about $25 million in overcharges for spurious insurance. Then add in all the shoddy merchandise and phony services, the figures come to well over $1 billion a year out of the pockets of men and women who work for their wages and salaries."

Perlis was just warming up. "A major area," he said, "in which the public takes it on the chin is interest payments. Many people who think they're paying 6 per cent interest are shocked to find it is really 12 to 14 per cent.

For example, we have run into vacuum cleaners marked for sale at $69, or $2 per week a year. This adds up to $104. The customer is paying $35 for these 'easy payments.'

"In some cases, interest on this type of crooked sales, which hurts the legitimate retailers, runs as high as 50 per cent.

"Point out, will you, that these unethical merchants, who hurt the legitimate retailers, do not sell merchandise — but debts. In some cases the profit on the debt is higher than on the sale of merchandise."

I RAN INTO a lot of charity appeals during this trek. I found legitimate charities which are not doing much probing of all the men to whom they are throwing testimonial dinners — and which someday will be embarrassed. But these are not the ones about which I queried Mr. Perlis. I asked about the charity rackets.

"We estimated," he said, "that the people of Los Angeles waste $25 million each year on phony 'causes.'

"On the other coast, the people of New York City probably give some $40 million to these fakes. We have found that in some cases about 80 per cent to 90 per cent of the money raised for good causes, goes into the pockets of unscrupulous money raisers."

Perlis then added that no one force can fully police and educate at the same time in this field. Labor and management must work together — and do frequently.

"In Washington, D.C., representatives of the American Hotel Association joined with us in labor to fight for an order from the Agricultural Department on ham. We wanted the watering of ham curbed.

"Sound silly? It isn't. You'd be surprised how much weight that adds and how many dollars are spent for just water. Until Sept. 2, meat suppliers could legally add 10 per cent moisture to the ham. But we won. That's over."

PERLIS REELED OFF other instances. In Columbus, Ohio the Manufacturers Association, the Retail Merchants Association and the Better Business Bureau joined with the Community Services' labor people to fight for a better garnishee law. They won.

Now bad debts can be collected. But crooks can't put their hands on as much of the workers' wages as they did in the past, Perlis reckoned.

In Des Moines union members, taking one of the consumer counseling courses Perlis' group runs in some 35 cities, wanted advice on how to avoid fake stock shares. Labor people now want to invest their money in Wall Street. A special class was set up for investment opportunities. An instructor came from no less than Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith.

Today the labor people in these courses talk about stocks more fluently than they do about dues stamps. And no bucket shop operator gets a sou of their hard earned money.

So it is easy to learn how not to get taken. It isn't true that a sucker is born every minute. He's not born one, he's turned into one.

Clay Ready For Reds

By Warren Rogers

Gen. Lucius D. Clay has a number of tricks up his sleeve to convince the Russians that the American presence is in Berlin and intends to stay there.

These will become evident with time. Some, such as his trip by helicopter last week to the tiny American-zone enclave of Steinstuecken near Berlin in Communist territory, are minor in themselves. Others will have more significance.

Since Gen. Clay returned to Berlin as President Kennedy's personal representative, his occupation has been to catch up on the situation.

He spends long hours pouring over the voluminous files at American Mission Headquarters on Clay Allee, the street named for him in honor of his steadfastness during the 1948-49 Berlin blockade, when he was the American Military Commander in Germany.

He meets daily with the top American diplomatic and military leaders in Berlin.

He drives about town — on both sides of the concrete and barbed wire wall which divides it — in a big black limousine with the American flag proudly flapping from the right front fender. He is out to see for himself, but also to be seen.

OUT OF THIS process, a combination of homework and showmanship is evolving a program which, hopefully, will rebuild the somewhat bedraggled morale of the tough citizens of this island of democracy in a Communist sea. Whether it succeeds or not will depend ultimately upon two things:

1. The amount of support President Kennedy gives to the man to whom he seemingly has delegated great on-the-spot authority, and

2. Gen Clay's ability to win cooperation from the diplomatic and military officials whose domain, in a narrow sense, he has invaded and whom, in an even narrower sense, he has now superseded.

The quality of the American diplomatic representation in Berlin has not been high. The American government for years has not seen fit to send to Berlin enough top-drawer diplomats with the skill, prestige and authority to counter the lightning-fast moves of the Communists.

"When the East Germans threw up that barbed wire barrier on Aug. 13, we should have torn it down immediately," one highly qualified authority told me.

"If we had acted within hours, the Russians would have given in as they always do to a prompt, strong reaction in the German situation. But the Americans here, diplomatic and military lacked the authority. They had to go through channels for permission to act. By that time it was too late. Days had passed. To tear the wall down days later would have meant war, because Communist prestige was committed before the world. But the fact was then, and still is, that the wall is illegal."

GEN. CLAY has the authority to act immediately. He has a direct line of communication to Secretary of State Dean Rusk and, in an emergency, to President Kennedy himself.

He does not have to go through the American Embassy at Bonn or, militarily, through American headquarters at Stuttgart and North Atlantic Treaty headquarters at Paris. But he has a problem with the diplomatic and military chieftains here who are woefully uneasy because of his presence.

One example is the American patrol along the Autobahn from West Germany across East German territory to West Berlin.

Gen. Clay asked that these jeep patrols be doubled and trebled, as an exercise of the right of the Americans to decide for themselves how big this patrol should be. It took a lot of arguing within the family there, but Gen. Clay had his way.

Despite expressed fears of a Soviet reaction, none has yet been forthcoming.

The Naval Observatory in Washington is the nation's official timekeeper. The Navy got into timekeeping because navigators require accurate measurements of time so they could fix the position of the stars at any given instant.

Foreign Experts

By David Lawrence

Kennedy Friends Weaken U.S. Stand

Not long ago President Kennedy talked about the need for the press to be more careful about what it printed on military matters that might become useful to an enemy. But the President now finds himself in an embarrassing position because, while his secretary of defense has effectually muzzled military officers so that they can't discuss even abstract ideologies, no such restraint has been applied to members of the President's own party in Congress who make speeches that the Soviet government, for instance, can interpret as a sign of the weakening of American policy in the current negotiations.

David Lawrence

While Mr. Kennedy uses strong and resolute words, there are at least a half-dozen unofficial secretaries of state who give to the "unaligned" nations, as well as to the Soviets, the impression that Mr. Kennedy may retreat after all.

1. Sen. J. William Fulbright, Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told a news conference in London a few days ago that the United States is "not without fault" in the Berlin controversy. Just what he means isn't clear, but he gave the impression that the United States has done something to precipitate the Berlin crisis. He is also quoted as saying later that "a change in the status quo (in Berlin) might be mutually valuable" to East and West.

2. Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Minn., in London on a five-week fact-finding tour of Europe which will take him behind the Iron Curtain, told reporters questioning him about the Fulbright statement, that "our position has not changed a bit." He himself, however, only a day earlier in Rome had indicated that the United States might "negotiate" recognition of the temporary wartime boundry between Poland and East Germany as a permanent one.

Though he stressed that he does not speak for the secretary of state, the fact that Mr. Humphrey is assistant floor leader of the President's party in the Senate and chairman of the Senate disarmament subcommittee lends weight to his words and gives the "neutralist" world encouragement in their support of Moscow's position.

3. Sen. Mike Mansfield, Mont., floor leader of the Democratic party, also has repeatedly indicated that he thinks it would be all right to change the status of Berlin. He calls for a "free city" and concedes the possibility of a change in its status. The announced position of the United States involves no such concession.

4. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, Me., an influential member of the President's party in the Senate who recently returned from a visit to Berlin, has just told the press that the United States should consider the possibility of giving "de facto" recognition to East Germany.

He added: "A change in status for Berlin should be explored, but in no case should we agree to a change which might weaken Berlin economically, militarily or politically."

He said all this after conferring with Gen. Lucius Clay, President Kennedy's special representative in West Berlin, and declared he reached the conclusion that both Gen. Clay and President Kennedy "have no intention of sacrificing or compromising any vital interest of the United States."

The West Germans themselves indicate that they believe West Berlin will wither on the vine naturally and disintegrate from an economic standpoint if recognition is given to the East German government.

IN ADDITION to the foregoing spokesmen — whose words are carefully read in Moscow and doubtless interpreted as a sign that Mr. Kennedy will recede at the proper moment — there are others involved in incidents reported in the newspapers of the world.

Thus, Gen. Clay had an off-the-record conference a few days ago with press representatives, and afterward stories were printed that he, too, feels that "de facto" recognition of the East German government is inevitable. He later issued a statement denying that he had said anything which could lead to the belief that America's position on Berlin was weakening.

Then there was a statement in the press over the weekend by Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court of the United States, who has just returned from a visit to Outer Mongolia.

He urged that Outer Mongolia's government be immediately recognized by the United States and admitted promptly to the United Nations.

This happens to be at variance with the present policy of the Department of State and happens also to be something that antagonizes the Nationalist China government in Formosa on whose army America relies to help defend the Far East if another Korean - type war should arise there.

Mr. Douglas is known to be a Democrat and a friend of President Kennedy.

PUTTING IT all together, the Communists may well wonder whether these friends of the President and fellow members of his party are giving hints as to future policy.

Anyone who knows anything about diplomatic negotiation is aware that it's hard to negotiate if your adversary knows from the start that eventually you will give in anyway. All such comments naturally become news and are widely printed.

But one wonders whether these various spokesmen realize that, unlike the Republicans — who have a natural right to criticize and attack, and whose views are discounted abroad — they, as members of the President's own party, can by their utterances be construed to reflect the administration's real purposes despite its strong phrases.

One wonders also how much easier would be the task of the secretary of state, Dean Rusk, if he didn't have so many kibitzers formulating foreign policy for him in the press and over the worldwide radio waves.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Mrs. Paul Adams qualified as president of the Ladies Aid Society of the First Methodist Episcopal Church.

Miss Anna Jones was named head of the True Blue Class of the First Protestant Church.

Lawrence Shapiro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Shapiro of Mulberry St., a freshman at Ohio State University, was pledged to Alpha Epislion Pi Fraternity.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Mary Joe Fraser, Adelaide King and Nessie Dunlop were named officers of the Girl Scout Troop 2 at a meeting in the Taft School.

J. Dick Porter of Chester defeated Porter Reardin, also of Chester, to capture the YMCA open tennis championship.

Gulf Of Mexico

Was the Gulf of Mexico once a dead sea bottled up by a land barrier?

Columbia University professors who studied the gulf for 10 months aboard the ocean research vessel "Vema" say there's evidence to indicate it was — 155,000,000 years ago.

The professors, Dr. Maurice Ewing and Dr. J. Lamar Worzel of Columbia's Lamont Geological Laboratory, say they have discovered about 20 formations under the gulf floor at its center which they believe to be salt domes.

If they are, said Ewing, "it means that at some time in the past the access of ocean water to the gulf was so restricted and the climate so dry that the body of water evaporated and deposited salt out in the deep part."

Ewing added that the discovery hints there may be oil deposits in sediment close to the domes, which are about 1,200 feet deep and rise from the earth's crust almost to the top layers of sediment under the ocean floor.

Profiles of the sediment layers were obtained by recording sound reflections from half-pound charges of TNT set off in the ocean every two minutes, the professor said. One member of the scientific team was killed by a blast in March.

Session Set In Weirton

Panhandle BPW To Act As Conference Hostess

Plans to serve as hostess club at a 1st District conference Sunday in the Weirton Community Center were outlined by Mrs. Ruth Sprouse, president, at a meeting of the Panhandle Business & Professional Women's Club Tuesday night in Newell.

Theme for the conference is "Women In Democracy — Unite Your Efforts Through National Defense."

Registration will be held at 2 p. m. and programs on the theme will follow. Dinner will be served at 5. Mrs. Sprouse will give the welcome and introduction. Miss Phyllis Stoneburner will present a registration report as treasurer of the Panhandle club.

Arraignment Set For 7 In Shakedown

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Arraignment is set Friday for seven persons — including four politically prominent—indicted by the Trumbull County grand jury in the alleged shakedown of contractors and others involved in city transactions.

All were named in secret indictments by the grand jury Monday on charges ranging from perjury to intimidation of grand jury witnesses. They have appeared before Common Pleas Court Judge G. H. Birrel and are free under bond.

Two Niles men — James Soda and Paul Lamonge—turned themselves in Tuesday. Soda, 47, a contractor, was charged with influencing a witness and perjury, and Lamonge, 48, was charged with intimidating witnesses and extortion.

The other five, booked Monday, are:

Frank A. Cickelli, 51, county Democratic Party chairman and a $4,500 - a - year member of the county board of elections; city councilmen Raymond J. Little, 49, Jack G. Flask, 53, and John Janosik, 40; and James Matash, 50, a bondsman.

Judge Birrell said most of the indictments stemmed from the testimony of officials of the construction firms awarded the $4.4 million contract for a sewer project.

Commission On Aging Picked

Slayer Granted Reprieve; Ohio Pen Warden To Quit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has announced the reprieve of a condemned slayer, the impending resignation of Ohio Penitentiary's warden, and the appointment of a new 15-member Ohio Commission on Aging.

Clarence V. Ferguson, 19, of Cleveland, who was to have been electrocuted at Ohio Penitentiary Friday, got a 30-day reprieve to Nov. 3. The governor granted it, he said Tuesday, in the absence of a pardon and parole commission clemency report. The commission met before noon and reached a secret recommendation on clemency for Ferguson, but DiSalle said the report had not reached him by afternoon.

Beryle C. Sacks, the penitentiary warden, is resigning effective Nov. 1, the governor said in confirming earlier reports that Sacks planned to quit. DiSalle said Sacks gave health reasons for deciding to give up the $15,000-a-year post he took less than two years ago.

Ferguson was condemned to death and Louis (Slim) Thornton got a life sentence when a three-judge court tried them in the $5 robbery-slaying last March 4 of drug store operator Benjamin Kaufman, 62, in Cleveland.

Both Ferguson and Thornton are Negroes.

The new commission on aging will continue the work of the previous governor's commission established two years ago to prepare an Ohio report for the 1961 White House Conference on Aging. DiSalle noted that the White House conference recommended the states establish continuing commissions to survey and bring to public attention the problems of the increasing elderly population.

The commission members, civic leaders from government, business, labor and charitable organizations, are:

Ernest J. Bohn, Cleveland; Ronald Brown, Cleveland; W. B. Burr, Findlay; Vernon R. Burt, Lakewood; Mrs. Asa Butterfield, Cincinnati; Mrs. Richard Crouch, Dayton; Mrs. Charles B. Cushwa Jr., Youngstown; Andrew G. Freeman, Columbus; James P. Griffin, Youngstown; Mrs. Carl G. Jackson, Columbus; Mrs. Fred Lazarus Jr., Cincinnati; Mrs. Kathleen Lysaght, Elyria; Mrs. Mary Moss, Columbus; Herman Rosselott, Lynchburg, and Donald Zimmerman, New Philadelphia.

Several of them were on the former governor's commission for aging. Others were on advisory committees to the commission or to the White House conference.

Modern Matrons Install Officers At Annual Event

Installation of officers highlighted the annual business meeting of the Modern Matrons Club Monday night with Mrs. Lucille Monroe of Erie St. They are:

Mrs. Janice Southall, president; Mrs. Annie Mae Jones, secretary; Mrs. Winifred Jones, assistant secretary; Mrs. Dorothy Peters, financial secretary; Mrs. Monroe, treasurer, and Mrs. Mahala Richardson, petty fund chairman.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. Richardson, social; Mrs. Sara Johnson, program, and Mrs. Catherine Williams, membership.

Chairmen for the sick and shut-in visitation are Mrs. Verna Myers, Chester; Mrs. Josephine Spencer, East Liverpool, and Mrs. Callie Euill, Wellsville.

Mrs. Martha Brooks will be reporter and Mrs. Charlie Mae Scott, scrapbook chairman.

Mrs. Southall presided for business. An invitation was read from Mrs. Rozella Richardson, associate member, to visit her Oct. 21 at Massillon.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The queen will be chosen by a vote of the Senior Class but her identity will remain secret until halftime of the football game when she will be crowned by Dave Thorne, chairman of the Booster Club committee, which is sponsoring the affair.

A dance Saturday night, Oct. 14, in Memorial Auditorium will climax the homecoming weekend. The dance is open to students, guests and alumni.

Queen Aspirants To Be In Parade

The three candidates for Chester Homecoming Queen will take part in a parade to be held by the Chester High School Student Council Thursday afternoon, launching the weekend program.

Belva Boyd, Mary Oyster and Patti Taylor, seniors, are aspirants for the crown to be presented at half-time of the Chester-Warwood football game Friday night.

The two runnersup and Paula Gibbs and Grayce Pinney, juniors, will serve as the queen's court.

The parade will form at the high school at 7, moving over Carolina Ave., to 3rd St., to Virginia Ave. to 1st St., to Pennsylvania Ave. and on Indiana Ave. to 5th St., then to Florida Ave. and back to the high school.

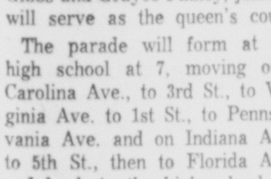

Plans for the event were made at a meeting of the council Tuesday. Next meeting will be Oct. 16.

Irondale

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Davis and family of Toronto visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gill of Irondale.

Randy Perkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perkins of Salt Run, is in City Hospital with an injury received last week while playing football.

Judge Louis Tobin Speaks For Event At St. Stephen's

Judge Louis Tobin was guest speaker for the opening fall dinner meeting of Circle 4 of Women of St. Stephen's Monday night in the Parish Hall of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church. Twenty - four attended.

Introduced by Mrs. Charles Larcombe, program chairman, he spoke on "Juvenile Delinquency." He told of the new receiving home for disturbed young people and how better discipline and moral education in the home can prevent many of the problems. He displayed pictures of conditions which produce a tendency for delinquency.

Mrs. Joseph Webber gave a meditation for the worship.

Mrs. C. Major Lampman, president, conducted business. The annual "Harvest Home" dinner is Oct. 16. There will be a sale of homemade aprons. Mrs. Ronald Mason will be in charge of the book sale. An exhibition of items of the church's history will be featured.

The united thank-offering service is Nov. 5. Blue boxes must be turned in to Mrs. Catherine Swan, chairman, before then.

Members were reminded to turn in sales tax stamps. The rummage sale is Oct. 31-Nov. 1 at the rear of the City Market Building. Articles may be brought in from 2 to 5 o'clock the day preceding. Mrs. John Eccleston and Mrs. Richard Smith are co-chairmen.

World Community Day, sponsored by United Church Women, will be held Nov. 3 at the church. Mrs. Gilbert Appelhoff of Berea, diocesan workshop chairman, will be speaker.

Mrs. William E. Dunlap Jr. reported on the regional meeting held in the afternoon at Steubenville which 10 members of the circle attended.

An invitation was read to attend the Guest Night observance of St. Margaret's Guild Oct. 23. Mrs. Alex Fisher will be speaker.

The dinner was arranged by Mrs. Frank Oyster, Mrs. Richard Bourne, Mrs. Ruth Kind and Mrs. Betty Hist. The Rev. Marc A. Nocerino, rector, was a guest.

Atty. William H. Vodrey Jr. will be guest speaker for the meeting Nov. 6. Mrs. Harry Brindley will have devotions. Mrs. James Bowen, Mrs. Clifford Hindley and Mrs. Dunlap Jr. are hostesses.

Pie meringue looks best, as a rule, when it's put on in swirls. Make the swirls, if the meringue is very smooth after it's spread, with the back of a spoon.

Pastor From South Brazil Speaks To Episcopal Unit

The Rev. Ernst Bernhoeft of the Diocese of South Brazil was guest speaker for the meeting of the Episcopal Church Women of the Ohio Valley Region Monday at St. Stephen's Church in Steubenville.

Born in Germany, he escaped to Brazil in 1936. Rector of the Holy Spirit Parish at Montenegro, he was graduated from the Port Alegre Theological Seminary. His talk centered on education of young people. Schools he was instrumental in organizing from 1951 until 1961 were a boys and girls school, an elementary school, a junior high, a senior high, a teachers' school and an industrial school. Proclaimed an honorary citizen of Montenegro, he gave the closing prayer in his native tongue.

He was a member of the delegation which attended the 60th Triennial General convention held Sept. 11-29 at Detroit. Other members of the Diocesan Board, who attended the convention and reported, were Mrs. Robert Gray of Hudson, president of the Ohio Diocese; Mrs. Frank Burnett of Sandusky, vice president, and Mrs. Albiun Sadd of Cleveland, treasurer.

They were introduced by Mrs. William E. Dunlap Jr., a member of the Diocesan Board.

Mrs. Gray spoke on "The Church Speaks and the Church Acts;" Mrs. Burnett, "Issues of the Convention," and Mrs. Sadd "United Thank-Offering Reports."

She said the offering this year amounted to $4,339,190.81, the largest ever presented, and Ohio women contributed a record $92,239.

The delegation has been touring the 11 regions of the Ohio Diocese, explaining the issues and giving the highlights.

Luncheon was served by women of the host church.

The forenoon program included Holy Communion with the Rev. Thomas Pateman, rector, presiding, and the Rev. David Pumphrey of St. Paul's Church, celebrant.

Mrs. T. J. Cox conducted the worship.

Mrs. James Paisley of St. Stephen's Church of East Liverpool, president, presided for business.

Named to the finance committee were Mrs. John Kirk and Mrs. James Bates of Steubenville, Mrs. Charles Larcombe of East Liverpool and Mrs. William Rager of Wellsville.

Among the 75 attending, 21 were from East Liverpool. The Rev. and Mrs. Marc A. Nocerino were guests.

He'll Be Master Councilor.

DeMolay Unit Sets Installation Thursday Night

Homer Hoffman Jr. will be installed as master councilor of Harding Chapter, Order of DeMolay, at a public meeting Thursday night at 7:30 in the Masonic Temple.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer D. Hoffman of the Lincoln Highway, he is a 1961 graduate of East Liverpool High School.

Carl Bevington, past master councilor of the Dillon Crist chapter of Alliance, and state aide to the state senior councilor, will seat officers.

Mrs. Eric Young of the DeMolay Mothers' Circle will be in charge of a reception to follow.

Chester Club Is Rated First

The Chester Kiwanis Club ranked first in achievement reports in the division for August, Raymond Stevens, club secretary, reported at a meeting Tuesday night at the City Hall.

Stevens also read letters of appreciation from the Park Commission for $89 the club's sale at the park bazaar netted, the Band Mothers for articles left over from the sale, and the East Liverpool Child Counseling Center for a contribution of $10.

J. Paul Finley, president-elect, reported on the state convention Sept. 24-26 at Black Water Falls. Dr. Frank Bragg, Chester dentist, was inducted as a member in a ceremony held by Alvin Fineman.

Plans were completed for members and guests to attend the opening hockey game at Pittsburgh Oct. 4 between Pittsburgh and Buffalo. A special bus will leave the City Hall at 6:15 p. m.

Further plans were made for the annual public pancake supper Nov. 1-2 at the City Hall. Tickets are now available from members. The invocation was given by the Rev. Donald Vogel.

Russell Davis, president, was in charge.

Note to kitchenette cooks: if there's no biscuit cutter in the house you can use a small tumbler for cutting out rounds; or cut the biscuit dough (made from a mix) into squares or diamonds.

Room Visitation Held For Meeting Of PTA

Visitation of the rooms to get acquainted with the teachers featured the meeting of the MacDonald Parent - Teacher Association of Wellsville Monday night.

Mrs. Mina Hitt, president, named the following committee chairmen:

Mrs. Jennie Kessel, social; Mrs. Ethel Clark and Mrs. Alice Pickens, co-chairmen of ways and means; Mrs. Arlene Stoll, telephone, membership and homeroom representative, and Mrs. Sue Cornwell, publicity.

Thomas McClain, a student, read Ps. 23 for devotions and the ways and means committee discussed plans for a bazaar prior to Christmas. Mrs. Glenn Mathess' fourth grade won the attendance banner. Next meeting is Nov. 6 at 8 p. m. in the all-purpose room.

15 At Event At Clarkson

Fifteen attended a meeting of the United Presbyterian Womens Association of the Clarkson United Presbyterian Church Tuesday night in the annex.

Plans were made for a Famliy Night program Nov. 17 with color slides and a luncheon.

Reports were heard from those who attended the fall meeting of the Presbytery yesterday at East Palestine. They included Mrs. Ruth Daiger, Mrs. Velma Watson, Mrs. Lenore Huff, Mrs. Mildred Hole and Mrs. Mildred Welce.

Mrs. Hole was in charge of devotions. Mrs. Mazie Gilham and Mrs. Iverness Betts served lunch. Next meeting is Nov. 7 with Mrs. Otis Gibson as hostess.

Officers of the Clarkson and Elkrun Granges will be installed by Jack Pozenel of West Point, county deputy master, at a meeting of the Clarkson Grange Thursday night at the Grange Hall. Lunch will be served.

The Mothers Club of the Rogers School will meet Thursday afternoon at 1 (EST).

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Daiger spent Sunday with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wolfe, and family of New Middleton.

Wellsville Cubs Set Masquerade

A masquerade party for cubs and their families will follow the next meeting of Cub Pack 20 of Wellsville in the Covenant United Presbyterian church, according to plans made at a committee meeting Monday night.

The date will be announced later since the meeting falls on the same night as the community Halloween celebration. Prizes will be awarded for costumes, refreshments will be served.

Plans for the October theme, "Sleepy Hollow," were discussed and each den will present skits. John Smith, cubmaster, served as moderator in the absence of Chauncey Whiteman, pack committee chairman. Ten attended.

Lee Crooks, activities chairman, will arrange for the cubs' visitation of the fire station during Fire Prevention Week Sunday through Oct. 14.

St. Clair CD Unit Due To Offer Home Course

About 35 attended a public meeting of the St. Clair Civil Defense unit Tuesday night at the Glenmoor fire station.

Further plans were discussed for a home preparedness course which may be started at the next meeting Oct. 17 with members of the Women's Civil Defense Council of East Liverpool participating.

Herman Heiney, director, was in charge.

Archbishop Claimed

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Archbishop Jozsef Groesz, 74, acting head of the Hungarian Roman Catholic Church, died Tuesday of a heart attack. As chairman of the Bench of Bishops, he had headed the church since the 1956 anti-Soviet revolt.

GOP Expects 200 At Kickoff Event

Some 200 are expected to attend the annual countywide Republican kickoff dinner Friday at 6:30 p. m. at Wellsville.

Dr. Tennyson Guyer, humorist, philosopher, world traveler, state senator and orator, will be guest speaker for the event at the Riverside United Presbyterian Church.

Mayor William J. Shoub, Wellsville city chairman, is in charge and will serve as toastmaster. He said all county candidates will be present.

Dr. Guyer, considered "Ohio's Ambassador of Good Will," is public relations director for the Cooper Tire & Rubber Co. of Findlay. He has been a speaker at every Republican convention in Ohio.

Missionary Due At Georgetown

Kenneth H. Slade, a missionary from East Africa, will be guest speaker at a special meeting Friday at 8 p. m. in the Georgetown Methodist Church.

It is open to the public and a social hour will follow.

Rally Day was observed Sunday. During the church Board of Education meeting, Mrs. Fred Campbell Jr. was elected as an assistant church school teacher.

Mrs. Joseph Mercer entertained the Birthday Club with a dinner Saturday evening at East Liverpool. The group also attended a show. Mrs. Elmer Short was honor guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Calhoon of Parma were guests Sunday of his mother, Mrs. Thomas Calhoon.

Hancock County Jail To Get New Windows

2 Senators Disagree On Nixon Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican senators disagreed today on whether Richard M. Nixon's decision to seek the California governorship eliminates him as a possibility for the GOP presidential nomination in 1964.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., who identifies himself with the liberal element of the GOP, said he is accepting at face value Nixon's statement that he is not a candidate and won't be the next Republican nominee.

"I'm glad he's running for governor and I accepted what he said about 1964," Case said.

But Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., who lines up with conservatives, said in a separate interview he is certain that if Nixon is elected governor of California there will be a movement to draft him for the 1964 presidential nomination.

"I don't think you can count him out of the running at all," Mundt said. "If he is elected governor, he will be a powerful force in the next convention. No California governor is going to be ignored by his party."

Republican leaders who have studied the transcript of Nixon's Sept. 27 announcement at a news conference have noted that he didn't entirely rule out the possibility of a 1964 draft. He limited himself to saying he would not be a candidate for the nomination and didn't expect to get it.

Building Permits Hit $70,000 In Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Two new homes were among construction projects for which $70,000 worth of building permits were issued in September, officials reported today.

The major projects were new homes planned by Mr. and Mrs. James Fruit on East St. and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Rhodes on High St. The other seven permits were for smaller additions and improvements.

Kenev Warns Commander Of U.S. Army

BERLIN (AP) — Marshal Ivan S. Konev, commander of Soviet forces in East Berlin, has warned the U.S. Army commander in Europe against taking any action that might upset prospects of East-West talks on Berlin.

This was announced Tuesday night by a Soviet Embassy spokesman. There were reports the tough, aging marshal was complaining about the resumption of U.S. military police patrols on the autobahn linking West Berlin with West Germany — 110 miles away.

The Soviet spokesman said Konev's letter was sent to Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, commander of the U.S. Army in Europe, under whose orders the patrols were resumed Sept. 23 after a nine-year lapse.

The patrols were resumed after two U.S. soldiers were detained on the autobahn for six hours by East German Communist police. The action was, in effect, a warning to East Germany to keep hands off U.S. military traffic to Berlin.

Konev took the line that any undue steps by U.S. authorities might rock the boat and ruin prospects for a peaceful settlement of the Berlin issue, the Soviet spokesman said.

Former commander of the Warsaw Pact armies, Konev was pulled from retirement for the East German assignment in August after tension rose over Berlin and the Soviet threat to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany. Such a treaty, the Soviets warn, would place Allied lifelines to Berlin under the control of the East Germans.

A U.S. Army spokesman at Clarke's Heidelberg headquarters confirmed that the general had received a message from Konev and had answered it.

The current key to the future growth of vending machines is the automatic currency changer, which will change $1 and $5 bills and reject counterfeits. Use of these units in conjunction with a battery of vending machines is expected to open almost unlimited opportunities for greater sales volume of vending machines.

Lawyers Charge Illegal Practice

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court injunction is being sought by the committee on unauthorized law practices of the Columbiana County Bar Association to keep a Salem financial agent from practicing law.

In a suit filed Tuesday, the committee claims Louis J. Raymond Jr. of the Mutual Discount Co. of Salem made a demand for a payment from Floyd Albright, threatening to sue on behalf of a creditor, William Goetz.

The petition also states Raymond sought a statement for personal earnings from Albright, stating that failure to comply would result in an attachment upon his wages.

The committee seeks an injunction against Raymond's threat to sue, contending that he will continue to do so unless restrained.

United Fund Kickoff Set

The "kickoff" meeting for the United Fund drive of the Midland Area Combined Charities will be held Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the Music Forum of Lincoln High School.

The meeting was postponed from last Monday evening due to the "Salute to Crucible" parade, other meetings and the need for further information on the house-to-house canvass, Nile H. Wain, secretary said.

The campaign for a goal of $45,471 began Monday and ends Oct. 30. Most phases of the drive are in progress and the mill solicitations are expected to begin soon.

The house canvass will follow completion of the mill solicitation.

The Beaver County goal is $699,345 to aid 41 agencies. Midland area was the first to reach its goal last year and was the area achieving the greatest percentage, going over its goal.

Robert C. Kelker, superintendent of the electrical department of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. is general campaign chairman, and Joseph D'Alesio, president of Steelworkers Local 1212 at Crucible, is co-chairman.

Crucible Aide Is Speaker

Secretary Group Honors 'Bosses'

Glenn B. Roberts, superintendent of community relations of the Crucible Steel Co. of Midland, was guest speaker at the first annual "Boss' Night" dinner meeting of the East Liverpool Area Chapter of the National Secretaries Association Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel. Forty-eight attended.

He is shown flanked by Mrs. June Chisler, right, vice president and program chairman, and Miss Susan Graff, president.

Using the subject, "Citizenship for Today," he pointed out how each individual must be responsible to himself, his neighbor, his community and nation.

In commending the secretaries, he said it has been established that they hold a broader interest in community enterprises that any other group.

The Rev. John L. Clark, pastor of the First Methodist Chruch, gave the invocation. Miss Graff extended the welcome and he introduced her employer, Alton G. Weber, plant chief of the Ohio Telephone Co., who gave the "boss' response."

Mrs. Chisler was mistress of ceremonies and introduced guests, officers of the Ohio Division, Mrs. Virginia Price of Columbus, president; who congratulated the group on the formation of the chapter and brought greetings from the state organization; Miss Arlene Farnham of Canton, vice president, and Miss Helen Gaylord, of Akron, corresponding secretary, and others, Paul Daley, manager of profit and improvement program of Crucible Steel; Rev. Clark, and Mrs. Clara Hall, society editor of The Review.

The group read "The Code of Ethics" in unison and each introduced her "boss." Prizes were won by Atty. G. William Brokaw, Elmer Eiferd, Dr. John Hayes, Rev. Clark, Thomas Eason and Mrs. Bea Boughner.

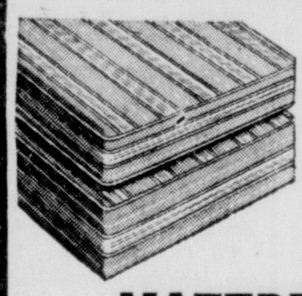

The chapter will hold a bake sale Oct. 14 at Crooks Furniture Co. Announcement was made of the regional conference scheduled Oct. 27-29 at the Commodore Perry Hotel in Toledo. Mrs. Sarah Dickey, treasurer, is taking reservations.

A secretarial workshop is being sponsored by the Marion Chapter Nov. 11 at the Holiday House in Marion. Those planning to attend may contact Miss Graff.

The tables were decorated with fall flowers and leaves. Favors were carnation boutonnieres. Program booklets featured a gold and brown theme.

Next meeting is Nov. 7 at the hotel. John McNeil, representative of the J. C. Penney Co. of the Northern Lights Shopping Center, will demonstrate gift wrapping and decorating.

E. J. Gill Chosen In Choir Parents Opening Session

E. J. Gill was elected president to succeed Lincoln Varian, at the first fall session of the East Liverpool High School Choir Parents Tuesday evening in the Memorial Auditorium choir rooms. Varian has moved from the area.

Ed Dailey vice president, opened the meeting, followed with introduction of new members and appointment of committees.

Committees include membership, Mrs. William Jennings, chairman, and Mrs. C. H. Bryan, co-chairman; basketball programs, Ferguson Kind, chairman, assisted by Ed Dailey, Harold Sneddon, Francis Lang, Dan Golden, Harry Davis and Joseph Zubay; booster memberships, Mrs. Earl Applegate and Mrs. Mary Hughey, and program sale, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hacker.

Several fund - raising projects were discussed.

Next meeting is Oct. 24 at 7:30 p. m. when the Concert Choir will present the Gilbert and Sullivan musical, "Trial by Jury." Brief business will be conducted.

Red Raids Explode Into Viet Nam War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Communist guerrilla raids into South Viet Nam have exploded into a real war that is killing 1,500 persons a month, the State Department reports.

Joseph W. Reap, State Department press officer, also kidnaping of Ci. Hoang Thuy Nam, South Viet Nam's representative on the International Control Commission, more "evidence of Communist contempt for ICC and Communist reliance on terror as method of operation."

Irondale Man's Trial Will Be Held Monday

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said today he will begin criminal trials Monday with Slade Brandle, 26, of Irondale, indicated by the January Grand Jury for non-support of his four minor children.

Brandle was not located after being indicted secretly but was apprehended later and pleaded innocent.

The second case will be Dale Carnes of Wellsville, accused of burglary of the John Kuta radio repair shop, 1007 Center St., Wellsville.

The third case is David Bailey, 18, of Klondyke, accused of operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

Thirty prospective jurors, along with grand jurors who were not used, will report at 9:30 a. m. Monday for jury duty before Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Phone Booth Looted

Salineville Band Nets $700 From Tag Drive

SALINEVILLE — Charles Temple, Salineville High School band director, said today an estimated $700 was netted in a Tag Day held Friday and Saturday by band members in the Southern Local School District areas. The collection was about $140 over the 1960 Tag Day, he said.

At a meeting of the Band Boosters Tuesday afternoon at the school, further plans were made for a public smorgasbord dinner to be held Oct. 14 at the high school in connection with the homecoming celebration.

Committee appointments were arranged. About 15 attended. Next meeting is Oct. 17.

23 Due For Induction In October Draft Calls

LISBON — Twenty-three Columbiana County men are due for induction into the armed forces at Cleveland in two October draft calls.

Draft board 16 will forward a 15-man quota Tuesday and an eight-man group Oct. 24.

Forty-four will be sent for preinduction physical examinations on Oct. 19, according to Mrs. Elaine Griffith, clerk.

Ohio Township Cubs Appear In Uniforms

Walter Schuffert, cubmaster for Ohio Township Cub Pack 426, announced the boys were to wear their uniforms today in observing National Boy Scout Week.

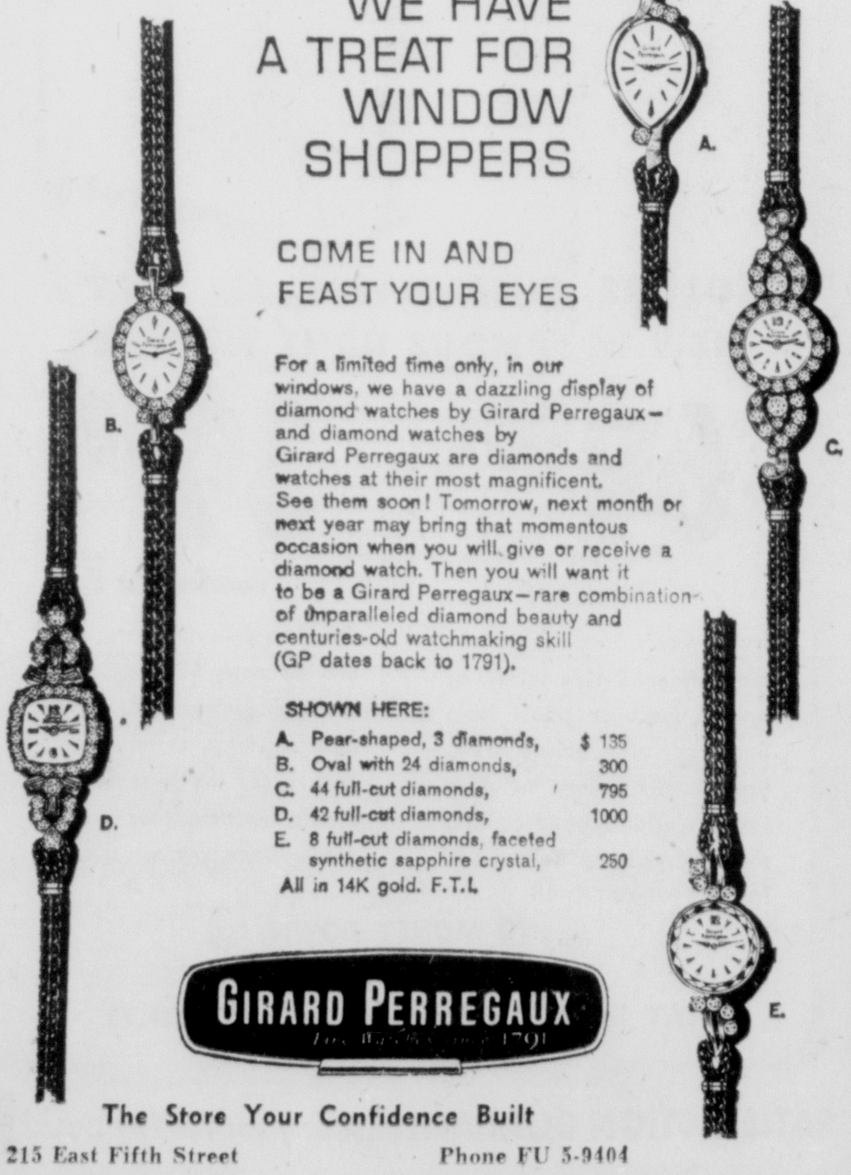

The theme for the next pack meeting Oct. 27 will be "Sleepy Hollow." Parents and cubs are to come masked for the Halloween party meeting in the all-purpose room of the Fairview School.

Another den mother and several assistants are needed, Schuffert said. Anyone interested may contact him.

1,200 Inspect Exhibit Of CD

About 1,200 have visited the air raid shelter trailer on Midland Ave., Midland, which has been on display since Monday and leaves tonight about 8, Daniel Orlando, Midland Civil Defense director, said.

He said the CD was disappointed in the amount of interest shown.

The CD will sponsor a radiological school beginning Monday at 7 p. m. at Lincoln High School in Room 201. The class will be held every Monday for 13 weeks.

All phases of radiation fallout will be taught and any interested person in Midland, Industry and Ohio View may attend.

Daniel Orlando Jr. and Tony Nutz Jr. will be the instructors. Both took radiological instructor courses held last summer by the Beaver County Civil Defense.

The Midland unit met Monday evening in Council Chambers in the Borough Building. New members include Mrs. Josephine Gypalo, Mrs. Anna Huff, Mrs. Fran-M. Felekey, Mrs. Mildred Robinson, Mrs. Sylvania Krakar, Mrs. Goldie Scalera and Mrs. Retha Steel.

Next meeting is Nov. 6.

Personal Property Tax Hits $499,465

LISBON — A total of $499,465 has been collected in personal property tax for the first half of 1961, according to Vincent C. Judge, county treasurer.

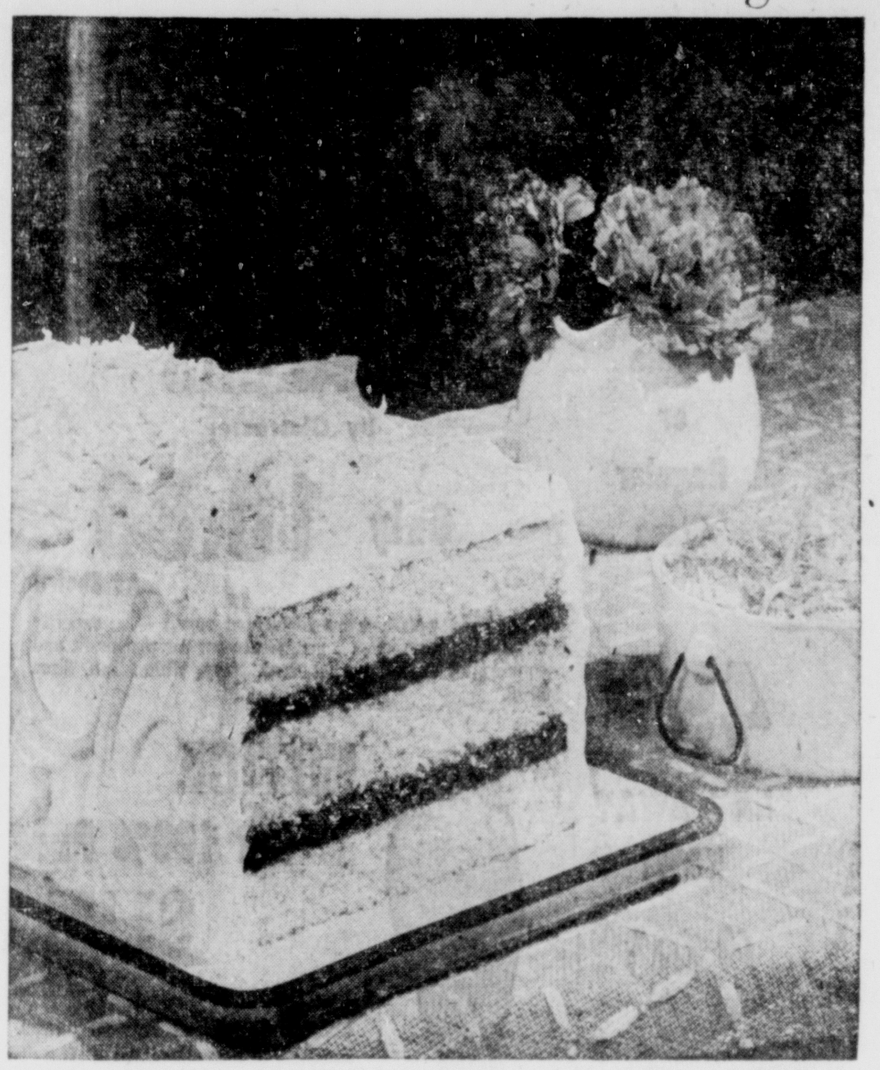

To date, $446,495 was paid in general tax and $52,969 in classified, and Tuesday will be the closing date for this tax.

Judge said it is hoped the current collection, along with delinquent payments, will reach $1,290,000.

Crucible Aide Speaks

EAST PALESTINE — "A Short Look at Automation" was the theme of a talk by James Buchanan of E. North Ave. at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday at Mackall's Restaurant. He discussed the electronic control systems at the Crucible Steel Co. "hot strip" mill at Midland, where he is an aide.

Pacific Paradise Loaf Will Make Big Hit

A peek through the window reveals an elegant cake just fresh from the oven that's absolutely irresistible. Pacific paradise loaf may truly be described as "out of this world."

The chocolate-filled three layer coconut loaf cake, made from a cake mix that has toasted coconut right in it, is just perfect for that special occasion.

Bake toasted coconut cake mix in greased and floured jelly roll pan, 15½x10½x1", for 22 to 28 minutes. Cool. Cut into three 10x5" pieces.

Cook 1 pkg. chocolate pudding with 1 tsp. gelatin, reducing milk to 1¾ cups. Cool thoroughly. Use as filling between pieces of cake. Frost cake with whipped cream mixture (below). Decorate top with ½ cup toasted coconut. Chill.

Whipped Cream Mixture: Whip 1½ cups whipping cream with ¼ cup sifted confectioners' sugar until stiff. Fold in 2 tsp. gelatin which has been dissolved in 2 tbsp. warm water.

Slander Suit Withdrawn

LISBON — A $50,000 suit for slander filed by former East Palestine Police Chief Richard Lotze against Mrs. Virginia Mast of Leetonia was withdrawn Tuesday in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon.

Lotze, who was dismissed from his post June 1 by Mayor Robert Harding on nine charges ranging from insubordination to improper conduct, had filed the action against Mrs. Mast for testimony in a Civil Service Commission hearing on his dismissal.

Mrs. Mast later filed counter charges, denying the testimony she gave was malicious.

The commission found Lotze guilty of six counts of misconduct in office, and he subsequently filed an appeal of the ruling in Common Pleas Court.

Mrs. Mast had testified the former chief had made improper advances to her and that his reputation had suffered.

Hancock's Child Council Accepts 4 New Members

Four new members were enrolled when the North Hancock County Council for Retarded Children met Tuesday night in Chester American Legion home.

They are Mrs. Flossie Whittington of Newell Rebekah Lodge 74; Mrs. Peggy Mangano, teacher of a special class at Jefferson School in Newell; Mrs. Josephine Tate of the auxiliary of New Cumberland Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Mrs. Ramona Hinds of New Cumberland.

Mrs. Whittington will donate refreshments and aid the teacher in a birthday party this week for pupils in the special class.

Mrs. Mangano talked on class activities and answered questions of parents. The council authorized purchase of necessary supplies for the classroom and gifts for the birthday party.

Mrs. Callie Tsapis reported in a letter that books of the organization have been audited. A report was represented on the sale of Halloween candy.

Democrat Club Slates Salineville Coverdish

SALINEVILLE — Plans for a coverdish dinner for members and guests Nov. 7 were made at a meeting of the Salineville Democrat Club Tuesday night at the American Legion home.

The dinner will be held at the Legion hall on the night of the general election. Mrs. Mary Sweeney, president, was in charge. About twelve attended.

City, Industry Autos Damaged In Mishap

Two cars were damaged in a collision Tuesday at 2 p. m. on Walnut St. 25 feet south of Potters Alley, police reported.

The mishap involved a 1954 station wagon operated by Genevieve V. Fordyce, 40, of 831 Avondale St. and a 1955 four-door sedan driven by Andrew Vohar, 34, of 406 Grandview Ave., Industry, officers said.

Vohar told police he was halted for a traffic signal when his car was hit from behind. The woman motorist said the line of traffic began to move and she put her car in motion, thinking the light had changed, but Vohar's car was motionless.

Hodges Wishes Some Areas Would Pull Out Of Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges said Tuesday he wished a lot of officially designated depressed areas would pull out of the federal aid program and conduct their own economic development projects.

Hodges, who argued strongly for federal aid to hard-hit sections earlier in the year, was surprisingly vehement in telling a news conference that the program has its shortcomings. His remarks were the more surprising because his department designates the areas and administers the program.

"I think psychologically it's bad to be called a depressed area," Hodges said.

The secretary said that if he were chairman of a county commission he would urge withdrawal from the federal program and recommend that the local people do the job on their own.

He said the country would be better off if a lot of the designated areas took this attitude.

Asked if an area would be authorized to pull out of the program Hodges said, "I think they could pull out. I wish a lot of them would pull out."

Some designated counties have objected to their classification as economically lagging areas. Hodges said these mainly have been rural counties placed on the list because of low farm income.

The Commerce Department's Area Redevelopment Administration channels loans and grants to depressed sections. Only two transactions have been approved to date, one to Gassville, Ark., and the other to Cambridge, Md. These communities received a total of $373,300 in loans and grants.

Cincinnati U. Bares $2 Million In Grants

CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Cincinnati has received almost $2 million in grants and bequests since the last board of trustees meeting in June, according to President Walter C. Langsam.

The biggest single grant, he said was $717,857 from the Air Force for research in aerospace engineering and chemical and metallurgical engineering.

Wreck Injuries Fatal

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)— Injuries suffered in a traffic accident last Friday night have proved fatal to Mrs. Caroline Lesher, 71, Franklin. She had been struck by a car as she crossed a street near her home.

New Public Defender Named In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gerald S. Gold, 30, is Cleveland's new public defender for the Legal Aid Society, succeeding Merle M. McCurdy, who will be sworn in Friday as U.S. attorney.

Gold had been McCurdy's chief assistant since the office was founded in March, 1960. Gold has experience in private practice of criminal law, teaches at Western Reserve University Law-Medicine Center and instructs policemen from Cuyahoga, Lorain and Lake counties in criminal law.

Wellsville Request Aired

Molasses Barge Landings Sought

A request for permission to tie up molasses barges for a tank port was made to Wellsville Council Tuesday night by Adam Mort Glenmoor realtor, who indicated that a truck terminal apparently is planned.

He mentioned the location about 100 feet downriver from the docks of the Wellsville Boat Club and said he is representing the Miami Barge Lines, which desires to construct a tank port to handle the molasses.

MORT WAS informed the Boat Club owned the river bank but the matter was referred to the property committee and solicitor as the pumping operations would entail running lines across a city street.

Mort said the barge line has an option on property between 18th and 19th Sts. on Riverside. He said three or four tanks 40 feet in diameter would be constructed. The barge would be at the site about two days every six weeks to unload. The molasses then would be pumped from the tanks into tanker trucks.

He presented the names of R. C. Lindey of Cincinnati and Ben Snyder of Chicago as the partners in the Miami Barge Line. Mort said the firm believed it had a deal for a site near the Dacar Chemical Co. in East End, East Liverpool, but the move was blocked by East Liverpool Council.

LESTER Jarvis of Broadway was granted permission to break curbing on Commerce St. for a driveway for a garage. It was authorized previously, but the formal request by letter was not received until last night.

Following a lengthy discussion into financing, Council voted to authorize Safety - Director William S. Robinson to grant a contract to the lowest bidder for the plowing of a section along Main St. between 12th and 13th Sts. for the planting of multifloral roses as a city beautification project.

Council agreed previously to do the project if money was available. Councilman Donald Miller, finance chairman, said the general fund was nearly depleted and could not authorize the expenditure.

ON A MOTION from Councilman William Stroble, seconded by Councilman Clarence Cartwright, Council voted to proceed, using money from the general fund. Stroble said it will cost about $150, including the roses. Councilman Miller and George Mackall opposed the move. Mackall said the area should be opened for parking.

On recommendation from Stroble, street and light chairman, his committee was directed to investigate a traffic problem at Buckeye and Aten Aves., the scene of several auto accidents.

Stroble said he was informed by the Ohio Power Co. it has adopted a new system to permit businesses to install lights on poles within the city limits. Council asked that an official attend the next meeting to fully explain the program.

FOLLOWING a discussion as to costs and feasibility, Robinson was asked to check with the State Highway Department as to whether or not it can paint a double yellow line on lower Clark Ave. The line was painted last spring, but has worn off.

Mackall reported he has received complaints of odors from the city sewage disposal plant. Robinson said there are times when an odor is noticeable, regardless of the action of the operation. He explained the operation and the various reasons why odors occur.

Mackall said he visited the city dump off Route 39 and said it is in very good condition. Councilman Paul Nelson complained of motorists parking in no parking zones on Center St. between 14th and 15th Sts. and on 9th St. between Center and Main.

Cartwright complained of the same condition on Oak Alley and Appian Way. Robinson said he would check. Nelson commended Robinson for recent repair work on Center St.

Cartwright also reported a traffic problem at 10th and Lisbon Sts. and of seeing cars and trucks "cheating" on the four-way stop light at 9th and Center.

COUNCILMAN Robert Taggart said he is to meet with a property owner on obtaining an easement for the city so workers can park equipment near the water standpipe on the hillside above Highland Ave.

Stroble said the city is not moving fast enough on the easement. Robinson said he feels the city should obtain an amiable easement and not try to force the issue.

Robinson reported on the condition of standpipe, which is scheduled for repairs.

Miller said Council has not gone on record against any proposal by the State Highway Department for relocation of Route 7 through Wellsville as reported by William McKenna, Division 11 engineer, in a recent news release. Miller said Council has never received any proposal.

COUNCILMAN Aguin Bowling said that for clarification, Council did not turn down the Buckeye Ave. route but only voted against sending its street and light committee to Columbus.

Reference was made to an article in The Review in which McKenna was said to have reported Council at Wellsville could not make up its mind. Mayor William J. Shoub said the city never has received a formal proposal from the state at any time.

Robinson reported the road into the city filtration plant will be repaired next week.

The mayor's report for September showed a total of $1,058.20 collected in fines and fees.

2 Boys In Home Entry To Face Lisbon Court

Two East Liverpool boys are scheduled for hearings Thursday at 1:30 p. m. before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon on charges they attempted to burglarize a vacant Green Ln. home Sunday morning.

Probation Officer Chris Pusey set the hearings for the two when they appeared before him Tuesday at City Hall. The two, 12 and 13, are accused of entering a home at 821 Green Ln. owned by Mrs. Thelma Goodley, who now resides in Florida.

Police said they received a tip the two youngsters had forced entry to the house and an officer nabbed the pair in the act of ransacking. Entry was forced via a basement door, police said.

West Point Church Will Conduct Revival

Revival services will get under way tonight at 7:30 at the West Point Church of the Nazarene and will continue through Oct. 15.

The Rev. Billy Smith of Cambridge will be the evangelist. His wife travels with him and assists in the services, especially in children's work.

Irondale Girl Hurt In Fall

A 3-year-old Irondale girl, hurt in a fall, was admitted Tuesday to City Hospital, where four other area youngsters and adults were treated yesterday.

Donna Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson, is in "fairly good" condition today with bruises and possible fractures of the skull and collarbone received on a fall down steps.

Jean Chaney of Route 30 near Chester, employe of the Edwin M. Knowles China Co., received a laceration of the right eye when a particle of ware struck her face.

Mrs. May Talbott, 34, of Salineville R.D. 1 was treated for a wound of a finger in which a fish hook became embedded while she was taking down a clothesline in the basement.

Commissioners Snub Soldiers, Sailors Aid

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Hamilton County commissioners have refused to appropriate $317,276 to the county soldiers and sailors relief commission in spite of an order by Common Pleas Court Judge Otis Hess.

Commissioner Vincent H. Beckman said the commissioners will seek a new trial and that no more money will be granted to the relief group until the legal dispute is settled. The relief group sued the commissioners when the county failed to meet its budget request this year.

WE CHEERFULLY WELCOME ALL COUNTY WELFARE AND RELIEF ORDERS

South Beaver Board Adopts 3 Textbooks

Three textbooks were adopted at a meeting of the Southern Beaver County Joint Board of Education Monday evening at South Side High School near Hookstown.

Victor Thomas, supervising principal, said books adopted for the secondary school are on Earth and Space Science for a new 10th grade course this year, a new English grammar and composition book and a new math text, both for the seventh and eighth grades.

A notice was reported received from the State Public School Building Authority that bonds for the high school addition, amounting to $586,720 have been sold and the interest rate will be 3.68536 per cent. Thomas said there was a savings since the rate was expected to be 4 per cent.

Several requests were approved. The Varsity Club will hold a donkey basketball game either Nov. 10 or Nov. 17 and the school's PSEA group will send a delegate to the teacher conference Oct. 27-28 at Bedford Springs.

Carl Walcott, elementary principal, was given permission to attend an elementary principals' conference Oct. 26-28 at the Pittsburgh Hilton Hotel.

The sixth grade will visit the Carnegie Museum, Phipps Conservatory and the Zoo at Pittsburgh on or about April 19, 1962.

Two teachers, Eileen Karcher of Imperial and Jane R. Jackson of Burgettstown, were added to the high school substitute list.

Board members discussed Senate Bill 867 pertaining to larger school units but reached no definite conclusions.

Lady Elks Push Ticket Sales For Harvey Address

Sale of tickets is continuing for the Paul Harvey appearance Saturday night at 8 at Westgate School, sponsored by Lady Elks.

They may be purchased at Heimies, Mabel's Beauty Shop, Patterson's Sunoco Station, Owen Hardware in East End and The Teapot in Chester.

The committee, Mrs. J. B. Maley Jr., chairman, Mrs. R. J. Lamborn, Mrs. Jack Eccleston, Mrs. Samuel Webber, Mrs. James Bowen, Mrs. W. E. Dunlap Jr. and Mrs. Richard Heddleston, will be at Ogilvie's Store Thursday from 10:30 a. m. to 8 p. m. to sell the tickets.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet has issued a proclamation designating Saturday as "Paul Harvey Day" to recognize the radio broadcaster's visit to the city.

His special field is news, but foremost he is an analyst, sponsors said. His scope embraces the full range of human concerns, including political and business progress, history, economics, literature and art. Millions have read his books, heard his lectures and listened to his commentaries, the auxiliary said.

The Sweet Adelines, Inc. under the direction of Glenn Woods, will present a program of barbershop selections preceding the speaking.

Proceeds will go to the charity program of Lady Elks.

Hancock ASC Plans Counting Of Ballots

Ballots will be counted Wednesday morning by the Hancock County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee in the annual election-by-mail of new committee members.

Mrs. Norma Murray, office manager, said the committee will meet at 9:30 in the ASC office in New Cumberland.

County farmers received ballots in the mail Sept. 22. To be elected are three regular members and two alternates.

Charles C. Herron, Carl Allison and Shields Mayhew, all of Pughtown, are regular members, and the two alternates are Harry Nichol and Donald Allison.

Mrs. Murray reported her office now is open daily from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. She was placed on a half-day schedule in July 1959.

Psychologist Speaks To Club At Wellsville

Robert McNamara, psychologist for the Wellsville and East Liverpool school systems, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at Piatt's Tea Room.

He outlined his duties and the testing programs. A question-and-answer period followed.

Twenty-two were present. Charles Wilfing, president, presided. Two members of the Wellsville High School Key Club were guests.

It was announced the Board of Directors will meet Friday noon at Meade's Restaurant.

Complaints Lead To Movie Closing

A planned second-night screening of two movies which reveal considerable amounts of bare skin was canceled Tuesday night at the Salem Drive-In Theater after residents of the area threatened legal action.

"No Movie" read the title at the theater marquee last night after Jack Vogel of Wellsville, operator of the theater just east of Salem, agreed to suspend the showing of "Career Girl" and "Hideout In the Sun."

The Salem Ministerial Association filed a complaint with Columbiana County Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin and County Prosecutor William Brokaw.

Judge Tobin said a number of citizens, besides the ministers, had protested the showing of the films which were clearly visible from Route 14 because of the large screen.

Ford Plants In Ohio Seek To Reopen Talks

CLEVELAND (AP) — Efforts were being made today to resume negotiations for some of the more than 26,000 United Auto Worker Union employes at 13 strike-bound Ford Motor Co., plants in Ohio.

The walkout came Tuesday morning after UAW negotiations in Detroit failed to bring agreement on a national contract. Some UAW members in the Cleveland area walked out before the nationwide strike deadline.

A Ford spokesman said hourly-rated employes at the company's 11 major plants in Ohio will lose more than $659,250 in wages every day the strike continues. The daily payroll for the 11,100 hourly Ford employes in the Cleveland area alone is $258,000, he said.

Patrick J. O'Malley, a regional UAW director, called on management to step up negotiations in an attempt to settle 75 local plant working proposals affecting more than 11,000 employes at Ford plants in greater Cleveland.

Included in the proposals at three Brook Park Ford plants are occupational seniority, shift preference, job posting rates and classification, overtime equalization and health safety and production standard issues, according to Art Kuhns, president of Local 1250, which has 7,759 members. He said all negotiators were prepared to meet with management today.

Other Ford plants idled by the strike are the big compact car assembly plant in Lorain, with 4,100 workers; stamping plant at Walton Hills, 3,287; Sandusky parts plant, 1,134; Lima engine plant, 2,667; Canton forging plant, 1,313; Fostoria spark plug plant, 1,272; two transmission plants in the Cincinnati area, total 4,890, and storage depots in Cleveland and Cincinnati with a total of 123 hourly workers.

stance, when he talks about guarantees for Western rights to West Berlin after he signs a peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

Diplomats said firm arrangements obviously would have to await the outcome of the White House meeting. But barring a more rapid advance than has taken place so far, more exploratory talks will be needed before the prospects of an East-West negotiating conference can be gauged.

Pennsylvania Driver Forfeits $300 Bonds

A Pennsylvania motorist forfeited bonds totaling $300 when he failed to appear for a hearing on two traffic violations Tuesday night before Mayor William J. Shoub of Wellsville.

Joseph Gorel Jr. of Homestead forfeited $200 for driving while under the influence of alcohol and $100 for leaving the scene of an accident.

He was arrested Monday night after a sideswipe collision with a car driven by Wilbur Waggoner of 18th St. Heights, Wellsville, at Aten and Buckeye Aves., police said.

Despite the extra costs, said Kennedy, the bill would not have achieved its objectives.

He said civil service and postal pay structures need extensive revision and promised that the administration will make recommendations to the next session of Congress.

In signing the education measure, Kennedy said in a statement:

"It ill becomes those who insist that we cannot afford the expenditure of federal funds to aid the public education of all children to insist with equal fervor upon the passage of this unsound and uneconomical measure which aids the education of only some."

Kennedy announced that he will try again next year to push through his broader education program.

2 Hancock Women To Attend 4-H Forum

Mrs. William Schladen of Lawrenceville near Chester and Mrs. James Arehart of Pughtown have been named to represent Hancock County at the National Leader Forum in Washington Nov. 13-17.

Both 4-H club leaders, they were selected "because of their excellence in local leadership and their activity in the county 4-H program," according to Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent.

Mrs. Arehart is leader of the Pioneer club and Mrs. Schladen for the Cherokee club of Lawrenceville.

Their expenses will be paid by the Weirton Kiwanis Club and the Hancock County Federal Savings & Loan Association of Chester, according to Johnson.

The forum will offer training in leadership and an experience in citizenship, the agricultural agent said.

jected to making any offer to the firm, explaining he feels it is receiving a fair rate at present.

Ohio Valley has offered proposals to several area communities, including East Liverpool. All call for increased rates. Wellsville is the first to make a counter-proposal. The firm said it would prefer to deal directly with the community rather than going through the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

Harold Sneddon, local manager for the utility, received the proposal and agreed to return to the next Council meeting to discuss it further. In answer to a question as to what the utility would do if no offer were made, he said the case would be taken to the PUCO. The firm is proposing a four-year contract.

Sneddon said the rate being offered by Ohio Valley in each community varies because of the difference in the cost of service.

60 Attend Apple Day Staged At Greenford

LISBON — Some 60 attended the Eastern Ohio Apple Day and smorgasbord sponsored Thursday by the Ohio Apple Institute and the Salem Fruit Growers' Association at the latter's packing plant at Greenford.

The group observed the operation at the plant, followed by an apple smorgasbord prepared by women of the Columbiana - Mahoning Horticultural Society.

A gift package of fruit and a new apple corer and slicer were given all.

Howard Wells, manager of the Ohio Apple Institute, was in charge.

Wheat Plans Clarified By County Agent

LISBON — The purposes of the 1962 wheat stabilization program, according to County Agent Floyd Lower, are first, to increase farm income to nearer the level of non-farm income and thus increase farmer purchasing power to support the general economy, and second, to reduce government storage costs. The aim is to bring the production of wheat more into line with the needs. This would benefit both the producers and taxpayers, he said.

Basically, under the program participants who divert 1962 wheat acreage to conservation uses will receive payments and producers who comply with acreage allotments will be eligible for price support at a national average price of $2 per bushel.

Co-operators will be able to market their production without marketing quota penalty, L. E. Lora, Columbiana County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office manager, said.

The 1962 allotment sent to wheat producers by the county ASC office reflects a 10 per cent diversion in wheat acreage for which payments will be made to offset income loss during the period of adjusting production to needs. Co-operators may divert additional wheat acreage and receive larger payments.

The program provides that full history credit be given producers on all acreage they divert so that producers will not get smaller allotments in the future. A similar provision now applies to wheat acreage history on farms retired under the conservation reserve program.

USDA officials further pointed out that in 1962, as in the past, producers who do not comply with their permitted acreage and who market their excess production will be subject to marketing quota penalties and also to loss of acreage history, which will result in reduction of their future allotments.

If the acreage on the farm exceeds this allotment, or the permitted acreage in the case of small farms, the 1962 production from the farm will be subject to marketing quota penalties which were increased by Congress for the 1962 crop.

USDA officials also said that farmers, to be in compliance with the wheat stabilization program and thus be eligible to receive price support and payments for diverted acreage, must maintain the normal conservation acreage on the farm in addition to devoting the acreage diverted from wheat in 1962 to a conserving use.

Many producers are making the additional voluntary acreage diversion. This will help bring about a faster adjustment in supplies, provide more assurance of income from the 1962 wheat operation, and at the same time save costs of planting and harvesting the diverted acreage, Lora said.

Bond Set At $5,000 In Case Of Forgery

CLEVELAND (AP)—Wilbur H. Ficken, 45, pleaded innocent Tuesday in Municipal Court to a forgery charge. Judge Hugh A. Corrigan raised his bond from $500 to $5,000 and continued the case to Oct. 26.

Police said Ficken admitted forging checks of Mrs. Howard E. Cregar of Rocky River while he was employed at the investment firm of Prescott & Co. Ficken estimated the shortage in her account was $50,000, police said. They said the shortage would be nearly $73,000.

Jefferson Bar Picks 3 Judge Candidates

STEUBENVILLE — The Jefferson County Bar Association Tuesday named three potential candidates for the county court bench vacated by the resignation of Judge C. B. McCann of Richmond.

The names of the trio will be submitted to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who will make the appointment.

McCann resigned effective Oct. 1. His term expires Dec. 31, 1962, and the new appointee will serve for the remainder of McCann's term.

Highway Chief Orders Repairs On Road Spots

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—State Highway Director Everett S. Preston has inspected a section of the Cleveland-to-Conneaut Freeway in Ashtabula County and ordered repair work for some trouble spots.

The highway chief said it will be necessary to blacktop about a 10-mile stretch in two or three years to seal the present pavement and restore the riding qualities needed for high-speed travel.

Preston made the inspection trip Tuesday in response to recent newspaper reports of poor construction on parts of the superhighway.

Preston said repair work is needed on paved shoulders at several locations in Ashtabula County. He ordered immediate advertising of bids for repairs on shoulders that have settled and separated from the concrete roadways.

The highway director also ordered immediate surface treatment for slabs on an approach to the Ashtabula bridge crossing. He said they would be removed and replaced next spring.

He also looked at sections of the Lakeland Freeway under construction in Lake County. Preston said he saw nothing for which he should apologize. He added the taxpayers were getting more for their money than if the superhighway had been designed and built to avoid problems now turning up.

Threat Of Rain Hangs Over Series Opener Today

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Menaced by threat of rain, the World Series is scheduled to start today with the power-packed New York Yankees reigning solid favorites over the Cincinnati Reds despite Yankee Mickey Mantle's doubtful status.

The Weather Bureau said a soaking rain which fell all Tuesday might taper off by game time—at noon, EST—but there was a possibility the showers would continue until late in the day.

A postponement would push the opener back a day to Thursday and be a big help to Yankee Manager Ralph Houk, who then might be certain of the services of the ailing Mantle.

With, or without Mantle—recovering from surgery on an abscess on his right hip—the Yankees rule a 12-5 choice over the National League champion Reds, who have quiet confidence they can repeat the Pittsburgh Pirates' 1960 series upset of the favored Yankees in seven games.

If the weather is not too foreboding, a crowd of 69,000 will jam Yankee Stadium for the opener which will be telecast and broadcast nationally (NBC).

The pitching opponents will be lefties—Yankee Whitey Ford, the majors' top winner with a 25-4 record, versus Cincinnati's Jim O'Toole, who won his last eight decisions for a 19-9 record.

The Reds have been in the big town two days, but most of the news has been about Roger (61-homer) Maris, the lame Mantle and Casey Stengel ex-Yankee manager who now bosses the new New York Mets. The Gotham attitude is that the Reds are in on a pass.

That's the way Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson and his collection of admitted "rejects" like it. The Reds opened the season as 60-1 National League pennant possibilities. They copped the flag by winning while everybody else wondered how they could do it—without a bangup catcher or the hallowed formula of strength through the middle, except Vada Pinson in center.

While Houk went to great lengths to inform sports writers how the Yankees scrutinized scouting reports on the Reds, Hutchinson simply said, "We went over the Yankee lineup, it was just a routine thing you do for a World Series—we know the job we have to do and we'll try to do it."

A great deal of confusion existed over the condition of Mantle, who said he felt improved but was uncertain he could play.

Houk listed two starting lineups — one with Mantle, who slammed 54 homers batting cleanup behind Maris, and the other without Mantle, installing catcher Elston Howard as cleanup man, shifting Maris from right to Mantle's center field spot and placing Hector Lopez in right.

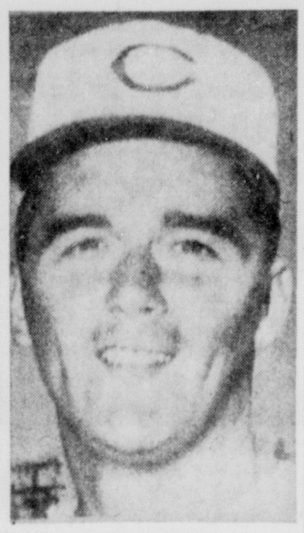

Hutchinson said he would await game time to decide whether Darrell Johnson, who hurt his side in batting practice last Friday, would be his starting catcher. Johnson said he was ready to play. If he can't, Jerry Zimmerman will catch.

Cincinnati's hopes admittedly rest in Frank Robinson, a .323 hitter with 37 home runs, and the fleet Pinson, who has a .343 batting mark and was a key man in the Reds' late pennant drive.

O'Toole Carries Streak To Series

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim O'Toole, 24-year-old son of a Chicago policeman, had the most important assignment of his career today, and he admitted he had "butterflies."

Currently the hotest pitcher on either team, O'Toole was Manager Fred Hutchinson's choice as opening-day pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds against the New York Yankees.

"I'll feel the butterflies, all right," conceded O'Toole, a 190-pound, 6-footer. "But I always feel them in any game until I get a batter or two out. Then they go away."

O'Toole is the youngest of Hutchinson's big three, and the least experienced.

But he had a winning streak of eight games at the end of the season and did not allow a single home run in 101 innings of his last 16 games. That's what Hutchinson needs against the Yankee long-ball hitters.

"He was our best pitcher during the last three weeks of the season when we needed good pitching," said Hutchinson, "so he's the obvious choice. This way I plan on starting him three times."

O'Toole never has pitched in the Yankee Stadium before (like practically all the Reds he has no World Series experience) but he isn't overawed by it. In fact, around the league, they say he's the most confident youngster since Dizzy Dean.

"The only time I ever was in the stadium before," he laughed, "was three years ago when I saw the series as a spectator. But it always has struck me as a nice place to pitch in. It is sort of like Forbes Field in Pittsburgh.

"After I get rid of the butterflies, I think the pressure will be more on our hitters and fielders than on me. And speaking of pressure, don't think the Yank hitters won't have plenty of it."

This is only O'Toole's third full season with the Reds and he finished with a 19-9 record, mainly on his end-of-the-line spurt. Last year, he finished with a 12 - 12 mark and in 1959 it was 5-8.

The U. S. Bureau of Engraving and Printing, which turns out all American paper currency, began operations in 1862 with a working force of just two men and four women.

Roger Maris Doesn't Underrate Redlegs

The major league home run champ naturally favors his own New York Yankees to defeat the Reds in the World Series, but he doesn't believe it will be easy.

"I just can't understand why they are downgrading the Cincinnati club," Maris said. "They've got a good club. Heck, they must be a good team. They beat some clubs that were rated pretty high early in the season.

"The only ones who are downgrading the Reds are the teams which lost to them. It sounds like sour grapes to me."

The Forgotten Men

Tebbets, Paul Had A Lot To Do With Present Reds

By HAROLD HARRISON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Birdie Tebbets was sitting on a stairway talking with Johnny Keane. About 10 yards away stood Gabe Paul chatting with friends.

It was the night before the scheduled start of the 1961 World Series between the Cincinnati Reds and the New York Yankees. They were on the outside, looking in. They were the forgotten men.

Tebbetts and Paul had a lot to do with putting together the Reds team that is heading into the World Series.

Tebbetts, who quit as Reds' manager near the end of the 1958 season, now is manager at Milwaukee. Paul quit as general manager after the 1960 season to go to the new Houston club and then switched to Cleveland of the American League.

Trades engineered by new general manager, Bill DeWitt, which brought second baseman Don Blasingame and pitcher Joey Jay to the Reds, had a lot to do with Cincinnati success this year. But it was a cinch Paul and Tebbetts also were thinking about O'Toole, Hook, Maloney, Bell, Post, Purkey, Pinson, Robinson, Brosnan and Henry—players either traded for or signed during their regimes.

"It's good to be here," said Paul.

Tebbetts, a one - time major league catcher, was questioned particularly about the Reds' catching.

All season the experts have been saying no team could win a pennant with only rookie catchers. After Ed Bailey was traded away to San Francisco in the deal which plugged a second base hole with Blasingame, the Reds were left with only rookies Jerry Zimmerman and Johnny Edwards. That existed until Darrell Johnson, a Yankee castoff who had been a coach with the St. Louis Cardinals, was signed.

That drew a dissent from Tebbetts.

"A weakness will not show up in a single series," he said.

Asked about his impressions of Edwards and Zimmerman, Tebbets said:

"They called the pitches and they called them into the World Series." It seemed as simple as that.

McCoy Sets Course Mark; ELHS Tops Boardman

With Bruce McCoy setting a course record, the East Liverpool High cross country team registered its second straight dual meet victory Tuesday over the Boardman course.

The Potters took the first five places to record a perfect cross country score over Boardman, 15-40.

McCoy's time in the record - breaking performance was 11:30. Behind him were Gary McKee who was clocked in 11:39; Joe Ingram 11:43, Jim Pillar 12:14 and Paul Jarvis 12:17.

Coach Frank Chan takes his squad to Levittsburg for a 10 a. m. meet Saturday.

The first appearance at home for the Potters will be Tuesday when they play host to Weirton.

W. Texas Sophomore Named Back-Of-Week

CANYON, Tex. (AP) — Modest little Pete Pedro said Wednesday "if I am back of the week it's because of my teammates."

Pedro, the 5-foot-7, 160-pound Puerto Rican who created a sensation when he scored six touchdowns in sparking West Texas State to a 56-27 victory over Texas Western, was picked for the honor by The Associated Press.

His coach, Joe Kerbel, said the youngster was "overcome with the thrill of the thing."

"He told me that he had great blocking and that was the reason he was able to get the honor," Kerbel declared. "He was quite correct but he also did a great deal of it himself. He is the greatest running back I've ever seen in football."

The youngster is only a sophomore. He came to West Texas State as a transfer from Trinidad, Colo., Junior College. His home is in Lynn, Mass.

West Texas State had won only five games in three years, three of them last season — Kerbel's first as coach. "We already have sellout crowds assured," said Kerbel.

Pedro was chosen over such standout stars as Stan Gann of Georgia Tech, Sonny Gibbs of Texas Christian, Rod Sears, of Stanford, Willie Brown of Southern California, Doug Elmore of Mississippi, Bill Swingle of Northwestern, Angelo Dabiero of Notre Dame, Dave Sarette of Syracuse and others who stood out with their play last weekend.

LUIS ARROYO, the Yankees' top fireman, practices one of the more singular aspects of his trade, waiting in the bullpen, prior to the opening of the World Series today in Yankee Stadium. Arroyo, who wound up the season with a 15-5 record, will probably see a lot more action in the Series. (UPI Telephoto)

Iowa Guard Is Selected Top Lineman

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Iowa, the nation's top-ranked team in The Associated Press college football poll, opened its season last Saturday with a 28-7 victory over California.

For his part in helping to beat the Bears, Sherwyn Thorson, Iowa guard, was named today as the lineman of the week by The Associated Press.

A 215-pound senior, Thorson played virtually the entire game and led the Hawkeyes' forward wall in holding Cal to a net 85 yards rushing.

"Thorson defended well and threw the key blocks in a couple of touchdowns runs by Wilburn Hollis," said Gus Schrader, sports editor of the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Gazette.

Gary Collins, Maryland end, was high up in the linemen voting by sports writers and broadcasters.

Collins caught four passes for 57 yards, punted four times for a 40.2 average and made numerous tackles as Maryland beat Clemson. He now holds the Maryland pass yardage record with 811 yards.

USGA's Senior Golf King Upset By New Yorker

TULSA (AP) — Herman M. Fredberg, New York, made a great recovery shot on the 18th hole Tuesday to defeat Michael Cestone, Montclair, N.J., defending champion in the United States Golf Association senior championship.

Fredberg took a 1-up decision over the champion after hitting his second shot into a sand trap on the par 4 final hole. But he blasted out of the trap to within four inches of the cup. Cestone missed an 18-foot putt in his bid for par.

Medalist Joseph Morrill of Great Barrington, Mass., defeated John Winters, Tulsa, 3 and 2. Three players who tied for medalist runnerup advanced in first-round match play, but one of them, George Dawson, Glen Ellyn, Ill., had to come from behind to do it.

Dawson won six straight holes after making the turn to defeat Edward Schwartz, Leawood, Kan., 3 and 2.

Orioles Ask Waivers On Busby And Philley

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles paved the way Wednesday for the unconditional release of two veteran outfielders, Jim Busby and Dave Philley, by asking waivers on them.

Lee MacPhail, Oriole president, said the club wants to put two minor league players on the roster so they can't be drafted by other major league teams.

Both Busby and Philley were used in relief roles by the Orioles this year.

Iowa Picked Over S. California

OS, Purdue Rate Edge Saturday

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP)—There will be a full schedule of college football games this weekend despite the World Series. If you get too excited about the baseball, don't worry. Here are your football winners!!!

(Last week, 32 right, 15 wrong for .681. Season's average, .748)

Iowa over Southern California: This will occupy your TV screen after the Series game. Larry Ferguson, Hawkeye speedster, is injured but the Iowans still have too much for the once mighty Trojans.

Mississippi over Florida State: The Mississippians, like the river, just keep rolling along.

Texas over Washington State: With ease.

Michigan State over Stanford: Stanford will furnish most of the excitement, but Michigan State provides the heavyweight tackles who will control the scoring.

Syracuse over Maryland: The Orangemen from New York could be in trouble if Ernie Davis hasn't completely recovered from his hurts.

Ohio State over UCLA: The Buckeyes' stingy defense will decide this struggle between the leaders of two powerful conferences.

Elsewhere:

Purdue over Notre Dame; Kansas over Colorado; Missouri over California; Texas Christian over Arkansas.

Kansas over Colorado, Northwestern over Illinois, Wisconsin over Indiana, Nebraska over Kansas State, Cincinnati over Xavier, Minnesota over Oregon, Oklahoma State over Tulsa, Oklahoma over Iowa State.

Queen City Holds Series Pep Rally

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Queen City held a pep rally Tuesday night as a final World Series send-off for its National League champion Reds, but it was not much like the wild celebration Cincinnatians put on when the taem clinched the pennant last week.

The "Reds Si, Yankees No" signs were inevidence, and there was drinking in the streets. There was milling around and shoving, and climbing of lamp posts and one fan put detergent in the Tyler-Davidson Fountain to make the suds flow.

But the crowd was not quite enough to make shoving necessary. And, while the pennant night crowd had been of all ages, teenagers and college students predominated at the rally wishing the Reds off to a good start in the World Series starting today in New York.

Philippines Checking On Chance Of Cholera

MANILA (AP)—Health Secretary Elpidio Valencia said today his department is checking the possibility cholera has reached the Philippines from Borneo and Hong Kong.

He said there have been 57 unusual gastric cases and one death but laboratory tests have failed to find cholera bacteria. Quarantine officials said none of the victims has been out of the country.

4 Arrested In Plot

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—Official sources said today four persons have been arrested and charged with plotting a terrorist campaign, including sabotage of railway cars in the Managua yards.

Bucks Put Through Stiff Drill Tuesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Coach Woody Hayes ran his Ohio State Buckeyes through what he called one of the hardest Tuesday practice sessions he has ever put a team through Tuesday, but when it was all over Hayes seemed satisfied.

Only offensive guard Rod Foster suffering from a sore hip which he injured during last Saturday's game, was absent from the session. Halfback Bob Klein, however, is still somewhat hobbled by a sprained ankle which kept him out of the TCU game. Hayes hopes he will be ready for the UCLA contest here this week, but, if not, sophomore Matt Snell, who filled in for him last week, will be at the right half post.

Cigarettes tipped with glass, silk, wood, straw, heavy cork and parchment were sold in the well-stocked English tobacco shop as far back as the 1860s.

Title Bout Set Dec. 4 In Canada

TORONTO (AP)—Floyd Patterson will defend his world heavyweight championship against Tom McNeeley here on Dec. 4 — all because they couldn't agree on a referee in Boston.

Originally, the bout was set for Boston on Nov. 13, but was called off because the Massachusetts Boxing Commission refused to go along with Patterson's request for an out-of-state referee.

Patterson apparently felt that McNeeley, who comes from Boston, might have an advantage with a local referee.

Promoter Tom Bolan made the announcement Tuesday that the Patterson-McNeeley bout would be held here in the 15,000-seat Maple Leaf Gardens.

The bout will be televised in Canada and the United States, but an area within about 100 miles of here will be blacked out.

Schafrath Gets OK To Play With Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns can thank the commanding officer of offensive tackle Dick Schafrath's Air National Guard unit at Mansfield for one of the club's biggest breaks so far this year.

A Browns spokesman said Tuesday the 255-pound Schafrath had received permission from his C.O. to play and practice with the Browns, provided football does not interfere with his Air Force training duties. He said Schafrath has permission to play against the Washington Redskins Sunday.

Field Goals Are Coming Fast On College Scene

NEW YORK (AP) — College football's reborn kicking specialists are at it again this season, booting field goals at a clip that will boost the record for the fourth consecutive year.

The collegians, who began to put the toe back in the game when the goalposts were widened by almost 5 feet in 1959, have kicked 52 three-pointers in 123 games among major colleges so far this year. If the rate is maintained it will easily surpass last season's alltime high of 224.

Meanwhile, Northwestern has taken the initial lead in total offense with 488 yards gained in its first game while Dartmouth is the over-all defense leader with only 58 yards permitted, according to NCAA Service Bureau statistics released today.

Northwestern also is No. 1 in rushing offense with 478 yards and Dartmouth tops in rushing defense with only six yards given up. West Texas State, with 111 points in two games, and Columbus, with 50 in its opener, are running 1-2 in team scoring.

It is not known just how or when the Golden Rule in the Bible was first so-called. It is found in the English language as early as 1674, when it was cited in Murray's Oxford Dictionary.

The United States' No. 1 health-hazard, according to estimates, is obesity. Because an excess of flesh makes the heart work harder, obesity contributes an even greater threat than cancer.

Wants To Keep Playing

By YOGI BERRA

NEW YORK (AP) — For the last few years fellas keep asking me what World Series record gives me the biggest thrill. I really couldn't answer that one. I get a thrill every time I put on a Yankee uniform.

I'm 37 now and I guess Lou Gehrig said it best when he said "I'm lucky to be a Yankee."

The World Series scheduled to start today against Cincinnati is my 12th. It used to be that I looked forward to the winner's share. But as you get older your sense of values change and you realize money isn't everything.

I see where I've earned $71,841 extra for playing in 68 World Series games. You know, I never added it up.

To me it's more important to be playing. I have no idea what I'd like to do when I'm finished playing. I don't even think about that. And I have no plans about retiring. I just want to play from year to year.

This series means a lot to me because this will be the first time I've started in one as an outfielder. Oh, I played some outfield last year and in 1947 when I was a rookie of 22 and the Dodgers ran wild on the bases in my first two series games as a catcher.

In the third game I pinch hit for Sherman Lollar and became the first player to hit a pinch home run in a World Series.

But I don't like to look back and maybe when I get older those dozen records I hold will mean much more. It's still nice to have fellas come up to you and remind you of them.

Club Purchases Special Glasses For EL Gridder

Purchase of a pair of "goggle glasses" for a Potter football player to use in future games was approved by the Blue and White Nonpareil Club at Tuesday night's meeting in the YMCA.

The glasses with unbreakable lens will be used by a Potter gridder instead of ordinary spectacles which are considered unsafe for use on the gridiron. Cost is about $25.

The club was told that its membership campaign for this year is lagging, and heard reports from Coach Bob Hedmond, Coach Rey Peduzzi, Coach Dom Cascio and Coach Norm Six in other business.

J. Allen Montgomery, membership campaign chairman, said this year's drive for new members is behind and dues are needed badly because of expenses incurred in spending $827 on renovation of showerrooms and lockerrooms at Patterson Field.

Membership cards for $2 and $5 are being sold by club members. Proceeds will be used for a number of other projects designed to boost athletics in the city. Another big expense was the purchase last month of special mouthpieces for the Potter squadmen.

Russell E. Hall, president, termed an auto caravan to the New Philly game a "big success." Another caravan will be organized for the trip to Alliance later this season. Hall said 200 booster emblems have been ordered for sale to fans.

"The boys and I were real happy to win over New Philly, the kids did a real good job," Hedmond told the club of last week's game.

Canton Central, the Potter opponent this Friday, will have a huge weight advantage with a number of 200-pounders plus and a 3-1 record to recommend it as being plenty tough, Hedmond declared.

"Central is very strong defensively," Hedmond said. Canton's only loss was 13-6 to Akron St. Vincent, also a big squad.

Coach Peduzzi reported on two victories by the Potter reserves recently, including a 50-0 romp over Beaver Local. "We can look to the future with these kids, and if the sophomores stay out for the sport, East Liverpool will really have some size," Peduzzi said.

Cascio reported on East Junior High's victory over Steubenville—first over the Stubbers in five years—and added the East Enders will play Thursday at Toronto.

Six reported on Westgate's recent victory over East Palestine. His Wildcats will also be in action Thursday against Wellsville.

Coaches Nunzio Polichene, Jack Blair and Larry Foltz also were present. Movies of the Potter-New Philly game were screened. Thirty attended.

West Virginia Seeking First Win Against VPI

MORGANTOWN (AP) — West Virginia University's football team will be meeting a team that has had three weeks to get ready when it tackles Virginia Tech at Mountaineer Field Saturday.

"They could have installed the single wing for all we know," WVU coach Gene Corum said.

"Actually," Corum added, "we won't know until the game starts whether the long layoff hurt or helped them. They have had a lot of time to throw in some new stuff."

VPI opened with a 20-6 victory over William & Mary last Sept. 16, and hasn't played since.

The Gobblers possess a one-two quarterback punch in Terry Strock and Warren Price. Strock also operates out of either halfback slot.

The two seniors accounted for both touchdowns in VPI's victory over WVU last season. Price ran 28 yards for one score, then passed to Strock for the second.

Fred Colvard continues to lead the Mountaineers in rushing. Statistics released yesterday showed the sophomore quarterback with 86 yards in 26 carries for a 3.3 average.

Jim (Shorty) Moss, however, owns the best rushing average, 6.5 yards on 13 carries.

By R. L. LIDE

Be sure it's game before you aim. . . .Never point a gun at anything you do not want to kill . . . .Treat every gun as if it was loaded, etc. This is a few of the cardinal rules of hunter safety as being taught by the Salem Hunting Club. A new class is being formed on first come first served basis.

YOU wouldn't want your youngster to get behind the wheel of an auto with no driving experience whatever. Neither does the law allow it so keep in mind, both are lethal weapons that can kill when under control of an inexperienced person.

Any person under 16 years of age is not allowed to hunt unless accompanied by an adult person. Regardless of age everyone must have a hunting license to hunt with the exception of the landowner, his children or the tenant of a farm and his children.

HUNTING season for ducks begins at noon Eastern Standard Time until sunset. After opening day ducks may be taken from sunrise to sunset until Nov. 18th, both dates inclusive.

Open season for geese is the same as ducks, however, geese may be taken until December 18th inclusive. Shooting hours are the same as for ducks. See special regulations for both ducks and geese.

ALL DUCKS taken still living but crippled must be killed immediately before being legal quarry. Only one wood duck at any time can be had in legal possession. Suppose you crippled a wood duck and wanted to take it home and get a permit to keep it. As long as that wood duck is in your possession you would not be allowed to shoot another, neither can you get a permit for a wild wood duck as they cannot be taken alive.

REDHEAD and canvas back ducks cannot be taken this season on account of the scarcity of these ducks. It remains to be seen just how long it will be before these ducks will again be legal quarry.

That's where State and Federal laws come in. To protect any migratory bird from becoming extinct like the passenger pigeons when adequate laws were not in effect. It is up to the individual hunter to be able to identify ducks according to species just the same as it is to know a hen from a cock pheasant.

Hunters have a responsibility the same as the enforcement officers to see that the rules and regulations are not violated.

I HAVE a few pamphlets of duck identification and the table of sunrise and sunset official for this area which I will pass along to persons requesting them from me personally or I will put them in the mail providing you enclose a self addressed and stamped envelope. My supply is limited. My address, Box 202, Beloit, Ohio.

Mets, Colts Can Stock Up On Former National Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets and Houston Colts, the two new National League baseball clubs, will be able to form their teams from a list that includes former league stars Robin Roberts, Gil Hodges, Red Schoendienst, Sam Jones, Richie Ashburn and Johnny Antonelli, The Associated Press has learned.

The selections from the lists of 15 players made available by each of the eight established clubs will be made by Houston and New York the day after the World Series ends.

Although the lists are in the hands of officials of the Mets and Colts, they will not be officially disclosed by the league.

The AP has learned, however, that Roberts, Hodges, Schoendienst, Jones, Ashburn and Antonelli are on the lists together with such other name players as Clem Labine, Johnny Logan, Vinegar Bend Mizell, and Bobby Shantz of the Pittsburgh Pirates, Billy Loes and Eddie Bressoud of the San Francisco Giants; Norm Larker and Roger Craig of the Los Angeles Dodgers, and Pancho Herrera of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Cincinnati's current list, the AP learned, contains only the names of those not eligible for the World Series. It is reported that Gus Bell, Dick Gernert and Jay Hook may be among those made available once the series ends.

Teamster Tactics To Nip Rebellion Of 4 Locals Fail

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Teamsters Union's delaying tactics in trying to overcome the rebellion of 4,000 members of four Cincinnati locals seems to have failed.

John C. Getreu, regional National Labor Relations Board director, Tuesday ordered that an election be held to let members of the largest defecting group—the 2,200 dairy drivers—vote whether they want to quit the Teamsters.

The dairy drivers voted to leave the International in August, but the validity of this action was challenged by Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

Rebel leader James T. Luken, former president of Teamsters Local 98 and leader of the now-independent Milk & Ice Cream Drivers & Dairy Employees Union of Greater Cincinnati and Vicinity, then petitioned the NLRB for an election.

In granting the election, Getreu upheld the action of an NLRB examiner who accused Teamsters attorneys of deliberately stalling the issue.

The field emission microscope can see individual atoms. But scientists want to see smaller things, like the atom nucleus, which is only 1,100,000 the size of the atom. No microscope yet invented can do that.

Soviet Bares Crop Failure In 2 Sections

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has disclosed a virtual crop failure in Kazakhstan and the virgin lands. This may have a considerable effect upon both domestic and international policies.

Pravda reports that delegates to a Communist party meeting in the central Asian republic "spoke with great uneasiness about the fact that this year Kazakhstan cannot give the state much grain."

The first secretary of the Communist party in Kazakhstan, D. A. Kunayev, said: "We must report to the Congress (the 22nd Congress of the Communist party, meeting here Oct. 17) that we do not cope with out task in the production of grain. We cope with our tasks completely unsatisfactorily."

Last year Kazakhstan and the virgin lands also had a disastrous harvest. The first secretary, Nikolai Belyaev, was fired from his local job and from his top job on the Moscow Presidium.

The development of the virgin lands is a pet project of Premier Khrushchev, who sees those vast reaches of central Asia as a means of overtaking the United States in food production.

By all accounts, the harvest in western reaches of the Soviet Union is not much better.

The crop setback may have its influence on foreign policy. On the international front, the Soviet Union almost always lowers its demands when there is a bad harvest since, unlike the United States, it has no reserves on which to fall back.

Pravda blamed both bad weather and faulty techniques for the harvest failure.

Navy Man Will Attend 2 Electronics Schools

He is Seaman App. Robert Reark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kayle Reark of Williams Ave., who is spending a 14-day leave at home after completing recruit training at San Diego.

He will report to the Naval Post-Graduate School at Monterey for a six-month course in basic electronics. Then he is scheduled to attend a 26-week school in advanced electronics at Treasure Island, San Francisco.

A 1961 graduate of East Liverpool High School, he enlisted in July, choosing the electronics field. His mother attended graduation ceremonies at San Diego that marked the end of recruit training.

$15,000 Bond Set In Illegal Re-Entry

CLEVELAND (AP)—U.S. Commissioner Herbert A. Horn has ordered bond of $15,000 and set a hearing for Oct. 24 for Leonard A. Smart, charged with illegal re-entry into the United States.

The U.S. Immigration Service said Smart was deported to his native Canada in 1948 and returned without permission. A charge of first-degree murder against him in the Aug. 15 slaying of Louis Hamblin of Cleveland was dropped by Medina County authorities recently.

It's Getting Easier

Wives Fool Husbands!

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Everyone knows it is all but impossible today for a husband to fool his wife.

But how about wives fooling husbands?

On the evidence, it's getting easier for them all the time.

"No woman can pull the wool over my eyes," brags many a husband. Such men are pitiful examples of self-delusion.

Usually a woman has pulled the wool over their eyes so long ago they have become used to it. They have forgotten what a clear view is like.

Civilization ties husbands in knots; it merely gives wives more loose threads to knit to their own purpose.

A man is kept so busy trying to fool his boss he doesn't have the time to fool his wife, and attempts it only in what he regards as emergencies. As a result he usually fails.

But fooling a husband is both a game and a duty to a wife. She regards it as a marital necessity, for she feels if she doesn't keep him fooled she can't keep him happy.

The classic ways by which women fool their husbands are to act dumb and to say one thing to them when they mean something else.

Example of the first way:

Husband, going over check stubs: "Here's one you wrote for $150. It looks like it says, 'frammis oglesrack.' What in the world was that for?"

Wife, innocently: "Oh, dear, you know I can't read my own handwriting, but I know it was for something terribly important."

Actually, what she did write down was "frammis ogleserack." To her it stands for $150 for 10 charm school lessons to lose weight and improve her personality. But she knows that if she told her husband she spent the money for this vital purpose, he'd go through the ceiling—thus creating an unnecessary repair bill.

Example of the second way:

"Wife: "Dear, you're looking a bit shabby, and you really can't afford to in your business. Promise me you'll buy yourself a new suit today."

Knight's Proof Slated Today On Nixon's Luring Attempt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Goodwin J. (Goodie) Knight staked his bid for a political comeback on promised proof today that Richard M. Nixon tried to lure him out of the Republican race for governor.

The 64-year-old former governor called an afternoon news conference and said he would disclose the who, what and where to back up his charge.

Knight, who has clashed with Nixon before, alleged that a Nixon emissary offered him anything in the state if he wouldn't oppose the former vice president's candidacy for governor.

Nixon denied it. He said he is willing to swear on the Bible that he had nothing to do with any attempt to keep Knight from running for the job he held from 1953 through 1958.

Knight announced his candidacy for re-election in 1959, then withdrew after Nixon and other state party leaders threw their pre-primary support to then Sen. William F. Knowland, who lost to Democrat Edmund G. (Pat) Brown. In 1956, Knight for a time fought Nixon's renomination for vice president.

J. Howard Edgerton, president of a Los Angeles savings and loan association and a former Knight campaign finance chairman, said he wouldn't be surprised if Knight named him as the supposed emissary.

Edgerton told newsmen, however, "I have never been an emissary of Dick Nixon on any matter in my entire life."

8 Mental Health Directors Named

Eight were elected to the Board of Directors at the dinner meeting of the Beaver County Mental Health Society Monday evening at Beaver.

They are Mrs. Charles Mann and Charles A. Capper, both of Beaver Falls, Dr. John E. Ford and Dr. A. E. Chadwick, both of New Brighton, Abe Farkas and L. H. Major, both of Beaver, Mrs. Ivor Davies of Aliquippa and Mrs. Thomas Vernon of Baden.

Clifford Conklin, president, presided, and Bishop John J. Wright of Pittsburgh spoke on "Patience and the Other Virtues in Planning for the Mentally Unwell."

Seven were presented National Mental Health volunteer pins for serving over 200 hours as volunteers at Dixmont Hospital the Friendship Room and the office. Psychiatric aides at Dixmont were also honored.

Canton Lawyer Seeks Seat In Congress

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — John Locke, a Canton lawyer, has announced plans to seek the Democratic Party's nomination for Congress next May.

Locke, active in his party for more than 30 years—and making his first attempt for public office—will seek the nomination for the 16th Congressional seat now held by Frank T. Bow of Canton, a six-term Republican.

First Aid Teams Face Simulated Casualties

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — First aid teams from seven states were confronted with another set of simulated casualties today in the concluding session of the 19th National First Aid and Mine Rescue Contest.

The 44 squads—from Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia—began the first aid phase of the competition Tuesday. Mine rescue contests were held Monday.

The winners will be announced at a banquet tonight.

Duties Given PTA Groups

Committees for the Highland-town Parent - Teacher Association were named at the initial meeting of the year Friday night. They are:

Mr. and Mrs. John Cuhart, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hays, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Francis, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hays, playground; Mrs. Wanda Pisarsky, Mrs. Gladys Bentley and Mrs. Millie Lewis, library; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Leatherberry, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hays, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gilmore and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Crist, ways and means; Mr. and Mrs. James Hogue and Mr. and Mrs. Francis, membership; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hays and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Buzzard, program, and Mrs. Laura Meyer, press.

The singing of "America" and the Lord's Prayer in unison opened the meeting. Jerry Russell, principal, introduced faculty members, Mrs. Alice Faloon, first grade; Mrs. Gladys Boyd, second and third; Mrs. Sara Smith, third and fourth; William Chrifield, fifth and sixty, and Mrs. Katherine Leatherberry, seventh and eighth.

The proposed new school board plan for the district was explained and Jack Stewart was endorsed as a member. Officers who assumed their duties include Robert McPherson, president; Ralph Hays, vice president; Mrs. Agnes McKenzie, secretary, and Mrs. Olive Witherow, treasurer.

Mrs. Smith's room won the attendance banner. Two movies were screened and the executive committee served lunch.

Reservists Sought For Marine Corps

Sgt. James H. Aubrey, Marine Corps recruiter stationed on the third floor of the City Hall, said volunteers are being sought among corps reservists with critical military occupational specialties in order to accelerate the buildup to a force of 190,000 by Dec. 31.

Maj. John A. Daskalakis, officer in charge of the Marine Corps Recruiting Station in Pittsburgh, announced that Marine Reservists of the rank of sergeant (E-5) and above may now apply for extended active duty for a period of two or more years provided they held, or now hold, military occupational specialties.

Many of the specialties qualify the man for consideration of drawing proficiency pay in addition to regular salary.

This is a volunteer program and applies to all Marine Corps Reservists regardless of whether they are in an organized unit or inactive status.

Reservists desiring to apply for extended active duty under this program may contact the local Recruiter.

Insect Alert Received

Clean-Out Of Old Grains Seen Infestation Control

LISBON — Floyd Lower, county agricultural agent, said the October insect alert for farm and home has been received from Ohio State University, as prepared by R. P. Holdsworth and D. D. Blair, extension entemologists. For the farm:

Ear and shelled corn — Most farms carry a residual infestation of grain insects from one year to the next. Old grain and broken kernels that remain in the storage, in truck beds, and spillage from broken sacks of food can breed insects that infest corn stored on the farm.

Use a broom and scoop shovel and get rid of all the old grain and grain waste.

Spray and clean storage ceiling, walls and floor with Methoxychlor or Malathion. For special protection against angoumois grain moth use premium grade Malathion dust at the rate of one ounce of 1 per cent per bushel of grain. Mix directly with corn while loading into crib or bin. This also protects against other grain insects.

Northern corn rootworm — Inspection of May farms in Northwestern Ohio indicates that the root damage to corn has been more extensive than previously realized. The extent of losses, however, is not such that it will pay all farmers to use soil insecticide on an insurance basis.

There are farms, however, where it will pay next year to use a soil insecticide. Where the stalks are so bent at picking time that picker losses occur, fields have had large numbers of pale yellow-to-green beetles feeding on the silks, or weak or damaged root systems have been noticed in field where corn is a continuous crop. A change in rotation, or the use of a soil insecticide at planting time next year, is suggested.

Face fly on dairy cattle — results with DDVP 0.5 per cent face fly sirup on dairy cattle are good enough to justify a recommendation for 1962.

Results were not spectacular and did not elminate face flies from any area, or an individual farm, but when used every day face fly counts were low as opposed to untreated cows. The sirup made a noticeable difference in grazing behavior.

Alfalfa weevil — Heptachlor has been newly registered for alfalfa weevil control at the rate of one pound actual insecticide per acre as a fall treatment, either as 2½ or 5 per cent granules, or as a spray (2 quarts 23.4 per cent Heptachlor in 20-25 gallons of water or 1½ quarts or 31.4 per cent Heptachlor).

Treatments will be applied on a demonstrational field in Southeastern Ohio this fall, since we fully expect serious economic losses to occur on first - growth alfalfa in that part of the state in 1962. Heptachlor cannot be used after Nov. 15. Do not pasture or harvest treated fields until time for first cutting next spring.

Chicken and turkeys; Northern fowl mite, chicken mites and lice will build up in the fall and may give trouble during the winter.

The new dust box treatment for chickens, using one pound of 4 per cent Malathion in a box 12-x-12-x-3-inches deep. For cold weather emergency control, use 4 per cent Malathion dust directly on birds. We strongly recommend against any spray on birds during cold weather. For chicken mites, use Malathion spray on litter, walls, roosts, ceiling and nests. For lice and northern fowl mite, use nicotine sulfate painted on roosts, or use 4 per cent Malathion dust, or Co-Ral dust (5 per cent) on birds.

Hog lice — Lice build up during the fall and may become serious during winter and early spring. The most practical cold-weather treatment is to dust 4 ounces of 1 per cent Lindane evenly over each 100 square feet of bedding.

For the home:

Clover mits — Clover mites became active in cold weather and swarm to roughened surfaces to lay eggs and accidentally enter houses in the process.

Control involves a combination of mite killer plus an 18 inch band of bare soil around the house. The bare ground reduces the numbers by about two thirds, but Malathion, Kelthane, Aramite or Chlorobenrilate can be redusted on the ground around the house for better control. Foundations can be sprayed, but there is the possibility of unsightly residues on dark paint or brick.

Boxelder bugs — Boxelder bugs are one half-inch long with conspicuous red marks on the back. They will swarm on tree trunks or the sides of a house before attempting to find a place to overwinter. They are harmless but a nuisance. They are best controlled when bunched together by using Chlordane or Dieldring at 2 to 4 times the dosage recommended for other insects.

Brown dog tick — We get occasional calls from people who own dogs and whose homes are infested with ticks. This is the brown dog tick. It seldom bites people. It is necessary to use a residual spray, such as 5 per cent DDT, 2 per cent Chlordane or 1 per cent Lindane, making spot applications to the dog's sleeping quarters, baseboards, around door and window moldings, behind pictures, under furniture, around the edges of rugs and in all cracks.

It may be necessary to take down and wash curtains or draperies. At the same time, de-tick the dog with 4 per cent Malathion, or 1 per cent Lindane. Do not use oil-based spray on dogs, although wettable powder spray is all right.

Cluster flies — Cluster and face flies will enter the house soon in order to overwinter. The best prevention is to screen and build them out, caulking cracks around windows, under the eaves and pulley sash cord channels with cotton. The use of 10 per cent DDT solution of 2 per cent Chlordane may be of some help when painted around the window frames or sash cords, but this is secondary to closing openings. Once flies enter, an aerosol space spray of Pyrethrum is best.

19 Incumbents Win In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Nineteen of 33 incumbent councilmen won virtual re-election in the primary election Tuesday by receiving better than 50 per cent of the total votes cast in their wards. Their names will appear on the November ballot unopposed.

Falling in this category are the Democratic leaders of the Council—President Jack P. Russell and Charles V. Carr. However, the Republican minority leader, Richard M. Masterson, faces a showdown fight with Democrat William McWilliam at the general election.

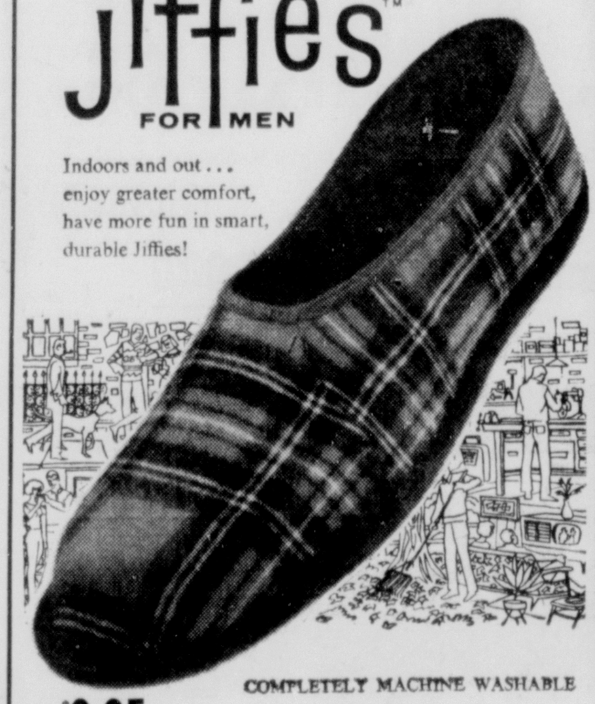

It was not a good showing for the Republicans, whose minority of eight in the Council could be even smaller next year.

In suburban Fairview Park, Councilman Homer E. Cook Jr. lost to Wayne W. Chapman, a newcomer, for the Ward 4 Republican nomination. Six other Republican councilmen won nominations.

To Be Arraigned

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Fred Conger will be arraigned Monday on a charge of second-degree murder in the shooting of his nephew, James O. Hayslip, 26, and the wounding of Hayslip's brother Charles, Clinton County Common Pleas Court Judge C. Luther Swaim said Tuesday.

Washington Film Shown To Rotarians

Behind-the-scenes glimpses of the country's form of government were illustrated in a film, "Washington at Work," screened at the Rotary Club's meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Travelers Hotel.

The 20 minutes black-and-white sound film was prepared by the Kiplinger Washington Editors, publishers of the Kiplinger Washington Letter.

It emphasized that Washington is not all monuments and official titles, but a city where decisions made by the government affect everyone in the country in one way or another.

The film illustrated some of the long, complex processes necessary in a Democratic system of government, showing scenes from many of the governmental offices in the nation's capital.

Atty. William E. Dunlap was program chairman.

Dr. R. Jay Kinsey, president, reminded members of tonight's "Rotary Ann" party at the Country Club, and of a Rotary Foundation dinner Oct. 10. There will be no noon meeting Oct. 10.

A representative of the Quota Club reminded members of a series of travelogue films being presented four consecutive Tuesdays beginning Oct. 17 at Westgate auditorium. The films will be on "Switzerland," "Germany," "Arizona," and "Japan."

Guinea Pig Stolen, He Can't Figure Why

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Rudy Delmore, who operates an auto junk yard, can understand why someone would steal 65 of his auto radiators and 13 batteries, but he couldn't figure out why the raider took his pet tan-and-white guinea pig.

Later an 8-year-old boy confessed that he was the guinea pig thief, but didn't know anything about the other loot.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Parent Shouldn't Argue With Child

It's amazing how many parents argue with their children, sometimes getting so angry that they feel mentally ill. There are two main types of occasion for this argument: 1. Opinion or statement of fact by the parent which the child challenges. 2. Decision or command by the parent that the child resists. Either type of argument with your child may begin when he is very young. Concerning the first, I can see no good reason why any parent should feel angry with a child who calmly challenges a statement meant to be a fact or even an opinion.

Dr. Garry Meyers

SUPPOSE YOUR child challenges you. If you can find printed proof of your statements, present it calmly. If you can't, say nothing, do nothing. Let the child have the last word; trusting he will revise his judgment by and by. And don't act mad about it.

The moment you get angry you are not reasoning, you are fighting. Only when you present the facts calmly and persuasively are you really reasoning. If you are always careful about your opinions and statements of facts, your child, after months and years, will incline to accept them.

It is the second type of argument over which there is most heat, as a rule. You make a decision denying the child what he wishes or requiring him to do what he strongly dislikes to do. He asks why. Trying to be reasonable, you explain. Your explanation may not satisfy him at all. He asks more questions and soon you and he are arguing angrily.

AS A RULE, he knows why you made the decision. He has learned from experience that, if he can get you into an argument, he is pretty sure to win and you to be humbled ignominiously.

Accordingly, many a child, from eight to 12, often puts you on the witness stand, questioning and cross - questioning you as if he were a prosecuting attorney.

When about to make a decision or command that you are pretty sure your child won't like, be certain first in your own mind that it is reasonable, and that you can enforce it. If you have the slightest doubt that he won't see your reasons, state them in the fewest possible words before decision or command is made. Then expect him to abide by it. Refuse to talk back.

LET HIM KNOW from experience that if, after he has obeyed, he still thinks you were unreasonable, he may come back to you and say so.

If you have always been consistent in your decisions affecting him, he will nearly always know beforehand what they will be. With ample, reasonable regularities and requirements as to family routines and chores, there need be relatively few occasions for making decisions and commands.

My bulletins, "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" and "A Parent's Prayer," may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Nurse Magazine Publishes Article By City Woman

Miss Janet L. Powell, a registered nurse and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orin C. Powell of Beechwood, is the author of a paper, entitled "The Basic Chemistry and Physics of the Radioisotope," which was published in the September issue of "The Pennsylvania Nurse."

Her article was written to give a clearer understanding of the elementary chemistry and physics of the radioisotope to increase the nurse's ability to give safe nursing care. The article covers six pages and contains her picture.

A 1954 graduate of East Liverpool High School, she graduated from the Presbyterian - University nursing school in 1957. She is a bachelor of arts degree candidate for 1962 at the Winthrop College for Women at Rock Hill, S. C. She plans to attend graduate school at Duquesne University in the fall of 1962, continuing in the field of nursing education.

45 Enter County Jail During September

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reported a total of 45 prisoners were received at the County Jail during September, in addition to the 30 already confined as of Sept. 1.

Forty - four were released during the month and one mental patient was conveyed to a state hospital. There were 159 visitors.

A total of 2,795 meals were served at a cost of $816.96, making the average daily expense per prisoner 88 cents.

Sheriff VanFossan said 304 papers were served and 5,983 radio transmissions were handled, along with 1,050 phone calls at the jail. The sheriff's office in the Courthouse accepted 20 sets of fox feet for bounty and fees totaling $821.39 were also collected.

School Asks Fuel Oil Bids

The Western Beaver County Board of Education Monday evening authorized Frank Meredith, supervising principal, to advertise for bids for fuel oil for Fairview School and for art and general school supplies for the district.

The board also selected colors for the new junior - senior high school being built in Industry. B. J. McCandless, Ellwood City architect, submitted plans for the color schemes of the panel work.

Meredith said a report for auditing school books for the year ending July 6, 1958, was read and only minor discrepancies were found by the auditor general. These have been corrected since then, Meredith said.

Ronald Young, seventh and eighth Grade teacher, was given a military leave of absence. He was called to active duty with the 475th Quartermasters Corps of Beaver Falls.

The Children's Theater Guild was granted permission to use a classroom in the Fairview School for practice Tuesdays from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m.

The Beaver County PTA Council was granted use of the Ray W. Snyder school cafeteria for a county meeting Jan. 6.

495 Doctors, 154 Dentists Facing Call To Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department ordered Tuesday the drafting of 495 doctors, 154 dentist, and 67 veterinarians for the military services.

It said they were needed because of the general buildup of the Army, Navy and Air Force.

The veterinarians are being called to meet an increased demand for food inspection services, preventive medicine, and research and development, the Pentagon said.

This is the second time this year that the Defense Department has ordered a medical draft.

Unity Establishment Gets Liquor Permit

LISBON — A permit for the sale of high-powered beer and wine and for liquor by the glass until 1 a. m. has been issued by the Ohio Department of Liquor Control to the Hide-A-Way of Route 165 in Unity Township, operated by Edgar A. Mort.

The department is processing an application for the transfer of similar permit from Helen E. Fernengel to Frank J. Citino for the Fernengel's Tavern of S. Broadway, Salem.

Martin Funeral Home
East Liverpool, Ohio

Dear friends,

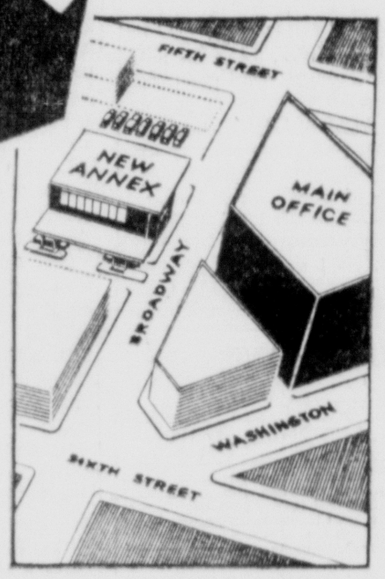

In arranging a funeral, the family should realize that added costs include newspaper notices, transportation fees, automobile rentals, musicians, cemetery, crematory or mausoleum fees — these items alone often exceed the funeral director's total bill. Keeping this in mind, the total expenditure should not exceed the family's ability to pay.

Respectfully,
Harry L. Martin

HAL HUMPHREY

Verna Gets The Old Heave-Ho

Hilda Crocker, that bumptious old neighbor gal of the Porters in "Pete and Gladys," has been evicted.

Hal Humphrey

"Yes, it's true," says Verna Felton, the 71-year-young actress who created Hilda. "After six years they've decided Hilda didn't belong in the show. Isn't that something?"

Verna refers to her role as Hilda on the old "December Bride" series (still being rerun), which had a year on radio and four on TV. When creator Parke Levy parlayed Pete Porter (Harry Morgan), the neighbor in "December Bride," in a new series last season, Hilda moved over, too.

THE SECOND SEASON of "Pete and Gladys" began two weeks ago with no mention of Hilda Crocker.

"I would rather not go into detail about it," says Verna about her eviction. "I'm too old to fight. Tell my fans they'll see me soon on a Jack Benny show, and I hope some other shows, too." (Verna has played Dennis Day's mother on the Benny show for years.)

Producer Levy says Verna was dropped because there was no logical reason for Hilda to be a friend of Gladys Porter, and that viewers believed she was Gladys' mother.

ERNIE KOVACS says he doesn't mind getting rapped by the critics, but he wishes they would watch the show before they write about it.

"You won't believe this, but one of the New York critics accused me of bad taste for using a mechanical cockroach in my first special of the season.

"Believe me," cries Ernie, "there was no mechanical cockroach. I had a turkey with a thermometer sticking out of its back, but if that looked like a cockroach to this critic, then everybody on TV is in trouble!"

ANYONE who asks Bob Cummings what kind of character he is playing in his new series opening on CBS-TV Thursday night is told, "I play a professional positive thinker."

Cummings is deadly serious about thinking positively, and insists it is the key to his own success. He believes that anyone who wants to do something passionately enough has only to think that he already has accomplished it, and the ambition is as good as realized.

Recently he hosted a posse of TV columnists at the weekend spa in Palm Springs and showed the first film in the series. Immediately after the showing, however, Cummings asked that we please not review what we had seen until it had been on the air. He probably decided we weren't good enough positive thinkers yet to be trusted.

NOW THAT NBC set a precedent by refusing to let Rosemary Clooney sing a song ("If Love Were All") because of the connotations engendered by her separation from husband Jose Ferrer, the tunesmiths along Tin Pan Alley busily are composing songs which can fit any TV occasion.

"No More Ring Around Our Rosie" wasn't composed soon enough to save Miss Clooney, but the boys say they'll never be caught napping again. They've already got a hit for Liz Taylor. It's titled, "When in Rome, Let the Romans Do it."

CLINT (Cheyenne) Walker has two more years on his Warner Bros. contract, but he states that unless the studio takes him out of "Cheyenne" next year he will just sit the last year out.

"I'm sick and tired of horses," allows Clint. "I just finished building a walk-in camper, and I'll pack my family in it and we'll just go out and see the word."

Clint's latest hobby is shark fishing, which he does whenever he gets away from that horse.

"I ain't much on killin', but I can sure kill those sharks. They're mean," he says.

JAY WARD and Bill Scott, creators of "Bulwinkle," report that they had five pilot films that didn't sell before they hit on "Bullwinkle."

Santa Parade Details Aired

The traditional Santa Claus parade ushering in the Christmas shopping season probably will be held Nov. 24, the Friday after Thanksgiving, the East Liverpool Merchants Association was advised Tuesday at its monthly meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Jack Steinberg, co-chairman of the community Christmas activities committee, reported on initial plans for the parade, which again will be arranged by the Junior Chamber.

Steinberg also reported the city has recieved the donation of a large evergreen tree for use on the Diamond.

A schedule of store hours was adopted for the holiday shopping season. Stores will schedule about the same number of additional night openings as in 1960, but the extra hours will fall closer to the holiday. ELMA said specific schedules will be announced later, shortly in advance of the gift-buying season.

The schedule of hours was worked out by the Executive Committee, with James Locke as chairman for the project.

Harold Allison announced the annual Rural - Urban Day has been scheduled Wednesday, Nov. 15. Rural residents of the district will be guests of the merchants for a program that will include tours of business places and a luncheon.

The exchange of visits is made annually, with urban and rural organizations alternating as hosts.

Details of the program will be announced later, Allison said. He is chairman of the ELMA rural-urban committee.

Ralph Finley, ELMA chairman, reported the Business & Professional Women's Club is co-operating with the merchants' downtown improvement committee in a beautification project that will get under way next spring.

The group voted a resolution of respect in memory of John Robins, a veteran member who died recently. The next meeting will be Nov. 7.

Civil Defense Head Speaks At Lisbon Teachers' Event

The Lisbon Teachers Association held its initial meeting of the term at Lincoln School Monday and a talk was given on Civil Defense.

Mrs. Arlene Homan, president, conducted business.

Reports were given and plans made to hold a public chili supper after the football game Friday night, Oct. 13 at the school. Proceeds will go to the Teachers' Scholarship Fund.

Husbands, Wives Guests

Husbands and wives of the members were guests.

For the program, Col. Leo McCarthy of Youngstown, former area director of Civil Defense for 14 counties, spoke on "Civil Defense In Relation To The Schools."

He was introduced by Alex Rutecki, county Civil Defense coordinator. Miss Dorothy Cameron was program chairman.

A social time followed and refreshments were served by Miss Nancy Shattuck and committee.

Next meeting Nov. 14 will feature an Hawaiian theme.

Some 50 were present when members of the Christian Youth Fellowship and councilors of the First Christian Church entertained the Alliance CYF Sunday afternoon.

Museum Is Toured

The Young people toured the Tuscarora Museum west of Lisbon, followed by a wiener roast on N. Park Pl., near the Fred Reese home where the business and worship service were held because of the weather.

Miss Carmen Gibson, president, presided.

The Altar and Rosary Society of St. George's Catholic Church met at the Parish Hall Monday night with Mrs. William Thompson, president, conducting the business.

The group voted a donation to the teachers Scholarship Fund and to cancel the bake sale scheduled for Oct. 28.

11 Plan Pilgrimage

It was announced that 11 women of the parish will join with the two bus loads from the county for the pilgrimage to the shrine at Washington.

Miss Mary Smith won a prize.

Mrs. John Vokovich and Mrs. Robert Harrold, program chairmen, showed color slides with recording on "The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass" and of "The Sacrament of Matrimony."

For the meeting Nov. 6, Atty. Joseph J. Baronzzi will speak on "Wills" and answer questions.

Monday Club Meets

Mrs. R. V. Parry of Signal Rd. was hostess to the Monday Club.

Mrs. C. F. Wright presented the program on "Architecture, 1803-1961," giving historical facts on Lisbon homes and their occupants.

Mrs. Robert Leggett, president, presided. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. R. F. Marlatt.

Mrs. Gail McCune, president, presided for the meeting of the auxiliary of the American Legion Post at the post home Monday night.

Donation Given Fund

Conference Announced

Announcements made were of the fall conference Oct. 27 at West Lafayette and the County Council session Oct. 17 for a masquerade party with the Glenmoor unit. A membership drive has started and yearly dues are now payable.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Robert Fife and committee.

Next meeting is Nov. 6.

Mrs. Vida Davies, president of the Mid-County Republican Club, issued a reminder of the meeting to be held tonight at 8 in the Village Hall.

Mrs. Harold Armstrong of Columbiana will review "Conscience of a Conservative," by Sen. Barry Goldwater. A coffee hour will follow.

Plans will be made for a dance Oct. 28.

Steubenville College Deadline Is Monday

Students who plan to attend the College of Steubenville's fall term — delayed one month to a starting date of Oct. 19 — have only until next Monday to file an application for admission, it was announced today by Miss Audrey Savastone, registrar.

The usual procedure of registration cannot be followed this fall, due to the late opening date.

This year students seeking to enroll must complete their applications before next Monday at 4:30 p. m. This includes those desiring to enroll on a part-time as well as a full-time basis.

Dance To Open Irondale's Fete For Homecoming

IRONDALE — A round and square dance Thursday night from 9 to 12 in the high school auditorium will lead off the community's 21st annual homecoming observance.

A home talent and minstrel show will be held Friday night at 8 in the high school when a homecoming queen will be named.

Saturday's activities open with games and contests for children at 10 a. m. at Memorial Field.

The queen will be crowned at halftime of the Stanton Local-Salineville football game at 2. A public dinner will be served at the school following the game.

"Memories" is the theme for the homecoming round dance Saturday night in the school gymnasium. Glenn Ross' band will provide music.

South Side PTA Will See Movie

A movie, "Second for Survival," will be screened at a meeting of the South Side Parent - Teacher Association Monday evening at the elementary building near Hookstown.

It will be held in the multi-purpose room and William Faulk, president, will conduct business. Mrs. Joyce Stewart will be in charge of refreshments.

The PTA is now using a new point system to increase attendance. Fathers and teachers count two points and mothers one. At the end of the month, the room with the most points will get ice cream.

Mrs. Frank Moore is publicity chairman.

South Side Fund Dinner Awaited

The divisional goal is $500. Chairmen of the areas are Paul Lyle, Mark Hilliker, Mrs. Bruce Hobbs, Donald McHaffie Jr., Mrs. Juanita Patton, Mrs. Willis Swearingen, Donald C. Morgan, Claire D. Gamble and William Boros.

Solicitation will be made among small businesses, self - employed and retired persons in Hookstown, Georgetown, Shippingport, Frankfort Springs, and Raccoon, Hanover, Greene and Independence Townships, with about 40 volunteers.

Each borough and township chairman will recruit sufficient number of people to assist them in order that no one person calls on more than five to 10 prospects.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: This office has been a battleground for three solid months. The war is about the air conditioner. I realize summer is over but please solve the problem now — for next year.

We have a single window unit in this office which must be adjusted manually. One girl is always "dying from the heat." She insists on turning the unit up as high as it will go. Yesterday she set the controls to suit herself, then she put masking tape over the knobs and attached this sign: "Do Not Change!"

Must the entire office force be subjected to colds, sore throats and sinus infections because of one oddball? The same girl has bought a fan which blows on her all summer. Doesn't this indicate that something is physically wrong with her?

The boss is neutral. He says temperatures don't bother him. Is there a solution?—KANSAS CITY COMPLAINT.

Dear K. C. Complaint: The oddball should see a doctor — and the boss should take some positive action even though "temperatures don't bother him."

An expert ought to be called in to decide the ideal temperature for your office. He should then adjust the air conditioner (for the summer) and no one should be permitted to touch it.

The girl who is always "dying from the heat" should be given the desk closest to the unit. You should be at the other end of the room.

Mother's Favorite

Dear Ann: When my sister Judy lived at home she got whatever she wanted from Mom. Now that she is married, it's still going on — only worse.

Judy has had four babies in four years. Her husband barely makes a living. My dad is far from rich and there are many things we need but can't afford. Yet Mom buys clothes for Judy's kids, carries groceries over there and sits for them every Saturday and Thursday night.

Last week Mom and I went shopping for our winter clothes. She didn't get anything although she needs shoes and a new coat. She spent $40 on dress clothes for Judy's kids. This burned me up. What can I do?—PLAIN MAD.

Dear Mad: Nothing. So stop trying. Your Mom has always put Judy first and she always will. It's too bad when married children are a financial burden to parents, but some parents promote it—so keep silent.

Plagued By Pledge

Dear Ann: Last year my husband and I signed a pledge card obligating us for a substantial amount of money. In recent months our business has gone bad and we've had to pay heavy medical and hospital bills. It's impossible to meet the pledge.

Yesterday we received a letter from the director of the organization with a warning that the matter would be placed in the hands of an attorney if the pledge was not paid within 60 days.

Are we legally obliged to pay? Please hurry the information. We are humiliated and worried. — KZO.

Dear KZO: No ethical charity sues for collection of pledges.

Whether or not you are legally bound depends on the language of the pledge card. If you do not have a copy, get one—and see an attorney.

Ann Landers Will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Teen-Ager Needs Courageous Critic

Dieting isn't easy, and it seems to be a bigger hurdle for teenagers. But it's not fun to be a fatty, particularly when you are young. So a 14-year - old, who weighs 150 pounds asks to correspond with another overweight girl who is trying to slim down and shape up. Our teen - ager writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"I feel that if I had someone I could write to and report my results that I would be able to reduce better. My measurements are 36-30-40. I am 5 feet 4½ tall and weigh 150 bulky pounds."

It may help when you have someone to report to regularly. If you have a good friend who has a similar weight problem, the two of you can perhaps help each other. Ask your gym teacher to check your measurements and show you calisthenics to slim inches off waist and hips.

YOUR MOTHER could be your ally. Also, it is enormously helpful to report to the doctor regularly.

However, the plan of reporting to a pen pal has not proved effective. Bear in mind that the person whom you choose to help you must be your severest critic, not in a condemning way of course, but one with the courage to tell you the truth.

For many reasons it must be someone you trust and admire and whom you know to have your interest at heart. She will sense when you need encouragement, or when a prod will best serve to put you on your mettle.

If you are on the level about imparting the whole truth to a friend, and even more important, to yourself, keep a diet-diary. Write down everything you eat. Let her see the list at the end of each week.

As one dieter wrote, "You think twice before eating something frightfully fattening when you know you are going to have to write it down for someone else to read!"

A 15-year-old asks if it is all right to just think about tempting goodies. "Thinking about food can't make you fat, can it?" she inquires wistfully. Indirectly, yes. Thinking makes it so! After all, when you are thinking of food you are not devising ways to help yourself slim down.

ON THE DIET diary, you will find it most enlightening to make a mood-memo too. As you jot down the various items of food consumed... write opposite the entry just what you were thinking about at the time. Were you feeling a bit lonely or trying to put off doing the homework?

Put it all on the record. When the pattern stands out you get a better perspective. The next step is to ACT to change things.

Send long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Teen-Age Slimming Challenge." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Unemployed Dips 457,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joblessness dropped by 457,000 in September and should decline below four million this month for the first time in a year, the Labor Department reported Tuesday.

At 4,085,000, the September unemployment total was 6.8 per cent of the civil labor force—a disappointingly small change from the August rate of 6.9 per cent, equivalent to the high point of the recession.

However, the department's manpower expert, Dr. Seymour Wolfbein, said there were elements in the September picture which indicate there should be "some real improvement" in October.

Joblessness among adult men dropped more than seasonally, as did long-term unemployment.

There also was a drop in the number of workers working short hours for economic reasons.

Total employment dropped by 1.5 million in September to a total of 67,038,000.

This was about twice the decline normally associated with the return of young workers to school, and was attributed to the severe curtailment of farm work due to Hurricane Carla during the week in which the Bureau of Labor Statistics made its job survey.

New Syrian Army Leader Cites Nasser

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser's agents moved "like an octopus to weaken the Syrian army, suffocate freedom of citizens and to fill prisons," says the new Syrian army commander.

Gen. Abdel Karim Zahredin told reporters Tuesday that was the reason the Syrian army rose against Nasser's United Arab Republic last week and forcibly severed Syria's 2½-year-old ties with Egypt.

Zahredin also accused Cairo agents of stealing millions of dollars worth of Syrian arms and equipment for shipment to Egypt.

He said Nasser's intelligence officers filled Syria's prisons with political prisoners and stifled individual liberties.

"The army's only aim was to redress wrongs and it was pledged not to interfere with the political life of Syria," he said.

Informed sources said that one way Nasser weakened the Syrian army was to send several dozen Syrian officers to Communist countries as students. They said Syria now has demanded their prompt return.

Interior Minister Adnan Kuwatly told newsmen the new Syrian regime had found a large number of political prisoners but had been unable to come up with an accurate count. Premier Mamoun Kuzbari estimated the number at about 30,000.

Kuwatly said the dreaded internal security system at one time had about 6,500 secret agents with a monthly payroll of about one million Syrian pounds — $2,800,000.

Syria will continue its ban on the Communist party, Kuwatly said, adding that "we will leave the question of political parties to Parliament."

Cuyahoga Area Employers Face BUC Rate Hike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cuyahoga County claimants received 19 per cent, of $83,661,000, of the $442,972,052 paid out of the state jobless compensation fund from July 1, 1959, to July 1, 1961, reports Ward A. Riley, area director of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

Riley said Tuesday that because of a low balance in the fund —$178,632,789 on July 1—20,000 employers in Cuyahoga County will be assessed $5 more per $1,000 on the annual taxable payroll, pursuant to state law, effective Jan. 1. Minimum payments, now $1 on $1,000 of payroll, automatically will be at the rate of $6, while those employers now paying $27 annually per $1,000 will be paying $32. Those are the extremes, on a graduated scale. Employers of three or more pay into the fund.

The added rate is called for under the Ohio law when the amount remaining in the BUC fund on July 1 is less than the total jobless benefits paid out in the previous 24 consecutive months.

43 Are Arrested In Plot To Kill Ghana President

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Forty-three men, including leading political opponents of President Kwame Nkrumah, were arrested Tuesday night on charges of plotting to assassinate him.

Among them were Dr. Joseph Danquah, opposition candidate in Ghana's 1960 presidential election; opposition leader Joseph Appiah, son-in-law of the late Sir Stafford Cripps, once chancellor of the British Exchequer, and former Social Welfare Minister Patrick Quaidoo, ousted from Nkrumah's Cabinet last May.

Three members of Parliament and seven women also were arrested, the latter on unspecified charges.

The roundup brought to about 370 the number of persons held under Ghana's preventative detention act, which permits interning "political undesirables" up to five years without trial.

Cub Scouts Stage Program At Pughtown PTA Meeting

The theme was "What the Cub Scout Program Does for the Youth of America" and skits were presented by the four dens. Jack Johnston is pack leader.

Plans were discussed to rent for $2 a month the Pughtown Grange Hall as a meeting site for the Cub Scouts.

Reports were presented on a PTA workshop held in the school by the Hancock County PTA Council. Mrs. Herman Bartlett of Weirton was director. Next council meeting is Oct. 31 at 7:30 p. m. in the Cove School in Weirton.

Plans were approved to have photographers take both group and individual pictures of students for the parents.

Committee chairmen were introduced. They will meet every fourth Monday in the school. Devotions were led by Mrs. Robert Swain.

The representatives are: First grade — Mrs. Paul Pugh, Mrs. Vernon Still, Mrs. Kenneth Walker, Mrs. Harry Hanst, Mrs. Carl Pugh and Mrs. Bill Lawson.

Police Sound Alert In Shaker Robbery

CLEVELAND (AP)—A county-wide police alert was broadcast today for a man sought in the $1,729 robbery of a woman outside a bank in suburban Shaker Heights.

Police said a license number of a late-model car furnished by a witness may help in the capture of the gunman who Tuesday held up Mrs. Joseph A. LoVullo, 34, in a shopping center parking lot.

Arrested In Robbery

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Louis F. Raucci, 31, was arrested by the FBI Tuesday night in connection with an armed robbery July 17, 1959, at Niles, Ohio. The FBI said Raucci had been living in suburban Wilkinsburg.

10 Syracuse Families Plan Fallout Shelter

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Ten suburban families plan to begin construction next week of a community fallout shelter large enough to house 11 families.

Each family will contribute $300. The 20 by 30-foot shelter will have 11 cubicles along the walls and a central area for group activities.

Retired Admiral Dies

READING, Pa. (AP) — Cmdr. Frank C. Brandenburg (USN, Ret.), 46, a developer of underwater sound equipment for the federal government, died Tuesday. Brandenburg, who operated a research and development plant in sound equipment, served in the Navy from 1941-1957. He was born in Arlington, N.J.

A dream home, at a modest price. Drop by and see it for yourself. $19,000.00

BRAND SPANKING NEW? No, but it's a well taken care of older home. A two story 6 room home on Chester Avenue with 1½ baths, garage, oil furnace, and many extras. All rooms except 1 of the 3 bedrooms are carpeted, and there's a plate glass mirror to reflect your pride in being a "happy home-owner". Give it a good look and it will give you plenty of good living. $10,500.00

THE MAGIC CARPET is already laid in the hall and 1 of the 2 bedrooms of this 1 story home in LaCroft. The kitchen has built-in cabinets, and it's all heated by a gas furnace. A fairly new home at a fair price. Shrubs and trees provide the final touch to this cozy home.

Army To Fire Nike Zeus Antimissile In Test Shot

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army plans to try again next weekend to fire its Nike Zeus antimissile out over the Pacific.

The test, probably on Saturday, will come at a time when the Army is bidding anew for money to start limited production of parts for the controversial system.

Nearly a month ago, on Sept. 9, Army technicians made their first effort to shoot the Nike Zeus from Point Mugu, Calif. Shortly after the missile shot skyward it exploded.

Although rebuffed repeatedly in the past, the Army is known to be seeking again to win an allocation in next year's defense budget for starting production of long-range items for the Zeus system.

Officials declined to say how much money was being sought, but it appeared likely the request might be about $100 million. The Army hoped for that amount a year ago but was turned down.

In addition to production money, the Army is asking for about $200 million in the 1963 fiscal year for further development work on the Zeus, the most advanced U.S. antimissile system. This would bring to about $1.4 billion the amount applied to Zeus research and development.

Testifying before congressional groups earlier this year, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara spoke of "widespread doubts as to whether the Nike Zeus system should ever be deployed."

He said then that the system, mostly above ground, is vulnerable to ballistic missile attack. He also indicated he was not convinced that the Zeus could work effectively against enemy missiles screened by decoys.

Since then, resumption of Soviet nuclear testing has given rise to speculation that the Soviets may be working on an antimissile system.

The Army hopes this development, plus Soviet threats to build a super nuclear bomb with the explosive power of 100 million tons of TNT, may cause defense officials to look more favorably on the Zeus.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I clean light felt hats?

A. One of the best methods is to rub the soiled spots, or the entire hat, with a cube of French chalk, which may be purchased at any drugstore. Allow this to remain on the hat for a few hours, or overnight, then brush off with a soft brush.

Q. How can I prevent my pie shells from bubbling or shrinking during the baking?

A. Try baking your pies between two pie pans of the same size. These tins should be of light material, such as tin or aluminum. After 10 minutes in the oven, remove the top tin, and continue baking until brown.

Q. How can I clean acoustical ceiling and wall materials?

A. Use the brush attachment on your vacuum cleaner to do this job. Stubborn smudges can be removed with wallpaper cleaner, or a cloth moistened with soapy water.

Same Problem

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Indian educator G. K. Chandiramani insisted on writing his name for an interviewer while visiting Erie County Technical Institute. "They misspell it even in India," he said.

Hi-Fi Music In '70 May Come From Walls

The Institute of High Fidelity Manufacturers foresees a tiny audio instrument containing electronic moleculars (the next step after transistors) and a thin 2x2 inch sound cartridge containing a whole evening's music. The walls will tune into the music's frequency and you will be surrounded by true stereo sound. For a change in mood music, the wall colors will change, too.

Project Should Bring An Occasional Laugh

Comedians Jack Benny, George Burns and George Jessel have all bought lots, says President Joseph Timan of Horizon Land Corp., the developer. Actor Kirk Douglas and his producer, Ed Lewis, are among other purchasers.

The community, a little more than half the size of Manhattan, encircles an 18-hole golf course.

Roving Cabbage

PERRY, Fla. (AP) — When the county school board recently tried to sell the Cabbage Grove school, it found the building was half a mile from the land it was supposed to be on. Nobody knew how the miscalculation was made 50 years ago when the school was built, but it delayed the board's move to sell the building.

Army Carries Out 'Frosty' Operation

HANOVER, N. H. (AP) — The Army picked the right men to supervise the transfer of glacial ice cores, crystals and permafrost from Wilmette, Ill., to its Cod Regions Research Laboratory in Hanover.

The specimens were driven in a specially designed refrigerated trailer, attended by the Army's Robert Frost and civilian Ralph Frost of Chemetron Corp., designer of the trailer.

The Frosts are not related.

Vitamin Discoveror Not 'Money-Minded'

SUMMIT, N. J. (AP) — The scientist who discovered Vitamin B-1, then relinquished his rights to the discovery, says: "I have no regrets. It was never my purpose to make money on it."

Since 1936, $7 million in royalties has been disbursed by the Research Corporation of New York to universities and other nonprofit organizations for research into problems of nutrition.

Dr. Williams, now retired, discovered the vitamin after 26 years of research into the disease beriberi.

From Cape To Class

MARIANNA, Fla. (AP) — A surplus missile tracking unit from Cape Canaveral will help inmates of the State Boys School learn electronics. Scottish Rite Masonic bodies of Miami bought the surplus missile tracking unit and gave it to the Boys School. It was dismantled and the complex electronic instruments put into use as models in the classroom.

Ford, UAW Bargaining Is Resumed

Stumbling Block In Auto Walkout Is Non-Economic

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co., its plants closed by a United Auto Workers Union strike, today apparently faced long and tedious bargaining before the auto firm can return to full production.

Negotiating sessions were scheduled to resume at 10 a.m. today.

The UAW struck Ford Tuesday morning in support of new contract demands. A national money package had been reached, but non-economic matters proved to be the stumbling block.

Nhety-six days of negotiation failed to bring agreement and the 120,000 production workers walked out. Ford operates 88 plants in 26 states. Half of its employes and 32 of its plants are in Michigan. Normally about 30 per cent of all autos sold in this country are Ford products.

Malcolm L. Denise, Ford vice president labor relations and top management negotiator, said, "The issues on which we are apart are of great importance. Based on outward appearance we have a considerable distance between us."

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said the union did all it could to avoid the strike, saying, "We have been at the table for 95 days, more than adequate time to settle our problems, but we didn't even clear up the details of our economic agreement until 8 a.m. Tuesday."

The economic package closely parallelled the union's agreement with General Motors, reached two weeks ago.

Stumbling blocks are:

Production standards, especially working conditions on moving assembly lines; representation (the union wants more full-time,

Agreement Looms For 'Formula'

Announcement Due When Rusk Meets With Russian Aide

Informed sources voiced guarded optimism that a formula might be announced soon — perhaps when Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko meets Secretary of State Dean Rusk in Washington later this week.

Soviet delegates were giving the impression that their only demand on the naming of a temporary successor to the late Dag Hammarskjold is that he be screened by the Security Council, where the Soviet Union holds the veto power.

But if the selection is left to the General Assembly alone, as advocated by some Western nations, the Soviet Union will refuse to recognize the new secretary-general "even if he were a Russian," one high Soviet source said. There is no veto in the General Assembly.

Latest speculation centered on a plan to name an acting secretary-general with five deputies. Two would come from the Soviet Union and the United States, the other three from Latin America, Asia and Africa.

There was no indication whether such a plan would be acceptable to the Soviets, who have proposed naming a secretary-general to work with three deputies representing East, West and neutrals.

The Soviets are telling other delegations that this formula is a far-reaching compromise and that they have dropped the idea that the deputies would exercise any veto over the actions of the temporary secretary-general.

Council Gives Counter-Plan On Gas Rates

Wellsville Proposal Made To 2 Offers Of Ohio Valley Co.

A counter - proposal to two previous requests for rate increases was presented to the Ohio Valley Gas Co. by Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

Council pointed out the new proposal is not binding and was being presented only for the utility's consideration.

The counter - offer, read by Councilman Paul Nelson, calls for a charge of 30 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 1,000 feet; 15 cents per 100 for the next 500; 8.3 cents per 100 for all over 2,000 up to 300,000 feet, and 7.5 cents per 100 for all over 300,000.

The company has made two proposals. The first called for 30 cents per 100 feet for the first 2,000; 78 cents per 1,000 for the next 298,000, and 70 cents per 1,000 for more than 300,000. The revised proposal called for 30 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 1,500; 8.3 cents per 100 for the next 298,000 cubic feet and 7 cents per 100 for all over 300,000.

The present rate is $2.65 for the first 1,000 and 77 cents for each 1,000 thereafter.

By way of comparison, the charge on 7,000 cubic feet of gas would be $7.27 under the present rate; $9.90 on the utility's first offer; $9.07 under the second offer, and $8.32 under the counter-proposal.

Mantle's Out Of Lineup As Series Opens

After taking two or three swings in batting practice, Mantle told Manager Ralph Houk he would not be able to play. "It will be a day-to-day proposition," said Mantle.

Mantle underwent minor surgery for an abscess on his right hip last week and has made a slow recovery. This was the first time he had swung a bat in over a week.

City Resident Hurt In Another Mishap On County Roads

Four area residents were injured in a three-car collision at Silver Switch on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Super-road Tuesday afternoon, and a city man was hurt in a one-car crash on Route 172 near Lisbon early today.

Robert George, 23, of 409 Azalea Ave. also is in "fairly good" condition at the hospital with injuries suffered when his car veered from Route 172 and struck trees about 1 a. m. today.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Diddle, driving a 1959 station wagon east on the superroad, slowed and began to make a left turn onto Kountz Ave. about 12:45 p. m. yesterday.

His vehicle was struck from the rear by a 1957 sedan operated by Miss Edith Fuqua, 36, of 1515 Main St., maid for the family of Atty. and Mrs. Delmar O'Hara, 245 Highland Ave., Wellsville.

The impact knocked Diddle's station wagon around so that it faced west in the westbound lanes, and it was struck by a westbound 1960 Mercedes sedan driven by Robert F. Beatty, 50, of Forsyth Pl.

Diddle received a possible fracture of the skull. Miss Fuqua, who was driving a car owned by Atty. O'Hara, was treated for bruises and lacerations of the lower lip, and Becky O'Hara, daughter of the attorney, was treated for abrasions and bruises of the lower lip.

Patrick O'Hara, 2, son of the attorney, was unhurt, the patrol said.

Aged Industry Man Injured In Car Crash

Michael Shevenaugh, 70, of Industry R. D. 1 is in "fair" condition today at Rochester General Hospital after his car sheared off a telephone pole Tuesday about 5:48 p. m. in Midland.

He was admitted to the hospital at 6:35 p. m. with contusions of the chest and a possible injury to the right forearm, the hospital said.

The accident occurred on Railroad Ave., between 8th and 9th Sts., when he apparently lost control of his 1954 auto, police said. There was extensive damage to the front end of the car.

Bargaining Resumes In Transit Walkout

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Striking Transport Workers Union representatives and those from the Columbus Transit Co. returned to the bargaining table today to try to work out a new contract and end a strike which has left Ohio's capital city without public transportation since Sunday.

Boy Trapped In Mountain Cave Rescued

RISING FAWN, Ga. (AP) — Rescue workers, inching their way through a treacherous mountain cave, brought to the surface about dawn today an injured teenaged boy who had been trapped overnight.

The youth, Ronnie Reese, 15, did not appear to be in serious condition from his ordeal. He was taken to a nearby hospital.

"We had to have an awful lot of help from the man upstairs to get this boy out," commented weary Charles McGuire, chief of operations of the Civil Defense rescue unit from Chattanooga, Tenn., about 30 miles northeast of this remote, mountain section of Georgia.

Reese fell into a crevasse in the cave shortly after dark Tuesday while he, his brother, Byron, and two other teen-age boys were exploring the cave near the top of Fox Mountain.

He was trapped on a ledge 50 feet below the cave's main floor about 10 hours before rescue workers managed to bring him up. Then it took another gruelling two hours to reach the cave exit, about a half-mile away.

Sam Rayburn Remains On Serious List

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn remained on the "serious" list today at Baylor Hospital. His doctors hope to know Thursday just how serious his condition is.

A team headed by Dr. Robert F. Short, prominent Dallas surgeon, started a series of tests on Rayburn Tuesday. They said it would be 36 to 48 hours before they knew anything definite.

They declined to comment on a report from one of Rayburn's aides that an exploratory operation may be performed.

"This man is in serious condition, just how serious we do not know at this time," one of the doctors said privately.

Rayburn, 79, known as "Mister Democrat" to millions, was under heavy sedation. At times he hardly recognized the few visitors allowed to see him briefly. With him for periodic visits were his two sisters, Mrs. W. A. Thomas of Dallas and Mrs. Robert Bartley of Bonham, Tex.

Rayburn was brought to the hospital unexpectedly Monday night after failing to respond to normal treatment for what had been publicly described by his office as lumbago.

MOSCOW (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson today was called to Washington in connection with the Berlin and German questions and other East-West problems. He will leave Thursday.

8 From Area Deny Grand Jury Charge

Pleas Of Innocent Filed At Hearing In Steubenville Court

Innocent pleas were filed Tuesday in Jefferson County Common Pleas Court in Steubenville by eight East Liverpool area men named in indictments returned by the September Grand Jury Sept. 28.

They were arraigned before Judge John J. Griesinger, who set bond after hearing their pleas. Trial dates will be set later.

Robert Henry Vance, 23, of Toronto R. D. 2 denied charges of shooting with intent to wound, and destruction of property in connection with a shotgun blast fired at a Wellsville man's car Aug. 27.

Vance is accused of shooting Harry (Bud) Grimm, 30, of Wellsville R. D. while aiming at the car of Ronald D. Tice, 25, of Lisbon St., Wellsville.

Grimm was wounded with a "pumpkin ball" slug from a shotgun while in the rear seat of Tice's car. Authorities said Tice had been following Vance's car in which Mrs. Tice was riding.

The charge of destruction of property stemmed from the damage to Tice's auto, riddled by the heavy slugs, authorities said.

Vance was unable to post $2,000 bond and was returned to the jail in Steubenville.

Others who entered innocent pleas, the charges, and the amount of bond set by Judge Griesinger are:

Spectacular Rocket Firing Hinted By Reds

LONDON (AP) — A Soviet rocket expert hinted today the U.S.S.R. is about to bring off a spectacular new space launching.

Dr. Vladimir Dobronravov said on Moscow radio current tests of "new and more powerful multistage rockets for the launching of objects into space are going off very successfully.

"Thus, it may be supposed that in the near future the whole world will witness new and most interesting achievements by the Soviet people in the conquest of interplanetary space."

Ex-Officers' New Appeal Will Be Heard

A second appeal of Ira Cunningham, former city police officer, and Jerry Raimond, one-time special officer, of their conviction of a 1952 burglary nearly three years ago will be heard by the Ohio Supreme Court Friday at Columbus.

Cunningham, 55, is currently serving a 1-5-year term at the Ohio Penitentiary for attempting to bribe a prospective juror in the 1958 burglary trial.

He and Raimond, 34, were convicted in November 1958 of the burglary of the Burbick Hardware Co. store of Washington St.

The District Appeals Court previously reversed the conviction, on the grounds the trial had not been held within the statutory three-court-term period. However, the case was taken to the Ohio Supreme Court by Prosecutor G. William Brokaw, and the high court ruled the lower court should re-hear the appeal on its merits.

The appeals court then sustained the Columbiana County conviction, and Cunningham and Raimond then appealed to the Supreme Court on this appellate ruling.

Raimond has been free on bond since arraignment in 1956, when he, Cunningham, and five other officers were indicted for a series of burglaries.

Ambassadors May Continue Berlin Talks

Kennedy Expected To See Gromyko Friday On Matter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic sources said today U. S.-Soviet talks on Berlin may continue at the ambassadorial level after President Kennedy sees Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Formal announcement was expected shortly that Kennedy will see Gromyko Friday, with Secretary of State Dean Rusk sitting in on the White House session.

Rusk talked with Gromyko in New York three times in the past two weeks. This was a probing operation to find out if there are prospects for fruitful East-West negotiations to settle the explosive Berlin dispute.

Further U. S.-Soviet talks seem likely. So far, Gromyko has given Rusk only a limited clarification of the Kremlin's intentions on Germany.

1-Way Rule Set Thursday For 3 Streets

New one-way traffic regulations will go into effect Thursday in two short stretches of downtown alleys and a residential street, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen reminded motorists today.

One - way traffic westbound will go into effect on Potters Alley between Walnut St. and Broadway and on Norton St. from Lincoln Ave. to Peake St. One-way southbound traffic will take effect on Union St. between E. 4th and E. 2nd Sts.

The changes were contained in legislation approved by Council Sept. 5. Since the ordinance did not carry an emergency clause, there was a 30-day wait before effectiveness.

The ordinance also provides that the regulations will not go into effect until "signs indicating the direction of traffic are erected and maintained." The director said street department crews will complete erection of the signs today.

All the changes previously had been cleared by the Council street committee.

Ordinances establish westbound traffic in Diamond Alley and northbound travel in Crook Alley between E. 5th and E. 6th Sts., he said.

Some motorists drive the wrong way in the two thoroughfares, particularly at night. The violations may result from the fact the warning signs at the approaches are high above street level and difficult to discern after dark, the chief said.

'With Extreme Reluctance'

Kennedy Signs Into Law 'Remains' Of School Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has signed into law "with extreme reluctance" a bill containing the remains of his aid to education program.

The measure: (1) extends for two years the program of aid for school districts crowded with children of federal personnel and (2) continues for two years the National Defense Education Act.

The former, known as the impacted areas program, carries about $300 million a year in U.S. grants. The Defense Education Act, which provides loans to college students and aids to teaching of science, mathematics and foreign languages, has been costing about $250 million a year.

It was all Congress granted the President of the ambitious federal aid to education program he proposed this year.

Kennedy Tuesday night vetoed a bill that would have given $60.8 million a year in pay raises to 560,000 postal workers through quicker longevity increases.

In a veto memorandum Kensaid, "Budgetary needs are too urgent to permit approval of this measure unattended by revenue increases."

Congress did not pass the postal rate increases recommended by both the Kennedy and Eisenhower administrations. The President cited this as one of the reasons he vetoed the measure. He said the proposed raises would have increased the postal deficit to more than $800 million.

New Rural Mail Delivery Route Will Start Oct. 14

A new rural mail route, the third worked out of the East Liverpool Post Office which will reduce the territory covered by present R.D. 2 and provide service to new territory on both routes, will go into service Saturday, Oct. 14, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said today.

Brown said the new route, which will cover 36.4 miles, generally will include all territory on the east side of St. Clair Ave. from Oakmont north to Fredericktown.

Approval of the new route has been received from postal officials in Cincinnati and the postal department in Washington, Brown said.

The new rural route will cover Moore St., Milton St., Purington St., Clifton St., Gonzales Ave., McCoy Ave., Dairy Ln. Homestead Dr., Christian Pl., Stage Coach Rd., Carroll Rd., Valley Dr., Hoppel's Corner's Dr., Trotter Ln., Berkshire Rd., McRae Rd., McIntosh Rd., Mud Ln., Sunset Dr., old Fredericktown Rd., South St., Van Buren St. and Main St. in Fredericktown, Duke Vodrey Rd., Grimms Bridge Rd., Elmhurst Dr., Fisher Rd. and Pennsylvania Ave. Ext., Brown explained.

Plans for the new route have been under way for some time, the postmaster explained, point-

Deaths and Funerals

Former City Resident Dies

Ray (Kink) Babb, 66, of Canton, a native of East Liverpool, died Monday morning at Timken Mercy Hospital at Canton.

He had been employed at Union Drawn Steel Co. at Massillon.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Kathryn Babb at home; three sons, and a brother, Leo Babb of East Liverpool.

Services will be held Thursday at 1:30 p. m. at the Reed Funeral Home in Canton. Burial will be in Forest Hill Cemetery there.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9.

Gerry B. Roberts

Gerry B. Roberts 57, of Beloit R.D. died Tuesday at 10:30 p. m. at Alliance City Hospital, following an illness of about three months.

Mr. Roberts was born March 9, 1904, in Conneaut, son of Mrs. Eva Lane Roberts of Conneaut and the late Robert C. Roberts. He was employed for 20 years as a fitter at the Morgan Engineering Co. at Alliance. At one time he worked for the Mullins Manufacturing Co. in Salem. He was married to the former Gladys M. Burke in February 1927.

In addition to his mother and widow, he is survived by three sons, Marvin Roberts of East Liverpool, Robert E. Roberts of Salem and James Roberts of Beloit R.D. 2; two brothers, Kenneth Roberts and Clinton Roberts, both of Conneaut; two sisters, Mrs. Eva Johnson of Erie, and Mrs. Gertrude Powell of Girard, Pa., and 10 grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Stark Memorial in Salem. Burial will be in Hope Cemetery in Salem.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday from 7 to 9 p. m.

Mrs. Margaret Tilton

Services for Mrs. Margaret Eileen Schneidmiller Tilton of Omaha, Neb., a former Calcutta and Glenmoor school teacher, will be held Thursday morning at 10:30 at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Charles Kampmeyer will officiate. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Mrs. Tilton died Monday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Schneidmiller, in Glenmoor, following a long illness.

All three vehicles received extensive damage, officers said, and Diddle's station wagon was virtually demolished.

Miss Fuqua was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

George was driving east on Route 172 about four miles west of Lisbon when he apparently fell asleep and the car left the roadway. The 1959 sedan was heavily damaged, the patrol said, and he was charged with driving left of center.

John David Hoppel, 59, of R. D. 2 was cited by the patrol yesterday afternoon after his car and one operated by Robert Massey, 41, of 1726 Wyoming Ave. collided on the Smiths Ferry-Calcutta Rd. a mile and a half east of Calcutta.

Officers said Hoppel, headed east, made a left turn into the path of Massey's approaching car. He was charged with making an improper turn. The cars received moderate damage, the patrol reported.

Rural Route Set For Mail

ing out that Virgil Kirkbride, assistant superintendent of mails, made a survey of the territory and several trips were made over the route to check road conditions, names of streets or plats and future growth. Geren aided in the project.

To provide better service to more people, it was decided to reduce Geren's route from 58 miles daily at present to 30, and add in all the patrons who have requested service.

By splitting R.D. 2 and adding the new route, more than 16 miles of territory not previously served by a mail route will be covered, Brown said.

The department has several regulations which must be met in order for the service to be started, Brown said.

Patrons must erect approved mail boxes on the right side of the roads as they are traveled by the carrier, or file a written agreement with the postal officials that they will join with others in the use of the boxes, Brown emphasized.

The name of each family receiving mail at a box must appear so the carrier can see it as he approaches the box. Forms will be placed in the boxes so the names of all individuals who will receive mail at the office can be kept on record.

No exceptions will be made about placing the box on the side of the road the carrier travels or about placing the names legibly on the side of the box, he continued.

After the route has been in existence for some time, rural route box numbers will be assigned, Brown said.

A new rural carrier will be appointed, but in order to begin service by the target date a substitute employe probably will be assigned, the postmaster said.

The new route is another reason why East Liverpool should have a new post office "and soon," Brown commented. Because of a lack of space on the "work floor," one or two rural routes may have to be shifted to the basement to get operating room, he explained.

Brown urged that all mail contain a complete address, pointing out the difficulty in locating patrons when addresses are incomplete.

A letter bearing an address such as John Doe, R.D. 3, East Liverpool, is not complete, he explained, pointing out the carrier may have two or more individuals with the same name and middle initials on his route.

Many people address their mail simply to Fredericktown, Ohio. The local area known as Fredericktown is on a rural route out of East Liverpool, Brown said.

To a postal clerk dispatching mail, a letter addressed simply to Fredericktown without mentioning East Liverpool R.D. 3 will be forwarded to Fredericktown in Knox County, the postmaster explained.

Since Fredericktown has some street names, such as South, Van Buren and Main Sts., a complete address might be John Doe, South St., Fredericktown, R.D. 3, East Liverpool.

DeGaulle Takes His Stand

The French have several nicknames for President De Gaulle, but they all signify the same thing — his high opinion of himself as a strong leader.

He is fond of saying that power never retreats. Charles De Gaulle never retreats, therefore he is power. In his latest assertion of power over French affairs, he has made it plain again that he considers settlement of the Algerian question his primary responsibility.

He has not retreated an inch from his position that the job must be carried out by relentless use of his power to control Algerian rebels until it is possible to settle the Algerian question with a plebiscite. And at long last time seems to be coming to De-Gaulle's rescue.

Time has given geologists a chance to learn more about the oil, gas and minerals in the Sahara Desert.

Time has given exploiters of natural resources a chance to apply knowledge of transportation and communication to the problems of desert travel.

Given a little more time, the Sahara might begin to get the fresh water it must have to make even its fringes habitable. These are things of great importance to the French soldier - general who has dedicated what is left of his life to settling the raging dispute over Algeria.

He is able now to paint a prospect of vast new wealth to be enjoyed if quarreling factions will settle their differences. He is able to play off one group against another and thereby to diminish the influence of both. He can offer all parties concerned in Africa the potentialities of more and more and more, instead of limiting them to the drab prospect of dividing less and less and less.

There is doubt among both De Gaulle's friends and enemies that he can outlast his problems. The man himself is above partisan politics, but partisan politicians are getting bolder in their pecking and nibbling, figuring that whoever is boldest may seem to have the greatest stature when De Gaulle is no more and small men once more can pretend to be large.

Whether France's benevolent despot should be judged right or wrong according to objective analysis never has been of concern to him or his followers. Charles De Gaulle judges things to be right or wrong according to his personal analysis and takes his stand. Thereafter, he cannot be moved. Instead of pursuing a vagrant popular opinion and trying to get ahead of it, he makes himself a fized point and invites opinion to rally around him.

It is not easy, and it is not popular. But it is admirable, and it has revived the strength of France.

If Hammarskjold Had Lived

Dag Hammarskjold's tragic death brought to finality the raging issue he was deeply involved in when he died.

Should the secretary-general of the United Nations think of himself as the executive director of an international agency pledged to keep the peace?

Or should a secretary-general think of himself as the moderator of an international debating society that strives to avert war by persuasion and is helpless if persuasion fails?

Hammarskjold thought of himself as an executive director.

He believed it was his job to take action to keep the peace; that was what he had been doing in the Congo.

He had done this first when he took steps to oust the Russians who tried to muscle into the Congo when it was thrown on its own after its release from Belgium. The Soviet Union thereupon marked him for ruin, exactly as it previously had marked Trygve Lie for ruin when he took steps to block Russian seizure of all of Korea.

The Soviet Union, dominated by a political movement that always has relied heavily on dialectics, wants the United Nations to be a debating society, nothing more.

THE HARD FACT is that all the other major powers in the United Nations also want it to be a debating society insofar as action against them is concerned, though they want it to keep the peace with military action if necessary insofar as action against others is concerned.

The Soviet Union does not want a secretary-general of the United Nations who might thwart its aims, but neither does the United States want a secretary-general who might thwart its aims.

Nor do Britain and France want to be thwarted, as they were five years ago this month when the United Nations demanded a cease-fire in Egypt. Israel complied immediately. Britain and France continued their attack for another week before complying, and many Britons and Frenchmen still feel that their governments should have refused to recognize U.S. authority.

IF HAMMARSKJOLD had lived, he would be in the thick of this issue. He had joined it squarely in the Congo, where he was using U.N. military force to subdue an uprising in Katanga Province — not because he denied the right of that province to engage in civil war but because he believed the presence of outsiders in the Katanga military force constituted interference, in the Congo.

The fight in the United Nations is not over Hammarskjold's successor. It is over the job a successor will succeed to — whether it will be that of moderator for an international debating society or of executive director of an international agency.

For all present purposes, the issue died with Hammarskjold, because it was essentially his own issue. His successor will be in no position to agitate it. That may very well be the first requirement of his succession—that he won't agitate anything.

A Long Time Since Spring

This is the year the Yankees play the Reds for the big prize. It is not, for the Reds, a thing that happens often enough to make it commonplace. For the Yankees, of course, it's old stuff.

We wonder about professional ballplayers when we are thinking about professional baseball. Do some players get to be like stage actors, who grow hardened to the roles they play in a long-running hit and forget that to the spectator every performance is a miracle?

Americans never tire of baseball. Each game is a separate experience in pleasure. Each "crucial" game is a high-water mark. Baseball players are an athletic breed apart. They have no counterparts in professional athletics.

It's no accident that foreigners are taken to baseball games when being made acquainted with the United States. They may not understand baseball any better than an American understands cricket, but what they fail to understand may shed as much light on America as what they do understand.

By the time the World Series has passed into the record books, the leaves will be falling off the trees, but another season will be under way long before they reappear.

It has been a long time since last Spring, but it will be no time at all until next Spring. The ball teams start their spring training in February.

That's the most cheerful thing there is to say at the end of another baseball season—the year the Yankees play the Reds for the prize. It all begins again late in February. It won't be long.

A New York psychologist has reiterated a theory long held by district veterinarians, along with Bob Croyle, city dog warden, and other canine experts.

Dr. Boris Levinson of Yeshiva University's psychological center says house pets, particularly dogs, are more important to man for psychological reasons than any other filling human needs for loyalty, trust, respect, obedience and submission.

Considering the cost of Rover's food, new collar for Christmas, flea spray and annual license fee, he is a very inexpensive form of psycho-therapy. Of course, Rover—lying peacefully in the sun—gets a lift, too, when he eyes some of the troubles and antics of his No. 1 patient.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

New York's Tammany Hall got the works from expert in firefighting. Fire Commissioner Ed Cavanagh directed the dismantling of Tammany Madison Ave. de luxe suite and opening of modest tepee in East 48th St.

He made sure the fire under former bosses wasn't put out. Cavanagh, familiar to TV fans for snappy interviews at Gothem blazes, may yet accuse Tiger of violating rules on exits, fire escapes, locked doors and excessive rubbish, if not arson.

Fireman notifies Cavanagh that Carmine DeSapio is trapped in smoke on top floor and is about to jump. "Don't stand for any delay. Tell him to jump. And see that a net with hole in it is stretched below," is order.

"There are other Tammany old timers in trouble," says fireman. "You're telling me!" exclaims Cavanagh.

"How about the furnishings? There's a chair Croker once sat in" remarks another member of the Wagner Volunteer Hose Company. "Use the axe on it," is order.

Oil portrait of Charlie Murphy is reported on wall. Cavanagh says, "Throw it out the window with DeSapio's shoes and other junk." "Big tiger skin on wall is in danger of smoke damage," says helper. "Rescue it and you'll be suspended from department," snaps fire chief.

"What about a collection of Indian feathers, Tammany tomahawks, beads and moccasins?" comes excited query, "Let 'em burn" orders Cavanagh, adding as an afterthought, "No, save the tomahawks. They may come in handy later for us"!

ALBIE PEARSON, baseball star, is also a singer and has made hit recordings of "I'm Still in Love With You" and "Anytime, Anyplace, Anywhere." How about "My Eyes Have Been On Pop Flies But My Mind Has Been on You," "I'm Always Chasing Doubles" and "In the Outfield of the Ballclub and the Infield of Your Heart"?

John A. McCone, new Central Intelligence chief, began his life as a riveter in a boiler shop. He will have to be quieter than this training would indicate.

The Original Cinderella Job Was Easy

Latter-Day Barnums Gyp Public

By Victor Riesel

HOUSTON, Tex.

After hedge-hopping this country of ours for some 5,000 miles, I find there are racketeers and racketeers. Not all use guns and muscle. Some pick the pockets of American families with a manicured finesse which nets more than a billion crooked dollars a year. These are the operators I had thought went out with Barnum's stuffed elephant.

Victor Riesel

They chisel the consumers, and mighty few people seem to care or are concerned over the fact that there are more consumers rackets — some of them literally lethal — than there are columns in a Greek ruin.

So I contacted a crusading fellow and said to hell with anonymity, let's expose this.

He is Leo Perlis, national director of the AFL-CIO's Community Service Activities. He too has been hedge-hopping. We made contact and he started by saying:

"You ask how much the American people are bilked yearly.

"I have found the best figures available come from the Association of Better Business Bureaus which estimates that in any one year about $500 million is spent for phony home repairs alone.

"ABOUT $100 MILLION is lost in dieting aids, pills etc. which couldn't reduce a cake of ice in a hothouse. About $200 million is thrown away on phony charities and causes of all kinds; about $50 million goes for quack cancer cures (and that's a low estimate); and about $100 million to $150 million is lost in stock frauds.

Throw in about $25 million in overcharges for spurious insurance. Then add in all the shoddy merchandise and phony services, the figures come to well over $1 billion a year out of the pockets of men and women who work for their wages and salaries."

Perlis was just warming up. "A major area," he said, "in which the public takes it on the chin is interest payments. Many people who think they're paying 6 per cent interest are shocked to find it is really 12 to 14 per cent.

For example, we have run into vacuum cleaners marked for sale at $69, or $2 per week a year. This adds up to $104. The customer is paying $35 for these 'easy payments.'

"In some cases, interest on this type of crooked sales, which hurts the legitimate retailers, runs as high as 50 per cent.

"Point out, will you, that these unethical merchants, who hurt the legitimate retailers, do not sell merchandise — but debts. In some cases the profit on the debt is higher than on the sale of merchandise."

I RAN INTO a lot of charity appeals during this trek. I found legitimate charities which are not doing much probing of all the men to whom they are throwing testimonial dinners — and which someday will be embarrassed. But these are not the ones about which I queried Mr. Perlis. I asked about the charity rackets.

"We estimated," he said, "that the people of Los Angeles waste $25 million each year on phony 'causes.'

"On the other coast, the people of New York City probably give some $40 million to these fakes. We have found that in some cases about 80 per cent to 90 per cent of the money raised for good causes, goes into the pockets of unscrupulous money raisers."

Perlis then added that no one force can fully police and educate at the same time in this field. Labor and management must work together — and do frequently.

"In Washington, D.C., representatives of the American Hotel Association joined with us in labor to fight for an order from the Agricultural Department on ham. We wanted the watering of ham curbed.

"Sound silly? It isn't. You'd be surprised how much weight that adds and how many dollars are spent for just water. Until Sept. 2, meat suppliers could legally add 10 per cent moisture to the ham. But we won. That's over."

PERLIS REELED OFF other instances. In Columbus, Ohio the Manufacturers Association, the Retail Merchants Association and the Better Business Bureau joined with the Community Services' labor people to fight for a better garnishee law. They won.

Now bad debts can be collected. But crooks can't put their hands on as much of the workers' wages as they did in the past, Perlis reckoned.

In Des Moines union members, taking one of the consumer counseling courses Perlis' group runs in some 35 cities, wanted advice on how to avoid fake stock shares. Labor people now want to invest their money in Wall Street. A special class was set up for investment opportunities. An instructor came from no less than Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith.

Today the labor people in these courses talk about stocks more fluently than they do about dues stamps. And no bucket shop operator gets a sou of their hard earned money.

So it is easy to learn how not to get taken. It isn't true that a sucker is born every minute. He's not born one, he's turned into one.

Clay Ready For Reds

By Warren Rogers

Gen. Lucius D. Clay has a number of tricks up his sleeve to convince the Russians that the American presence is in Berlin and intends to stay there.

These will become evident with time. Some, such as his trip by helicopter last week to the tiny American-zone enclave of Steinstuecken near Berlin in Communist territory, are minor in themselves. Others will have more significance.

Since Gen. Clay returned to Berlin as President Kennedy's personal representative, his occupation has been to catch up on the situation.

He spends long hours pouring over the voluminous files at American Mission Headquarters on Clay Allee, the street named for him in honor of his steadfastness during the 1948-49 Berlin blockade, when he was the American Military Commander in Germany.

He meets daily with the top American diplomatic and military leaders in Berlin.

He drives about town — on both sides of the concrete and barbed wire wall which divides it — in a big black limousine with the American flag proudly flapping from the right front fender. He is out to see for himself, but also to be seen.

OUT OF THIS process, a combination of homework and showmanship is evolving a program which, hopefully, will rebuild the somewhat bedraggled morale of the tough citizens of this island of democracy in a Communist sea. Whether it succeeds or not will depend ultimately upon two things:

1. The amount of support President Kennedy gives to the man to whom he seemingly has delegated great on-the-spot authority, and

2. Gen Clay's ability to win cooperation from the diplomatic and military officials whose domain, in a narrow sense, he has invaded and whom, in an even narrower sense, he has now superseded.

The quality of the American diplomatic representation in Berlin has not been high. The American government for years has not seen fit to send to Berlin enough top-drawer diplomats with the skill, prestige and authority to counter the lightning-fast moves of the Communists.

"When the East Germans threw up that barbed wire barrier on Aug. 13, we should have torn it down immediately," one highly qualified authority told me.

"If we had acted within hours, the Russians would have given in as they always do to a prompt, strong reaction in the German situation. But the Americans here, diplomatic and military lacked the authority. They had to go through channels for permission to act. By that time it was too late. Days had passed. To tear the wall down days later would have meant war, because Communist prestige was committed before the world. But the fact was then, and still is, that the wall is illegal."

GEN. CLAY has the authority to act immediately. He has a direct line of communication to Secretary of State Dean Rusk and, in an emergency, to President Kennedy himself.

He does not have to go through the American Embassy at Bonn or, militarily, through American headquarters at Stuttgart and North Atlantic Treaty headquarters at Paris. But he has a problem with the diplomatic and military chieftains here who are woefully uneasy because of his presence.

One example is the American patrol along the Autobahn from West Germany across East German territory to West Berlin.

Gen. Clay asked that these jeep patrols be doubled and trebled, as an exercise of the right of the Americans to decide for themselves how big this patrol should be. It took a lot of arguing within the family there, but Gen. Clay had his way.

Despite expressed fears of a Soviet reaction, none has yet been forthcoming.

The Naval Observatory in Washington is the nation's official timekeeper. The Navy got into timekeeping because navigators require accurate measurements of time so they could fix the position of the stars at any given instant.

Foreign Experts

Kennedy Friends Weaken U.S. Stand

Not long ago President Kennedy talked about the need for the press to be more careful about what it printed on military matters that might become useful to an enemy. But the President now finds himself in an embarrassing position because, while his secretary of defense has effectually muzzled military officers so that they can't discuss even abstract ideologies, no such restraint has been applied to members of the President's own party in Congress who make speeches that the Soviet government, for instance, can interpret as a sign of the weakening of American policy in the current negotiations.

David Lawrence

While Mr. Kennedy uses strong and resolute words, there are at least a half-dozen unofficial secretaries of state who give to the "unaligned" nations, as well as to the Soviets, the impression that Mr. Kennedy may retreat after all.

1. Sen. J. William Fulbright, Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told a news conference in London a few days ago that the United States is "not without fault" in the Berlin controversy. Just what he means isn't clear, but he gave the impression that the United States has done something to precipitate the Berlin crisis. He is also quoted as saying later that "a change in the status quo (in Berlin) might be mutually valuable" to East and West.

2. Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Minn., in London on a five-week fact-finding tour of Europe which will take him behind the Iron Curtain, told reporters questioning him about the Fulbright statement, that "our position has not changed a bit." He himself, however, only a day earlier in Rome had indicated that the United States might "negotiate" recognition of the temporary wartime boundry between Poland and East Germany as a permanent one.

Though he stressed that he does not speak for the secretary of state, the fact that Mr. Humphrey is assistant floor leader of the President's party in the Senate and chairman of the Senate disarmament subcommittee lends weight to his words and gives the "neutralist" world encouragement in their support of Moscow's position.

3. Sen. Mike Mansfield, Mont., floor leader of the Democratic party, also has repeatedly indicated that he thinks it would be all right to change the status of Berlin. He calls for a "free city" and concedes the possibility of a change in its status. The announced position of the United States involves no such concession.

4. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, Me., an influential member of the President's party in the Senate who recently returned from a visit to Berlin, has just told the press that the United States should consider the possibility of giving "de facto" recognition to East Germany.

He added: "A change in status for Berlin should be explored, but in no case should we agree to a change which might weaken Berlin economically, militarily or politically."

He said all this after conferring with Gen. Lucius Clay, President Kennedy's special representative in West Berlin, and declared he reached the conclusion that both Gen. Clay and President Kennedy "have no intention of sacrificing or compromising any vital interest of the United States."

The West Germans themselves indicate that they believe West Berlin will wither on the vine naturally and disintegrate from an economic standpoint if recognition is given to the East German government.

IN ADDITION to the foregoing spokesmen — whose words are carefully read in Moscow and doubtless interpreted as a sign that Mr. Kennedy will recede at the proper moment — there are others involved in incidents reported in the newspapers of the world.

Thus, Gen. Clay had an off-the-record conference a few days ago with press representatives, and afterward stories were printed that he, too, feels that "de facto" recognition of the East German government is inevitable. He later issued a statement denying that he had said anything which could lead to the belief that America's position on Berlin was weakening.

Then there was a statement in the press over the weekend by Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court of the United States, who has just returned from a visit to Outer Mongolia.

He urged that Outer Mongolia's government be immediately recognized by the United States and admitted promptly to the United Nations.

This happens to be at variance with the present policy of the Department of State and happens also to be something that antagonizes the Nationalist China government in Formosa on whose army America relies to help defend the Far East if another Korean - type war should arise there.

Mr. Douglas is known to be a Democrat and a friend of President Kennedy.

PUTTING IT all together, the Communists may well wonder whether these friends of the President and fellow members of his party are giving hints as to future policy.

Anyone who knows anything about diplomatic negotiation is aware that it's hard to negotiate if your adversary knows from the start that eventually you will give in anyway. All such comments naturally become news and are widely printed.

But one wonders whether these various spokesmen realize that, unlike the Republicans — who have a natural right to criticize and attack, and whose views are discounted abroad — they, as members of the President's own party, can by their utterances be construed to reflect the administration's real purposes despite its strong phrases.

One wonders also how much easier would be the task of the secretary of state, Dean Rusk, if he didn't have so many kibitzers formulating foreign policy for him in the press and over the world-wide radio waves.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Mrs. Paul Adams qualified as president of the Ladies Aid Society of the First Methodist Episcopal Church.

Lawrence Shapiro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Shapiro of Mulberry St., a freshman at Ohio State University, was pledged to Alpha Epislion Pi Fraternity.

J. Dick Porter of Chester defeated Porter Reardin, also of Chester, to capture the YMCA open tennis championship.

Gulf Of Mexico

Was the Gulf of Mexico once a dead sea bottled up by a land barrier?

Columbia University professors who studied the gulf for 10 months aboard the ocean research vessel "Vema" say there's evidence to indicate it was — 155,000,000 years ago.

The professors, Dr. Maurice Ewing and Dr. J. Lamar Worzel of Columbia's Lamont Geological Laboratory, say they have discovered about 20 formations under the gulf floor at its center which they believe to be salt domes.

If they are, said Ewing, "it means that at some time in the past the access of ocean water to the gulf was so restricted and the climate so dry that the body of water evaporated and deposited salt out in the deep part."

Ewing added that the discovery hints there may be oil deposits in sediment close to the domes, which are about 1,200 feet deep and rise from the earth's crust almost to the top layers of sediment under the ocean floor.

Profiles of the sediment layers were obtained by recording sound reflections from half-pound charges of TNT set off in the ocean every two minutes, the professor said. One member of the scientific team was killed by a blast in March.

LISBON — Kenneth V. Battles, agricultural engineer at Ohio State University, will visit farms in Columbiana County next Tuesday and Wednesday, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

Battles will give technical assistance on construction and remodeling of buildings. Anyone desiring the engineer to visit his farm should contact the extension office in Lisbon at once, Myers said.

Arraignment Set For 7 In Shakedown

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Arraignment is set Friday for seven persons — including four politically prominent—indicted by the Trumbull County grand jury in the alleged shakedown of contractors and others involved in city transactions.

All were named in secret indictments by the grand jury Monday on charges ranging from perjury to intimidation of grand jury witnesses. They have appeared before Common Pleas Court Judge G. H. Birrel and are free under bond.

Two Niles men — James Soda and Paul Lamonge—turned themselves in Tuesday. Soda, 47, a contractor, was charged with influencing a witness and perjury, and Lamonge, 48, was charged with intimidating witnesses and extortion.

The other five, booked Monday, are:

Frank A. Cickelli, 51, county Democratic Party chairman and a $4,500 - a - year member of the county board of elections; city councilmen Raymond J. Little, 49, Jack G. Flask, 53, and John Janosik, 40; and James Matash, 50, a bondsman.

Judge Birrell said most of the indictments stemmed from the testimony of officials of the construction firms awarded the $4.4 million contract for a sewer project.

Glasgow Street Work To Be Launched Soon

Commission On Aging Picked

Slayer Granted Reprieve; Ohio Pen Warden To Quit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has announced the reprieve of a condemned slayer, the impending resignation of Ohio Penitentiary's warden, and the appointment of a new 15-member Ohio Commission on Aging.

Clarence V. Ferguson, 19, of Cleveland, who was to have been electrocuted at Ohio Penitentiary Friday, got a 30-day reprieve to Nov. 3. The governor granted it, he said Tuesday, in the absence of a pardon and parole commission clemency report. The commission met before noon and reached a secret recommendation on clemency for Ferguson, but DiSalle said the report had not reached him by afternoon.

Beryle C. Sacks, the penitentiary warden, is resigning effective Nov. 1, the governor said in confirming earlier reports that Sacks planned to quit. DiSalle said Sacks gave health reasons for deciding to give up the $15,000-a-year post he took less than two years ago.

Ferguson was condemned to death and Louis (Slim) Thornton got a life sentence when a three-judge court tried them in the $5 robbery-slaying last March 4 of drug store operator Benjamin Kaufman, 62, in Cleveland.

Both Ferguson and Thornton are Negroes.

The new commission on aging will continue the work of the previous governor's commission established two years ago to prepare an Ohio report for the 1961 White House Conference on Aging. DiSalle noted that the White House conference recommended the states establish continuing commissions to survey and bring to public attention the problems of the increasing elderly population.

The commission members, civic leaders from government, business, labor and charitable organizations, are:

Ernest J. Bohn, Cleveland; Ronald Brown, Cleveland; W. B. Burr, Findlay; Vernon R. Burt, Lakewood; Mrs. Asa Butterfield, Cincinnati; Mrs. Richard Crouch, Dayton; Mrs. Charles B. Cushwa Jr., Youngstown; Andrew G. Freeman, Columbus; James P. Griffin, Youngstown; Mrs. Carl G. Jackson, Columbus; Mrs. Fred Lazarus Jr., Cincinnati; Mrs. Kathleen Lysaght, Elyria; Mrs. Mary Moss, Columbus; Herman Rosselott, Lynchburg, and Donald Zimmerman, New Philadelphia.

Several of them were on the former governor's commission for aging. Others were on advisory committees to the commission or to the White House conference.

Ohio Man Sentenced

CONNERSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Roy L. Gray, 35, of Dayton, Ohio, has been sentenced to six months on a state penal farm and fined $500 in connection with a traffic accident in which two Indiana National Guardsmen were killed.

Modern Matrons Install Officers At Annual Event

Installation of officers highlighted the annual business meeting of the Modern Matrons Club Monday night with Mrs. Lucille Monroe of Erie St. They are:

Mrs. Janice Southall, president; Mrs. Annie Mae Jones, secretary; Mrs. Winifred Jones, assistant secretary; Mrs. Dorothy Peters, financial secretary; Mrs. Monroe, treasurer, and Mrs. Mahala Richardson, petty fund chairman.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. Richardson, social; Mrs. Sara Johnson, program, and Mrs. Catherine Williams, membership.

Chairmen for the sick and shut-in visitation are Mrs. Verna Myers, Chester; Mrs. Josephine Spencer, East Liverpool, and Mrs. Callie Euill, Wellsville.

Mrs. Martha Brooks will be reporter and Mrs. Charlie Mae Scott, scrapbook chairman.

Mrs. Southall presided for business. An invitation was read from Mrs. Rozella Richardson, associate member, to visit her Oct. 21 at Massillon.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Next meeting is Nov. 6 with Mrs. Myers of Chester.

5 Girls To Seek Crown Of Queen At Homecoming

The queen will be chosen by a vote of the Senior Class but her identity will remain secret until halftime of the football game when she will be crowned by Dave Thorne, chairman of the Booster Club committee, which is sponsoring the affair.

A dance Saturday night, Oct. 14, in Memorial Auditorium will climax the homecoming weekend. The dance is open to students, guests and alumni.

Queen Aspirants To Be In Parade

The three candidates for Chester Homecoming Queen will take part in a parade to be held by the Chester High School Student Council Thursday afternoon, launching the weekend program.

Belva Boyd, Mary Oyster and Patti Taylor, seniors, are aspirants for the crown to be presented at half-time of the Chester-Warwood football game Friday night.

The two runnersup and Paula Gibbs and Grayce Pinney, juniors, will serve as the queen's court.

The parade will form at the high school at 7, moving over Carolina Ave., to 3rd St., to Virginia Ave. to 1st St., to Pennsylvania Ave. and on Indiana Ave. to 5th St., then to Florida Ave. and back to the high school.

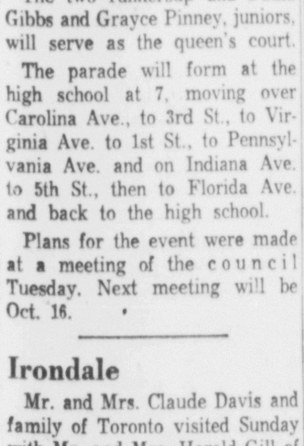

Plans for the event were made at a meeting of the council Tuesday. Next meeting will be Oct. 16.

Irondale

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Davis and family of Toronto visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gill of Irondale.

Randy Perkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perkins of Salt Run, is in City Hospital with an injury received last week while playing football.

THE REVIEW

Judge Louis Tobin Speaks For Event At St. Stephen's

Judge Louis Tobin was guest speaker for the opening fall dinner meeting of Circle 4 of Women of St. Stephen's Monday night in the Parish Hall of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church. Twenty - four attended.

Introduced by Mrs. Charles Larcombe, program chairman, he spoke on "Juvenile Delinquency." He told of the new receiving home for disturbed young people and how better discipline and moral education in the home can prevent many of the problems. He displayed pictures of conditions which produce a tendency for delinquency.

Mrs. Joseph Webber gave a meditation for the worship.

Mrs. C. Major Lampman, president, conducted business. The annual "Harvest Home" dinner is Oct. 16. There will be a sale of homemade aprons. Mrs. Ronald Mason will be in charge of the book sale. An exhibition of items of the church's history will be featured.

The united thank-offering service is Nov. 5. Blue boxes must be turned in to Mrs. Catherine Swan, chairman, before then.

Members were reminded to turn in sales tax stamps. The rummage sale is Oct. 31-Nov. 1 at the rear of the City Market Building. Articles may be brought in from 2 to 5 o'clock the day preceding. Mrs. John Eccleston and Mrs. Richard Smith are co-chairmen.

World Community Day, sponsored by United Church Women, will be held Nov. 3 at the church. Mrs. Gilbert Appelhoff of Berea, diocesan workshop chairman, will be speaker.

Mrs. William E. Dunlap Jr. reported on the regional meeting held in the afternoon at Steubenville which 10 members of the circle attended.

An invitation was read to attend the Guest Night observance of St. Margaret's Guild Oct. 23. Mrs. Alex Fisher will be speaker.

The dinner was arranged by Mrs. Frank Oyster, Mrs. Richard Bourne, Mrs. Ruth Kind and Mrs. Betty Hist. The Rev. Marc A. Nocerino, rector, was a guest.

Atty. William H. Vodrey Jr. will be guest speaker for the meeting Nov. 6. Mrs. Harry Brindley will have devotions. Mrs. James Bowen, Mrs. Clifford Hindley and Mrs. Dunlap Jr. are hostesses.

Pie meringue looks best, as a rule, when it's put on in swirls. Make the swirls, if the meringue is very smooth after it's spread, with the back of a spoon.

Pastor From South Brazil Speaks To Episcopal Unit

The Rev. Ernst Bernhoeft of the Diocese of South Brazil was guest speaker for the meeting of the Episcopal Church Women of the Ohio Valley Region Monday at St. Stephen's Church in Steubenville.

Born in Germany, he escaped to Brazil in 1936. Rector of the Holy Spirit Parish at Montenegro, he was graduated from the Port Alegre Theological Seminary. His talk centered on education of young people. Schools he was instrumental in organizing from 1951 until 1961 were a boys and girls school, an elementary school, a junior high, a senior high, a teachers' school and an industrial school. Proclaimed an honorary citizen of Montenegro, he gave the closing prayer in his native tongue.

He was a member of the delegation which attended the 60th Triennial General convention held Sept. 11-29 at Detroit. Other members of the Diocesan Board, who attended the convention and reported, were Mrs. Robert Gray of Hudson, president of the Ohio Diocese; Mrs. Frank Burnett of Sandusky, vice president, and Mrs. Albiun Sadd of Cleveland, treasurer.

They were introduced by Mrs. William E. Dunlap Jr., a member of the Diocesan Board.

Mrs. Gray spoke on "The Church Speaks and the Church Acts;" Mrs. Burnett, "Issues of the Convention," and Mrs. Sadd "United Thank-Offering Reports."

She said the offering this year amounted to $4,339,190.81, the largest ever presented, and Ohio women contributed a record $92,239.

The delegation has been touring the 11 regions of the Ohio Diocese, explaining the issues and giving the highlights.

Luncheon was served by women of the host church.

The forenoon program included Holy Communion with the Rev. Thomas Pateman, rector, presiding, and the Rev. David Pumphrey of St. Paul's Church, celebrant.

Mrs. T. J. Cox conducted the worship.

Mrs. James Paisley of St. Stephen's Church of East Liverpool, president, presided for business.

Named to the finance committee were Mrs. John Kirk and Mrs. James Bates of Steubenville, Mrs. Charles Larcombe of East Liverpool and Mrs. William Rager of Wellsville.

Among the 75 attending, 21 were from East Liverpool. The Rev. and Mrs. Marc A. Nocerino were guests.

Room Visitation Held For Meeting Of PTA

Visitation of the rooms to get acquainted with the teachers featured the meeting of the MacDonald Parent - Teacher Association of Wellsville Monday night.

Mrs. Mina Hitt, president, named the following committee chairmen:

Mrs. Jennie Kessel, social; Mrs. Ethel Clark and Mrs. Alice Pickens, co-chairmen of ways and means; Mrs. Arlene Stoll, telephone, membership and home-room representative, and Mrs. Sue Cornwell, publicity.

Thomas McClain, a student, read Ps. 23 for devotions and the ways and means committee discussed plans for a bazaar prior to Christmas. Mrs. Glenn Mathess' fourth grade won the attendance banner. Next meeting is Nov. 6 at 8 p. m. in the all-purpose room.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer D. Hoffman of the Lincoln Highway, he is a 1961 graduate of East Liverpool High School.

Carl Bevington, past master councilor of the Dillon Crist chapter of Alliance, and state aide to the state senior councilor, will seat officers.

Mrs. Eric Young of the DeMolay Mothers' Circle will be in charge of a reception to follow.

Chester Club Is Rated First

The Chester Kiwanis Club ranked first in achievement reports in the division for August, Raymond Stevens, club secretary, reported at a meeting Tuesday night at the City Hall.

Stevens also read letters of appreciation from the Park Commission for $89 the club's sale at the park bazaar netted, the Band Mothers for articles left over from the sale, and the East Liverpool Child Counseling Center for a contribution of $10.

J. Paul Finley, president-elect, reported on the state convention Sept. 24-26 at Black Water Falls. Dr. Frank Bragg, Chester dentist, was inducted as a member in a ceremony held by Alvin Fineman.

Plans were completed for members and guests to attend the opening hockey game at Pittsburgh Oct. 4 between Pittsburgh and Buffalo. A special bus will leave the City Hall at 6:15 p. m.

Further plans were made for the annual public pancake supper Nov. 1-2 at the City Hall. Tickets are now available from members. The invocation was given by the Rev. Donald Vogel.

Russell Davis, president, was in charge.

Note to kitchenette cooks: if there's no biscuit cutter in the house you can use a small tumbler for cutting out rounds; or cut the biscuit dough (made from a mix) into squares or diamonds.

15 At Event At Clarkson

Fifteen attended a meeting of the United Presbyterian Womens Association of the Clarkson United Presbyterian Church Tuesday night in the annex.

Plans were made for a Famliy Night program Nov. 17 with color slides and a luncheon.

Reports were heard from those who attended the fall meeting of the Presbytery yesterday at East Palestine. They included Mrs. Ruth Daiger, Mrs. Velma Watson, Mrs. Lenore Huff, Mrs. Mildred Hole and Mrs. Mildred Welce.

Mrs. Hole was in charge of devotions. Mrs. Mazie Gilham and Mrs. Iverness Betts served lunch. Next meeting is Nov. 7 with Mrs. Otis Gibson as hostess.

Officers of the Clarkson and Elkrun Granges will be installed by Jack Pozenel of West Point, county deputy master, at a meeting of the Clarkson Grange Thursday night at the Grange Hall. Lunch will be served.

The Mothers Club of the Rogers School will meet Thursday afternoon at 1 (EST).

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Daiger spent Sunday with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wolfe, and family of New Middleton.

Wellsville Cubs Set Masquerade

A masquerade party for cubs and their families will follow the next meeting of Cub Pack 20 of Wellsville in the Covenant United Presbyterian church, according to plans made at a committee meeting Monday night.

The date will be announced later since the meeting falls on the same night as the community Halloween celebration. Prizes will be awarded for costumes, refreshments will be served.

Plans for the October theme, "Sleepy Hollow," were discussed and each den will present skits. John Smith, cubmaster, served as moderator in the absence of Chauncey Whiteman, pack committee chairman. Ten attended.

Lee Crooks, activities chairman, will arrange for the cubs' visitation of the fire station during Fire Prevention Week Sunday through Oct. 14.

St. Clair CD Unit Due To Offer Home Course

About 35 attended a public meeting of the St. Clair Civil Defense unit Tuesday night at the Glenmoor fire station.

Further plans were discussed for a home preparedness course which may be started at the next meeting Oct. 17 with members of the Women's Civil Defense Council of East Liverpool participating.

Herman Heiney, director, was in charge.

Archbishop Claimed

2 Senators Disagree On Nixon Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican senators disagreed today on whether Richard M. Nixon's decision to seek the California governorship eliminates him as a possibility for the GOP presidential nomination in 1964.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., who identifies himself with the liberal element of the GOP, said he is accepting at face value Nixon's statement that he is not a candidate and won't be the next Republican nominee.

"I'm glad he's running for governor and I accepted what he said about 1964," Case said.

But Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., who lines up with conservatives, said in a separate interview he is certain that if Nixon is elected governor of California there will be a movement to draft him for the 1964 presidential nomination.

"I don't think you can count him out of the running at all," Mundt said. "If he is elected governor, he will be a powerful force in the next convention. No California governor is going to be ignored by his party."

Republican leaders who have studied the transcript of Nixon's Sept. 27 announcement at a news conference have noted that he didn't entirely rule out the possibility of a 1964 draft. He limited himself to saying he would not be a candidate for the nomination and didn't expect to get it.

Building Permits Hit $70,000 In Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Two new homes were among construction projects for which $70,000 worth of building permits were issued in September, officials reported today.

The major projects were new homes planned by Mr. and Mrs. James Fruit on East St. and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Rhodes on High St. The other seven permits were for smaller additions and improvements.

Kenev Warns Commander Of U.S. Army

BERLIN (AP) — Marshal Ivan S. Konev, commander of Soviet forces in East Berlin, has warned the U.S. Army commander in Europe against taking any action that might upset prospects of East-West talks on Berlin.

This was announced Tuesday night by a Soviet Embassy spokesman. There were reports the tough, aging marshal was complaining about the resumption of U.S. military police patrols on the autobahn linking West Berlin with West Germany — 110 miles away.

The Soviet spokesman said Konev's letter was sent to Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, commander of the U.S. Army in Europe, under whose orders the patrols were resumed Sept. 23 after a nine-year lapse.

The patrols were resumed after two U.S. soldiers were detained on the autobahn for six hours by East German Communist police. The action was, in effect, a warning to East Germany to keep hands off U.S. military traffic to Berlin.

Konev took the line that any undue steps by U.S. authorities might rock the boat and ruin prospects for a peaceful settlement of the Berlin issue, the Soviet spokesman said.

Former commander of the Warsaw Pact armies, Konev was pulled from retirement for the East German assignment in August after tension rose over Berlin and the Soviet threat to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany. Such a treaty, the Soviets warn, would place Allied lifelines to Berlin under the control of the East Germans.

A U.S. Army spokesman at Clarke's Heidelberg headquarters confirmed that the general had received a message from Konev and had answered it.

Now! You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain—you want relief—want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation following wrong food and drink—often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.

Doan's Pills work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains, 2. by soothing effect on bladder irritation, 3. by mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

The current key to the future growth of vending machines is the automatic currency changer, which will change $1 and $5 bills and reject counterfeits. Use of these units in conjunction with a battery of vending machines is expected to open almost unlimited opportunities for greater sales volume of vending machines.

Lawyers Charge Illegal Practice

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court injunction is being sought by the committee on unauthorized law practices of the Columbiana County Bar Association to keep a Salem financial agent from practicing law.

In a suit filed Tuesday, the committee claims Louis J. Raymond Jr. of the Mutual Discount Co. of Salem made a demand for a payment from Floyd Albright, threatening to sue on behalf of a creditor, William Goetz.

The petition also states Raymond sought a statement for personal earnings from Albright, stating that failure to comply would result in an attachment upon his wages.

The committee seeks an injunction against Raymond's threat to sue, contending that he will continue to do so unless restrained.

United Fund Kickoff Set

The "kickoff" meeting for the United Fund drive of the Midland Area Combined Charities will be held Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the Music Forum of Lincoln High School.

The meeting was postponed from last Monday evening due to the "Salute to Crucible" parade, other meetings and the need for further information on the house-to-house canvass, Nile H. Wain, secretary said.

The campaign for a goal of $45,471 began Monday and ends Oct. 30. Most phases of the drive are in progress and the mill solicitations are expected to begin soon.

The house canvass will follow completion of the mill solicitation.

The Beaver County goal is $699,345 to aid 41 agencies. Midland area was the first to reach its goal last year and was the area achieving the greatest percentage, going over its goal.

Robert C. Kelker, superintendent of the electrical department of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. is general campaign chairman, and Joseph D'Alesio, president of Steelworkers Local 1212 at Crucible, is co-chairman.

Crucible Aide Is Speaker

Secretary Group Honors 'Bosses'

Glenn B. Roberts, superintendent of community relations of the Crucible Steel Co. of Midland, was guest speaker at the first annual "Boss' Night" dinner meeting of the East Liverpool Area Chapter of the National Secretaries Association Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel. Forty-eight attended.

He is shown flanked by Mrs. June Chisler, right, vice president and program chairman, and Miss Susan Graff, president.

Using the subject, "Citizenship for Today," he pointed out how each individual must be responsible to himself, his neighbor, his community and nation.

In commending the secretaries, he said it has been established that they hold a broader interest in community enterprises that any other group.

The Rev. John L. Clark, pastor of the First Methodist Chruch, gave the invocation. Miss Graff extended the welcome and he introduced her employer, Alton G. Weber, plant chief of the Ohio Telephone Co., who gave the "boss' response."

Mrs. Chisler was mistress of ceremonies and introduced guests, officers of the Ohio Division, Mrs. Virginia Price of Columbus, president; who congratulated the group on the formation of the chapter and brought greetings from the state organization; Miss Arlene Farnham of Canton, vice president, and Miss Helen Gaylord, of Akron, corresponding secretary, and others, Paul Daley, manager of profit and improvement program of Crucible Steel; Rev. Clark, and Mrs. Clara Hall, society editor of The Review.

The group read "The Code of Ethics" in unison and each introduced her "boss." Prizes were won by Atty. G. William Brokaw, Elmer Eiferd, Dr. John Hayes, Rev. Clark, Thomas Eason and Mrs. Bea Boughner.

The chapter will hold a bake sale Oct. 14 at Crooks Furniture Co. Announcement was made of the regional conference scheduled Oct. 27-29 at the Commodore Perry Hotel in Toledo. Mrs. Sarah Dickey, treasurer, is taking reservations.

A secretarial workshop is being sponsored by the Marion Chapter Nov. 11 at the Holiday House in Marion. Those planning to attend may contact Miss Graff.

The tables were decorated with fall flowers and leaves. Favors were carnation boutonnieres. Program booklets featured a gold and brown theme.

Next meeting is Nov. 7 at the hotel. John McNeil, representative of the J. C. Penney Co. of the Northern Lights Shopping Center, will demonstrate gift wrapping and decorating.

E. J. Gill Chosen In Choir Parents Opening Session

E. J. Gill was elected president to succeed Lincoln Varian, at the first fall session of the East Liverpool High School Choir Parents Tuesday evening in the Memorial Auditorium choir rooms. Varian has moved from the area.

Ed Dailey vice president, opened the meeting, followed with introduction of new members and appointment of committees.

Committees include membership, Mrs. William Jennings, chairman, and Mrs. C. H. Bryan, co-chairman; basketball programs, Ferguson Kind, chairman, assisted by Ed Dailey, Harold Sneddon, Francis Lang, Dan Golden, Harry Davis and Joseph Zubay; booster memberships, Mrs. Earl Applegate and Mrs. Mary Hughey, and program sale, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hacker.

Several fund - raising projects were discussed.

Next meeting is Oct. 24 at 7:30 p. m. when the Concert Choir will present the Gilbert and Sullivan musical, "Trial by Jury." Brief business will be conducted.

Red Raids Explode Into Viet Nam War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Communist guerrilla raids into South Viet Nam have exploded into a real war that is killing 1,500 persons a month, the State Department reports.

Joseph W. Reap, State Department press officer, also kidnaping of Ci. Hoang Thuy Nam, South Viet Nam's representative on the International Control Commission, more "evidence of Communist contempt for ICC and Communist reliance on terror as method of operation."

Irondale Man's Trial Will Be Held Monday

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said today he will begin criminal trials Monday with Slade Brandle, 26, of Irondale, indicated by the January Grand Jury for non-support of his four minor children.

Brandle was not located after being indicted secretly but was apprehended later and pleaded innocent.

The second case will be Dale Carnes of Wellsville, accused of burglary of the John Kuta radio repair shop, 1007 Center St., Wellsville.

The third case is David Bailey, 18, of Klondyke, accused of operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

Thirty prospective jurors, along with grand jurors who were not used, will report at 9:30 a. m. Monday for jury duty before Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Phone Booth Looted

Salineville Band Nets $700 From Tag Drive

SALINEVILLE — Charles Temple, Salineville High School band director, said today an estimated $700 was netted in a Tag Day held Friday and Saturday by band members in the Southern Local School District areas. The collection was about $140 over the 1960 Tag Day, he said.

At a meeting of the Band Boosters Tuesday afternoon at the school, further plans were made for a public smorgasbord dinner to be held Oct. 14 at the high school in connection with the homecoming celebration.

Committee appointments were arranged. About 15 attended. Next meeting is Oct. 17.

23 Due For Induction In October Draft Calls

LISBON — Twenty-three Columbiana County men are due for induction into the armed forces at Cleveland in two October draft calls.

Draft board 16 will forward a 15-man quota Tuesday and an eight-man group Oct. 24.

Forty-four will be sent for preinduction physical examinations on Oct. 19, according to Mrs. Elaine Griffith, clerk.

Ohio Township Cubs Appear In Uniforms

Walter Schuffert, cubmaster for Ohio Township Cub Pack 426, announced the boys were to wear their uniforms today in observing National Boy Scout Week.

The theme for the next pack meeting Oct. 27 will be "Sleepy Hollow." Parents and cubs are to come masked for the Halloween party meeting in the all-purpose room of the Fairview School.

Another den mother and several assistants are needed, Schuffert said. Anyone interested may contact him.

1,200 Inspect Exhibit Of CD

About 1,200 have visited the air raid shelter trailer on Midland Ave., Midland, which has been on display since Monday and leaves tonight about 8, Daniel Orlando, Midland Civil Defense director, said.

He said the CD was disappointed in the amount of interest shown.

The CD will sponsor a radiological school beginning Monday at 7 p. m. at Lincoln High School in Room 201. The class will be held every Monday for 13 weeks.

All phases of radiation fallout will be taught and any interested person in Midland, Industry and Ohio View may attend.

Daniel Orlando Jr. and Tony Nutz Jr. will be the instructors. Both took radiological instructor courses held last summer by the Beaver County Civil Defense.

The Midland unit met Monday evening in Council Chambers in the Borough Building. New members include Mrs. Josephine Gypalo, Mrs. Anna Huff, Mrs. Fran-M. Felekey, Mrs. Mildred Robinson, Mrs. Sylvania Krakar, Mrs. Goldie Scalera and Mrs. Retha Steel.

Next meeting is Nov. 6.

Personal Property Tax Hits $499,465

LISBON — A total of $499,465 has been collected in personal property tax for the first half of 1961, according to Vincent C. Judge, county treasurer.

To date, $446,495 was paid in general tax and $52,969 in classified, and Tuesday will be the closing date for this tax.

Judge said it is hoped the current collection, along with delinquent payments, will reach $1,290,000.

Crucible Aide Speaks

EAST PALESTINE — "A Short Look at Automation" was the theme of a talk by James Buchanan of E. North Ave. at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday at Mackall's Restaurant. He discussed the electronic control systems at the Crucible Steel Co. "hot strip" mill at Midland, where he is an aide.

Pacific Paradise Loaf Will Make Big Hit

A peek through the window reveals an elegant cake just fresh from the oven that's absolutely irresistible. Pacific paradise loaf may truly be described as "out of this world."

The chocolate-filled three layer coconut loaf cake, made from a cake mix that has toasted coconut right in it, is just perfect for that special occasion.

Bake toasted coconut cake mix in greased and floured jelly roll pan, 15½x10½x1", for 22 to 28 minutes. Cool. Cut into three 10x5" pieces.

Cook 1 pkg. chocolate pudding with 1 tsp. gelatin, reducing milk to 1¾ cups. Cool thoroughly. Use as filling between pieces of cake. Frost cake with whipped cream mixture (below). Decorate top with ½ cup toasted coconut. Chill.

Whipped Cream Mixture: Whip 1½ cups whipping cream with ¼ cup sifted confectioners' sugar until stiff. Fold in 2 tsp. gelatin which has been dissolved in 2 tbsp. warm water.

Slander Suit Withdrawn

LISBON — A $50,000 suit for slander filed by former East Palestine Police Chief Richard Lotze against Mrs. Virginia Mast of Leetonia was withdrawn Tuesday in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon.

Lotze, who was dismissed from his post June 1 by Mayor Robert Harding on nine charges ranging from insubordination to improper conduct, had filed the action against Mrs. Mast for testimony in a Civil Service Commission hearing on his dismissal.

Mrs. Mast later filed counter charges, denying the testimony she gave was malicious.

The commission found Lotze guilty of six counts of misconduct in office, and he subsequently filed an appeal of the ruling in Common Pleas Court.

Mrs. Mast had testified the former chief had made improper advances to her and that his reputation had suffered.

Hancock's Child Council Accepts 4 New Members

Four new members were enrolled when the North Hancock County Council for Retarded Children met Tuesday night in Chester American Legion home.

They are Mrs. Flossie Whittington of Newell Rebekah Lodge 74; Mrs. Peggy Mangano, teacher of a special class at Jefferson School in Newell; Mrs. Josephine Tate of the auxiliary of New Cumberland Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Mrs. Ramona Hinds of New Cumberland.

Mrs. Whittington will donate refreshments and aid the teacher in a birthday party this week for pupils in the special class.

Mrs. Mangano talked on class activities and answered questions of parents. The council authorized purchase of necessary supplies for the classroom and gifts for the birthday party.

Mrs. Callie Tsapis reported in a letter that books of the organization have been audited. A report was represented on the sale of Halloween candy.

Democrat Club Slates Salineville Coverdish

SALINEVILLE — Plans for a coverdish dinner for members and guests Nov. 7 were made at a meeting of the Salineville Democrat Club Tuesday night at the American Legion home.

The dinner will be held at the Legion hall on the night of the general election. Mrs. Mary Sweeney, president, was in charge. About twelve attended.

City, Industry Autos Damaged In Mishap

Two cars were damaged in a collision Tuesday at 2 p. m. on Walnut St. 25 feet south of Potters Alley, police reported.

The mishap involved a 1954 station wagon operated by Genevieve V. Fordyce, 40, of 831 Avondale St. and a 1955 four-door sedan driven by Andrew Vohar, 34, of 406 Grandview Ave., Industry, officers said.

Vohar told police he was halted for a traffic signal when his car was hit from behind. The woman motorist said the line of traffic began to move and she put her car in motion, thinking the light had changed, but Vohar's car was motionless.

Hodges Wishes Some Areas Would Pull Out Of Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges said Tuesday he wished a lot of officially designated depressed areas would pull out of the federal aid program and conduct their own economic development projects.

Hodges, who argued strongly for federal aid to hard-hit sections earlier in the year, was surprisingly vehement in telling a news conference that the program has its shortcomings. His remarks were the more surprising because his department designates the areas and administers the program.

"I think psychologically it's bad to be called a depressed area," Hodges said.

The secretary said that if he were chairman of a county commission he would urge withdrawal from the federal program and recommend that the local people do the job on their own.

He said the country would be better off if a lot of the designated areas took this attitude.

Asked if an area would be authorized to pull out of the program Hodges said, "I think they could pull out. I wish a lot of them would pull out."

Some designated counties have objected to their classification as economically lagging areas. Hodges said these mainly have been rural counties placed on the list because of low farm income.

The Commerce Department's Area Redevelopment Administration channels loans and grants to depressed sections. Only two transactions have been approved to date, one to Gassville, Ark., and the other to Cambridge, Md. These communities received a total of $373,300 in loans and grants.

Cincinnati U. Bares $2 Million In Grants

CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Cincinnati has received almost $2 million in grants and bequests since the last board of trustees meeting in June, according to President Walter C. Langsam.

The biggest single grant, he said was $717,857 from the Air Force for research in aerospace engineering and chemical and metallurgical engineering.

Wreck Injuries Fatal

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)— Injuries suffered in a traffic accident last Friday night have proved fatal to Mrs. Caroline Lesher, 71, Franklin. She had been struck by a car as she crossed a street near her home.

New Public Defender Named In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gerald S. Gold, 30, is Cleveland's new public defender for the Legal Aid Society, succeeding Merle M. McCurdy, who will be sworn in Friday as U.S. attorney.

Gold had been McCurdy's chief assistant since the office was founded in March, 1960. Gold has experience in private practice of criminal law, teaches at Western Reserve University Law-Medicine Center and instructs policemen from Cuyahoga, Lorain and Lake counties in criminal law.

Girl Killed By Car

Wellsville Request Aired

Molasses Barge Landings Sought

A request for permission to tie up molasses barges for a tank port was made to Wellsville Council Tuesday night by Adam Mort Glenmoor realtor, who indicated that a truck terminal apparently is planned.

He mentioned the location about 100 feet downriver from the docks of the Wellsville Boat Club and said he is representing the Miami Barge Lines, which desires to construct a tank port to handle the molasses.

MORT WAS informed the Boat Club owned the river bank but the matter was referred to the property committee and solicitor as the pumping operations would entail running lines across a city street.

Mort said the barge line has an option on property between 18th and 19th Sts. on Riverside. He said three or four tanks 40 feet in diameter would be constructed. The barge would be at the site about two days every six weeks to unload. The molasses then would be pumped from the tanks into tanker trucks.

He presented the names of R. C. Lindey of Cincinnati and Ben Snyder of Chicago as the partners in the Miami Barge Line. Mort said the firm believed it had a deal for a site near the Dacar Chemical Co. in East End, East Liverpool, but the move was blocked by East Liverpool Council.

LESTER Jarvis of Broadway was granted permission to break curbing on Commerce St. for a driveway for a garage. It was authorized previously, but the formal request by letter was not received until last night.

Following a lengthy discussion into financing, Council voted to authorize Safety - Director William S. Robinson to grant a contract to the lowest bidder for the plowing of a section along Main St. between 12th and 13th Sts. for the planting of multifloral roses as a city beautification project.

Council agreed previously to do the project if money was available. Councilman Donald Miller, finance chairman, said the general fund was nearly depleted and could not authorize the expenditure.

ON A MOTION from Councilman William Stroble, seconded by Councilman Clarence Cartwright, Council voted to proceed, using money from the general fund. Stroble said it will cost about $150, including the roses. Councilman Miller and George Mackall opposed the move. Mackall said the area should be opened for parking.

On recommendation from Stroble, street and light chairman, his committee was directed to investigate a traffic problem at Buckeye and Aten Aves., the scene of several auto accidents.

Stroble said he was informed by the Ohio Power Co. it has adopted a new system to permit businesses to install lights on poles within the city limits. Council asked that an official attend the next meeting to fully explain the program.

FOLLOWING a discussion as to costs and feasibility, Robinson was asked to check with the State Highway Department as to whether or not it can paint a double yellow line on lower Clark Ave. The line was painted last spring, but has worn off.

Mackall reported he has received complaints of odors from the city sewage disposal plant. Robinson said there are times when an odor is noticeable, regardless of the action of the operation. He explained the operation and the various reasons why odors occur.

Mackall said he visited the city dump off Route 39 and said it is in very good condition. Councilman Paul Nelson complained of motorists parking in no parking zones on Center St. between 14th and 15th Sts. and on 9th St. between Center and Main.

Cartwright complained of the same condition on Oak Alley and Appian Way. Robinson said he would check. Nelson commended Robinson for recent repair work on Center St.

Cartwright also reported a traffic problem at 10th and Lisbon Sts. and of seeing cars and trucks "cheating" on the four-way stop light at 9th and Center.

COUNCILMAN Robert Taggart said he is to meet with a property owner on obtaining an easement for the city so workers can park equipment near the water standpipe on the hillside above Highland Ave.

Stroble said the city is not moving fast enough on the easement. Robinson said he feels the city should obtain an amiable easement and not try to force the issue.

Robinson reported on the condition of standpipe, which is scheduled for repairs.

Miller said Council has not gone on record against any proposal by the State Highway Department for relocation of Route 7 through Wellsville as reported by William McKenna, Division 11 engineer, in a recent news release. Miller said Council has never received any proposal.

COUNCILMAN Aguin Bowling said that for clarification, Council did not turn down the Buckeye Ave. route but only voted against sending its street and light committee to Columbus.

Reference was made to an article in The Review in which McKenna was said to have reported Council at Wellsville could not make up its mind. Mayor William J. Shoub said the city never has received a formal proposal from the state at any time.

Robinson reported the road into the city filtration plant will be repaired next week.

The mayor's report for September showed a total of $1,058.20 collected in fines and fees.

2 Boys In Home Entry To Face Lisbon Court

Two East Liverpool boys are scheduled for hearings Thursday at 1:30 p. m. before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon on charges they attempted to burglarize a vacant Green Ln. home Sunday morning.

Probation Officer Chris Pusey set the hearings for the two when they appeared before him Tuesday at City Hall. The two, 12 and 13, are accused of entering a home at 821 Green Ln. owned by Mrs. Thelma Goodley, who now resides in Florida.

Police said they received a tip the two youngsters had forced entry to the house and an officer nabbed the pair in the act of ransacking. Entry was forced via a basement door, police said.

West Point Church Will Conduct Revival

Revival services will get under way tonight at 7:30 at the West Point Church of the Nazarene and will continue through Oct. 15.

The Rev. Billy Smith of Cambridge will be the evangelist. His wife travels with him and assists in the services, especially in children's work.

Irondale Girl Hurt In Fall

A 3-year-old Irondale girl, hurt in a fall, was admitted Tuesday to City Hospital, where four other area youngsters and adults were treated yesterday.

Donna Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson, is in "fairly good" condition today with bruises and possible fractures of the skull and collarbone received on a fall down steps.

Jean Chaney of Route 30 near Chester, employe of the Edwin M. Knowles China Co., received a laceration of the right eye when a particle of ware struck her face.

Mrs. May Talbott, 34, of Salineville R.D. 1 was treated for a wound of a finger in which a fish hook became embedded while she was taking down a clothesline in the basement.

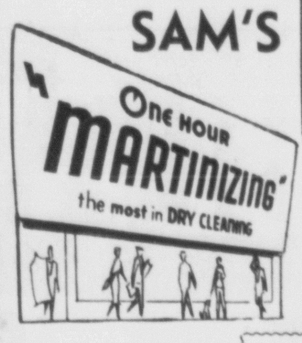

Commissioners Snub Soldiers, Sailors Aid

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Hamilton County commissioners have refused to appropriate $317,276 to the county soldiers and sailors relief commission in spite of an order by Common Pleas Court Judge Otis Hess.

Commissioner Vincent H. Beckman said the commissioners will seek a new trial and that no more money will be granted to the relief group until the legal dispute is settled. The relief group sued the commissioners when the county failed to meet its budget request this year.

WE CHEERFULLY WELCOME ALL COUNTY WELFARE AND RELIEF ORDERS

South Beaver Board Adopts 3 Textbooks

Three textbooks were adopted at a meeting of the Southern Beaver County Joint Board of Education Monday evening at South Side High School near Hookstown.

Victor Thomas, supervising principal, said books adopted for the secondary school are on Earth and Space Science for a new 10th grade course this year, a new English grammar and composition book and a new math text, both for the seventh and eighth grades.

A notice was reported received from the State Public School Building Authority that bonds for the high school addition, amounting to $586,720 have been sold and the interest rate will be 3.68536 per cent. Thomas said there was a savings since the rate was expected to be 4 per cent.

Several requests were approved. The Varsity Club will hold a donkey basketball game either Nov. 10 or Nov. 17 and the school's PSEA group will send a delegate to the teacher conference Oct. 27-28 at Bedford Springs.

Carl Walcott, elementary principal, was given permission to attend an elementary principals' conference Oct. 26-28 at the Pittsburgh Hilton Hotel.

The sixth grade will visit the Carnegie Museum, Phipps Conservatory and the Zoo at Pittsburgh on or about April 19, 1962.

Two teachers, Eileen Karcher of Imperial and Jane R. Jackson of Burgettstown, were added to the high school substitute list.

Board members discussed Senate Bill 867 pertaining to larger school units but reached no definite conclusions.

Lady Elks Push Ticket Sales For Harvey Address

They may be purchased at Heimies, Mabel's Beauty Shop, Patterson's Sunoco Station, Owen Hardware in East End and The Teapot in Chester.

The committee, Mrs. J. B. Maley Jr., chairman, Mrs. R. J. Lamborn, Mrs. Jack Eccleston, Mrs. Samuel Webber, Mrs. James Bowen, Mrs. W. E. Dunlap Jr. and Mrs. Richard Heddleston, will be at Ogilvie's Store Thursday from 10:30 a. m. to 8 p. m. to sell the tickets.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet has issued a proclamation designating Saturday as "Paul Harvey Day" to recognize the radio broadcaster's visit to the city.

His special field is news, but foremost he is an analyst, sponsors said. His scope embraces the full range of human concerns, including political and business progress, history, economics, literature and art. Millions have read his books, heard his lectures and listened to his commentaries, the auxiliary said.

The Sweet Adelines, Inc. under the direction of Glenn Woods, will present a program of barbershop selections preceding the speaking.

Proceeds will go to the charity program of Lady Elks.

Hancock ASC Plans Counting Of Ballots

Ballots will be counted Wednesday morning by the Hancock County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee in the annual election-by-mail of new committee members.

Mrs. Norma Murray, office manager, said the committee will meet at 9:30 in the ASC office in New Cumberland.

County farmers received ballots in the mail Sept. 22. To be elected are three regular members and two alternates.

Charles C. Herron, Carl Allison and Shields Mayhew, all of Pughtown, are regular members, and the two alternates are Harry Nichol and Donald Allison.

Mrs. Murray reported her office now is open daily from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. She was placed on a half-day schedule in July 1959.

Psychologist Speaks To Club At Wellsville

Robert McNamara, psychologist for the Wellsville and East Liverpool school systems, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at Piatt's Tea Room.

He outlined his duties and the testing programs. A question-and-answer period followed.

Twenty-two were present. Charles Wilfing, president, presided. Two members of the Wellsville High School Key Club were guests.

It was announced the Board of Directors will meet Friday noon at Meade's Restaurant.

Complaints Lead To Movie Closing

A planned second-night screening of two movies which reveal considerable amounts of bare skin was canceled Tuesday night at the Salem Drive-In Theater after residents of the area threatened legal action.

"No Movie" read the title at the theater marquee last night after Jack Vogel of Wellsville, operator of the theater just east of Salem, agreed to suspend the showing of "Career Girl" and "Hideout In the Sun."

The Salem Ministerial Association filed a complaint with Columbiana County Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin and County Prosecutor William Brokaw.

Judge Tobin said a number of citizens, besides the ministers, had protested the showing of the films which were clearly visible from Route 14 because of the large screen.

Ford Plants In Ohio Seek To Reopen Talks

CLEVELAND (AP) — Efforts were being made today to resume negotiations for some of the more than 26,000 United Auto Worker Union employes at 13 strike-bound Ford Motor Co., plants in Ohio.

The walkout came Tuesday morning after UAW negotiations in Detroit failed to bring agreement on a national contract. Some UAW members in the Cleveland area walked out before the nationwide strike deadline.

A Ford spokesman said hourly-rated employes at the company's 11 major plants in Ohio will lose more than $659,250 in wages every day the strike continues. The daily payroll for the 11,100 hourly Ford employes in the Cleveland area alone is $258,000, he said.

Patrick J. O'Malley, a regional UAW director, called on management to step up negotiations in an attempt to settle 75 local plant working proposals affecting more than 11,000 employes at Ford plants in greater Cleveland.

Included in the proposals at three Brook Park Ford plants are occupational seniority, shift preference, job posting rates and classification, overtime equalization and health safety and production standard issues, according to Art Kuhns, president of Local 1250, which has 7,759 members. He said all negotiators were prepared to meet with management today.

Other Ford plants idled by the strike are the big compact car assembly plant in Lorain, with 4,100 workers; stamping plant at Walton Hills, 3,287; Sandusky parts plant, 1,134; Lima engine plant, 2,667; Canton forging plant, 1,313; Fostoria spark plug plant, 1,272; two transmission plants in the Cincinnati area, total 4,890, and storage depots in Cleveland and Cincinnati with a total of 123 hourly workers.

stance, when he talks about guarantees for Western rights to West Berlin after he signs a peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

Diplomats said firm arrangements obviously would have to await the outcome of the White House meeting. But barring a more rapid advance than has taken place so far, more exploratory talks will be needed before the prospects of an East-West negotiating conference can be gauged.

Pennsylvania Driver Forfeits $300 Bonds

A Pennsylvania motorist forfeited bonds totaling $300 when he failed to appear for a hearing on two traffic violations Tuesday night before Mayor William J. Shoub of Wellsville.

Joseph Gorel Jr. of Homestead forfeited $200 for driving while under the influence of alcohol and $100 for leaving the scene of an accident.

He was arrested Monday night after a sideswipe collision with a car driven by Wilbur Waggoner of 18th St. Heights, Wellsville, at Aten and Buckeye Aves., police said.

Despite the extra costs, said Kennedy, the bill would not have achieved its objectives.

He said civil service and postal pay structures need extensive revision and promised that the administration will make recommendations to the next session of Congress.

In signing the education measure, Kennedy said in a statement:

"It ill becomes those who insist that we cannot afford the expenditure of federal funds to aid the public education of all children to insist with equal fervor upon the passage of this unsound and uneconomical measure which aids the education of only some."

Kennedy announced that he will try again next year to push through his broader education program.

2 Hancock Women To Attend 4-H Forum

Mrs. William Schladen of Lawrenceville near Chester and Mrs. James Arehart of Pughtown have been named to represent Hancock County at the National Leader Forum in Washington Nov. 13-17.

Both 4-H club leaders, they were selected "because of their excellence in local leadership and their activity in the county 4-H program," according to Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent.

Mrs. Arehart is leader of the Pioneer club and Mrs. Schladen for the Cherokee club of Lawrenceville.

Their expenses will be paid by the Weirton Kiwanis Club and the Hancock County Federal Savings & Loan Association of Chester, according to Johnson.

The forum will offer training in leadership and an experience in citizenship, the agricultural agent said.

jected to making any offer to the firm, explaining he feels it is receiving a fair rate at present.

Ohio Valley has offered proposals to several area communities, including East Liverpool. All call for increased rates. Wellsville is the first to make a counter-proposal. The firm said it would prefer to deal directly with the community rather than going through the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

Harold Sneddon, local manager for the utility, received the proposal and agreed to return to the next Council meeting to discuss it further. In answer to a question as to what the utility would do if no offer were made, he said the case would be taken to the PUCO. The firm is proposing a four-year contract.

Sneddon said the rate being offered by Ohio Valley in each community varies because of the difference in the cost of service.

60 Attend Apple Day Staged At Greenford

LISBON — Some 60 attended the Eastern Ohio Apple Day and smorgasbord sponsored Thursday by the Ohio Apple Institute and the Salem Fruit Growers' Association at the latter's packing plant at Greenford.

The group observed the operation at the plant, followed by an apple smorgasbord prepared by women of the Columbiana - Mahoning Horticultural Society.

A gift package of fruit and a new apple corer and slicer were given all.

Howard Wells, manager of the Ohio Apple Institute, was in charge.

Wheat Plans Clarified By County Agent

LISBON — The purposes of the 1962 wheat stabilization program, according to County Agent Floyd Lower, are first, to increase farm income to nearer the level of non-farm income and thus increase farmer purchasing power to support the general economy, and second, to reduce government storage costs. The aim is to bring the production of wheat more into line with the needs. This would benefit both the producers and taxpayers, he said.

Basically, under the program participants who divert 1962 wheat acreage to conservation uses will receive payments and producers who comply with acreage allotments will be eligible for price support at a national average price of $2 per bushel.

Co-operators will be able to market their production without marketing quota penalty, L. E. Lora, Columbiana County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office manager, said.

The 1962 allotment sent to wheat producers by the county ASC office reflects a 10 per cent diversion in wheat acreage for which payments will be made to offset income loss during the period of adjusting production to needs. Co-operators may divert additional wheat acreage and receive larger payments.

The program provides that full history credit be given producers on all acreage they divert so that producers will not get smaller allotments in the future. A similar provision now applies to wheat acreage history on farms retired under the conservation reserve program.

USDA officials further pointed out that in 1962, as in the past, producers who do not comply with their permitted acreage and who market their excess production will be subject to marketing quota penalties and also to loss of acreage history, which will result in reduction of their future allotments.

If the acreage on the farm exceeds this allotment, or the permitted acreage in the case of small farms, the 1962 production from the farm will be subject to marketing quota penalties which were increased by Congress for the 1962 crop.

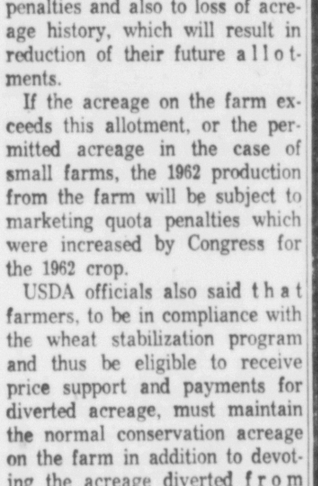

USDA officials also said that farmers, to be in compliance with the wheat stabilization program and thus be eligible to receive price support and payments for diverted acreage, must maintain the normal conservation acreage on the farm in addition to devoting the acreage diverted from wheat in 1962 to a conserving use.

Many producers are making the additional voluntary acreage diversion. This will help bring about a faster adjustment in supplies, provide more assurance of income from the 1962 wheat operation, and at the same time save costs of planting and harvesting the diverted acreage, Lora said.

Bond Set At $5,000 In Case Of Forgery

CLEVELAND (AP)—Wilbur H. Ficken, 45, pleaded innocent Tuesday in Municipal Court to a forgery charge. Judge Hugh A. Corrigan raised his bond from $500 to $5,000 and continued the case to Oct. 26.

Police said Ficken admitted forging checks of Mrs. Howard E. Cregar of Rocky River while he was employed at the investment firm of Prescott & Co. Ficken estimated the shortage in her account was $50,000, police said. They said the shortage would be nearly $73,000.

Jefferson Bar Picks 3 Judge Candidates

STEUBENVILLE — The Jefferson County Bar Association Tuesday named three potential candidates for the county court bench vacated by the resignation of Judge C. B. McCann of Richmond.

The names of the trio will be submitted to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who will make the appointment.

McCann resigned effective Oct. 1. His term expires Dec. 31, 1962, and the new appointee will serve for the remainder of McCann's term.

Highway Chief Orders Repairs On Road Spots

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—State Highway Director Everett S. Preston has inspected a section of the Cleveland-to-Conneaut Freeway in Ashtabula County and ordered repair work for some trouble spots.

The highway chief said it will be necessary to blacktop about a 10-mile stretch in two or three years to seal the present pavement and restore the riding qualities needed for high-speed travel.

Preston made the inspection trip Tuesday in response to recent newspaper reports of poor construction on parts of the superhighway.

Preston said repair work is needed on paved shoulders at several locations in Ashtabula County. He ordered immediate advertising of bids for repairs on shoulders that have settled and separated from the concrete roadways.

The highway director also ordered immediate surface treatment for slabs on an approach to the Ashtabula bridge crossing. He said they would be removed and replaced next spring.

He also looked at sections of the Lakeland Freeway under construction in Lake County. Preston said he saw nothing for which he should apologize. He added the taxpayers were getting more for their money than if the superhighway had been designed and built to avoid problems now turning up.

Threat Of Rain Hangs Over Series Opener Today

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Menaced by threat of rain, the World Series is scheduled to start today with the power-packed New York Yankees reigning solid favorites over the Cincinnati Reds despite Yankee Mickey Mantle's doubtful status.

The Weather Bureau said a soaking rain which fell all Tuesday might taper off by game time—at noon, EST—but there was a possibility the showers would continue until late in the day.

A postponement would push the opener back a day to Thursday and be a big help to Yankee Manager Ralph Houk, who then might be certain of the services of the ailing Mantle.

With, or without Mantle—recovering from surgery on an abscess on his right hip—the Yankees rule a 12-5 choice over the National League champion Reds, who have quiet confidence they can repeat the Pittsburgh Pirates' 1960 series upset of the favored Yankees in seven games.

If the weather is not too foreboding, a crowd of 69,000 will jam Yankee Stadium for the opener which will be telecast and broadcast nationally (NBC).

The pitching opponents will be lefties—Yankee Whitey Ford, the majors' top winner with a 25-4 record, versus Cincinnati's Jim O'Toole, who won his last eight decisions for a 19-9 record.

The Reds have been in the big town two days, but most of the news has been about Roger (61-homer) Maris, the lame Mantle and Casey Stengel ex-Yankee manager who now bosses the new New York Mets. The Gotham attitude is that the Reds are in on a pass.

That's the way Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson and his collection of admitted "rejects" like it. The Reds opened the season as 60-1 National League pennant possibilities. They copped the flag by winning while everybody else wondered how they could do it—without a bangup catcher or the hallowed formula of strength through the middle, except Vada Pinson in center.

While Houk went to great lengths to inform sports writers how the Yankees scrutinized scouting reports on the Reds, Hutchinson simply said, "We went over the Yankee lineup, it was just a routine thing you do for a World Series—we know the job we have to do and we'll try to do it."

A great deal of confusion existed over the condition of Mantle, who said he felt improved but was uncertain he could play.

Houk listed two starting lineups — one with Mantle, who slammed 54 homers batting cleanup behind Maris, and the other without Mantle, installing catcher Elston Howard as cleanup man, shifting Maris from right to Mantle's center field spot and placing Hector Lopez in right.

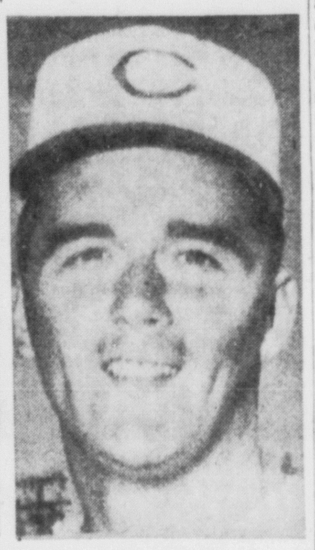

Hutchinson said he would await game time to decide whether Darrell Johnson, who hurt his side in batting practice last Friday, would be his starting catcher. Johnson said he was ready to play. If he can't, Jerry Zimmerman will catch.

Cincinnati's hopes admittedly rest in Frank Robinson, a .323 hitter with 37 home runs, and the fleet Pinson, who has a .343 batting mark and was a key man in the Reds' late pennant drive.

O'Toole Carries Streak To Series

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim O'Toole, 24-year-old son of a Chicago policeman, had the most important assignment of his career today, and he admitted he had "butterflies."

Currently the hotest pitcher on either team, O'Toole was Manager Fred Hutchinson's choice as opening-day pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds against the New York Yankees.

"I'll feel the butterflies, all right," conceded O'Toole, a 190-pound, 6-footer. "But I always feel them in any game until I get a batter or two out. Then they go away."

O'Toole is the youngest of Hutchinson's big three, and the least experienced.

But he had a winning streak of eight games at the end of the season and did not allow a single home run in 101 innings of his last 16 games. That's what Hutchinson needs against the Yankee long-ball hitters.

"He was our best pitcher during the last three weeks of the season when we needed good pitching," said Hutchinson, "so he's the obvious choice. This way I plan on starting him three times."

O'Toole never has pitched in the Yankee Stadium before (like practically all the Reds he has no World Series experience) but he isn't overawed by it. In fact, around the league, they say he's the most confident youngster since Dizzy Dean.

"The only time I ever was in the stadium before," he laughed, "was three years ago when I saw the series as a spectator. But it always has struck me as a nice place to pitch in. It is sort of like Forbes Field in Pittsburgh.

"After I get rid of the butterflies, I think the pressure will be more on our hitters and fielders than on me. And speaking of pressure, don't think the Yank hitters won't have plenty of it."

This is only O'Toole's third full season with the Reds and he finished with a 19-9 record, mainly on his end-of-the-line spurt. Last year, he finished with a 12 - 12 mark and in 1959 it was 5-8.

The Forgotten Men

Tebbets, Paul Had A Lot To Do With Present Reds

By HAROLD HARRISON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Birdie Tebbets was sitting on a stairway talking with Johnny Keane. About 10 yards away stood Gabe Paul chatting with friends.

It was the night before the scheduled start of the 1961 World Series between the Cincinnati Reds and the New York Yankees. They were on the outside, looking in. They were the forgotten men.

Tebbetts and Paul had a lot to do with putting together the Reds team that is heading into the World Series.

Tebbetts, who quit as Reds' manager near the end of the 1958 season, now is manager at Milwaukee. Paul quit as general manager after the 1960 season to go to the new Houston club and then switched to Cleveland of the American League.

Trades engineered by new general manager, Bill DeWitt, which brought second baseman Don Blasingame and pitcher Joey Jay to the Reds, had a lot to do with Cincinnati success this year. But it was a cinch Paul and Tebbetts also were thinking about O'Toole, Hook, Maloney, Bell, Post, Purkey, Pinson, Robinson, Brosnan and Henry—players either traded for or signed during their regimes.

"It's good to be here," said Paul.

Tebbetts, a one - time major league catcher, was questioned particularly about the Reds' catching.

All season the experts have been saying no team could win a pennant with only rookie catchers. After Ed Bailey was traded away to San Francisco in the deal which plugged a second base hole with Blasingame, the Reds were left with only rookies Jerry Zimmerman and Johnny Edwards. That existed until Darrell Johnson, a Yankee castoff who had been a coach with the St. Louis Cardinals, was signed.

That drew a dissent from Tebbetts.

"A weakness will not show up in a single series," he said.

Asked about his impressions of Edwards and Zimmerman, Tebbets said:

"They called the pitches and they called them into the World Series." It seemed as simple as that.

McCoy Sets Course Mark; ELHS Tops Boardman

With Bruce McCoy setting a course record, the East Liverpool High cross country team registered its second straight dual meet victory Tuesday over the Boardman course.

The Potters took the first five places to record a perfect cross country score over Boardman, 15-40.

McCoy's time in the record - breaking performance was 11:30. Behind him were Gary McKee who was clocked in 11:39; Joe Ingram 11:43, Jim Pillar 12:14 and Paul Jarvis 12:17.

Coach Frank Chan takes his squad to Levittsburg for a 10 a. m. meet Saturday.

The first appearance at home for the Potters will be Tuesday when they play host to Weirton.

W. Texas Sophomore Named Back-Of-Week

CANYON, Tex. (AP) — Modest little Pete Pedro said Wednesday "if I am back of the week it's because of my teammates."

Pedro, the 5-foot-7, 160-pound Puerto Rican who created a sensation when he scored six touchdowns in sparking West Texas State to a 56-27 victory over Texas Western, was picked for the honor by The Associated Press.

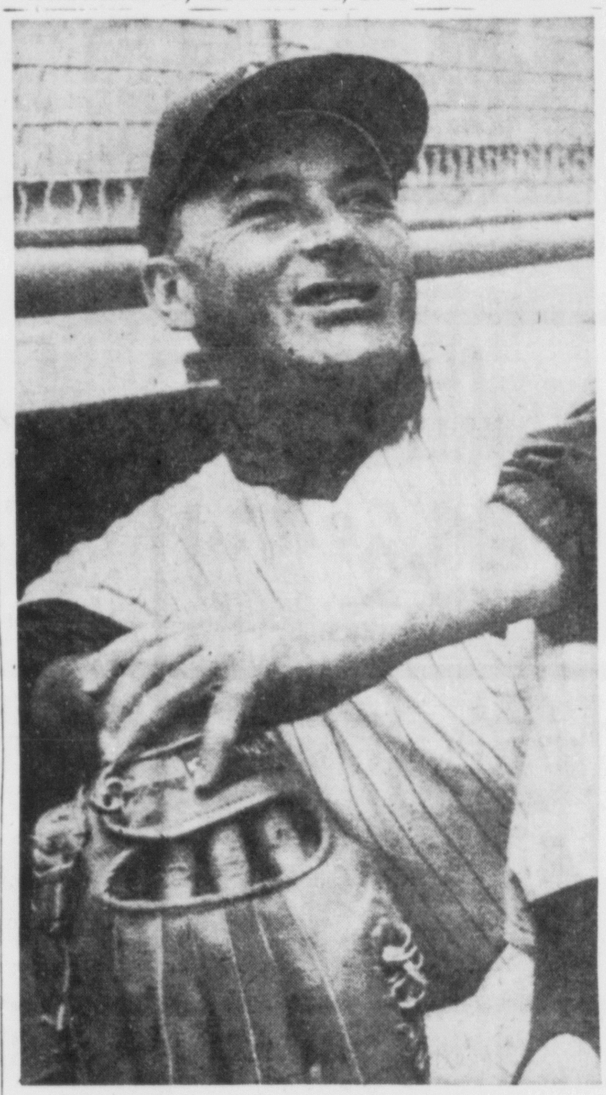

His coach, Joe Kerbel, said the youngster was "overcome with the thrill of the thing."

"He told me that he had great blocking and that was the reason he was able to get the honor," Kerbel declared. "He was quite correct but he also did a great deal of it himself. He is the greatest running back I've ever seen in football."

The youngster is only a sophomore. He came to West Texas State as a transfer from Trinidad, Colo., Junior College. His home is in Lynn, Mass.

West Texas State had won only five games in three years, three of them last season — Kerbel's first as coach. "We already have sellout crowds assured," said Kerbel.

Pedro was chosen over such standout stars as Stan Gann of Georgia Tech, Sonny Gibbs of Texas Christian, Rod Sears, of Stanford, Willie Brown of Southern California, Doug Elmore of Mississippi, Bill Swingle of Northwestern, Angelo Dabiero of Notre Dame, Dave Sarette of Syracuse and others who stood out with their play last weekend.

LUIS ARROYO, the Yankees' top fireman, practices one of the more singular aspects of his trade, waiting in the bullpen, prior to the opening of the World Series today in Yankee Stadium. Arroyo, who wound up the season with a 15-5 record, will probably see a lot more action in the Series. (UPI Telephoto)

Roger Maris Doesn't Underrate Redlegs

The major league home run champ naturally favors his own New York Yankees to defeat the Reds in the World Series, but he doesn't believe it will be easy.

"I just can't understand why they are downgrading the Cincinnati club," Maris said. "They've got a good club. Heck, they must be a good team. They beat some clubs that were rated pretty high early in the season.

"The only ones who are downgrading the Reds are the teams which lost to them. It sounds like sour grapes to me."

The U. S. Bureau of Engraving and Printing, which turns out all American paper currency, began operations in 1862 with a working force of just two men and four women.

Iowa Guard Is Selected Top Lineman

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Iowa, the nation's top-ranked team in The Associated Press college football poll, opened its season last Saturday with a 28-7 victory over California.

For his part in helping to beat the Bears, Sherwyn Thorson, Iowa guard, was named today as the lineman of the week by The Associated Press.

A 215-pound senior, Thorson played virtually the entire game and led the Hawkeyes' forward wall in holding Cal to a net 85 yards rushing.

"Thorson defended well and threw the key blocks in a couple of touchdowns runs by Wilburn Hollis," said Gus Schrader, sports editor of the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Gazette.

Gary Collins, Maryland end, was high up in the linemen voting by sports writers and broadcasters.

Collins caught four passes for 57 yards, punted four times for a 40.2 average and made numerous tackles as Maryland beat Clemson. He now holds the Maryland pass yardage record with 811 yards.

USGA's Senior Golf King Upset By New Yorker

TULSA (AP) — Herman M. Fredberg, New York, made a great recovery shot on the 18th hole Tuesday to defeat Michael Cestone, Montclair, N.J., defending champion in the United States Golf Association senior championship.

Fredberg took a 1-up decision over the champion after hitting his second shot into a sand trap on the par 4 final hole. But he blasted out of the trap to within four inches of the cup. Cestone missed an 18-foot putt in his bid for par.

Medalist Joseph Morrill of Great Barrington, Mass., defeated John Winters, Tulsa, 3 and 2. Three players who tied for medalist runnerup advanced in first-round match play, but one of them, George Dawson, Glen Ellyn, Ill., had to come from behind to do it.

Dawson won six straight holes after making the turn to defeat Edward Schwartz, Leawood, Kan., 3 and 2.

Richard H. Guelich Jr., Buffalo N.Y., had to go 21 holes to oust Bob Tobin of Brooklyn and Dexter H. Daniels of Winter Haven, Fla., went 20 to top J. Ripley Greer of Memphis, Tenn.

Orioles Ask Waivers On Busby And Philley

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles paved the way Wednesday for the unconditional release of two veteran outfielders, Jim Busby and Dave Philley, by asking waivers on them.

Lee MacPhail, Oriole president, said the club wants to put two minor league players on the roster so they can't be drafted by other major league teams.

Both Busby and Philley were used in relief roles by the Orioles this year.

Iowa Picked Over S. California

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP)—There will be a full schedule of college football games this weekend despite the World Series. If you get too excited about the baseball, don't worry. Here are your football winners!!!

(Last week, 32 right, 15 wrong for .681. Season's average, .748)

Iowa over Southern California: This will occupy your TV screen after the Series game. Larry Ferguson, Hawkeye speedster, is injured but the Iowans still have too much for the once mighty Trojans.

Mississippi over Florida State: The Mississippians, like the river, just keep rolling along.

Texas over Washington State: With ease.

Michigan State over Stanford: Stanford will furnish most of the excitement, but Michigan State provides the heavyweight tackles who will control the scoring.

Syracuse over Maryland: The Orangemen from New York could be in trouble if Ernie Davis hasn't completely recovered from his hurts.

Ohio State over UCLA: The Buckeyes' stingy defense will decide this struggle between the leaders of two powerful conferences.

Elsewhere:

Purdue over Notre Dame; Kansas over Colorado; Missouri over California; Texas Christian over Arkansas.

Kansas over Colorado, Northwestern over Illinois, Wisconsin over Indiana, Nebraska over Kansas State, Cincinnati over Xavier, Minnesota over Oregon, Oklahoma State over Tulsa, Oklahoma over Iowa State.

Queen City Holds Series Pep Rally

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Queen City held a pep rally Tuesday night as a final World Series send-off for its National League champion Reds, but it was not much like the wild celebration Cincinnatians put on when the taem clinched the pennant last week.

The "Reds Si, Yankees No" signs were inevidence, and there was drinking in the streets. There was milling around and shoving, and climbing of lamp posts and one fan put detergent in the Tyler-Davidson Fountain to make the suds flow.

But the crowd was not quite enough to make shoving necessary. And, while the pennant night crowd had been of all ages, teenagers and college students predominated at the rally wishing the Reds off to a good start in the World Series starting today in New York.

Philippines Checking On Chance Of Cholera

MANILA (AP)—Health Secretary Elpidio Valencia said today his department is checking the possibility cholera has reached the Philippines from Borneo and Hong Kong.

He said there have been 57 unusual gastric cases and one death but laboratory tests have failed to find cholera bacteria. Quarantine officials said none of the victims has been out of the country.

4 Arrested In Plot

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—Official sources said today four persons have been arrested and charged with plotting a terrorist campaign, including sabotage of railway cars in the Managua yards.

Bucks Put Through Stiff Drill Tuesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Coach Woody Hayes ran his Ohio State Buckeyes through what he called one of the hardest Tuesday practice sessions he has ever put a team through Tuesday, but when it was all over Hayes seemed satisfied.

Only offensive guard Rod Foster suffering from a sore hip which he injured during last Saturday's game, was absent from the session. Halfback Bob Klein, however, is still somewhat hobbled by a sprained ankle which kept him out of the TCU game. Hayes hopes he will be ready for the UCLA contest here this week, but, if not, sophomore Matt Snell, who filled in for him last week, will be at the right half post.

Cigarettes tipped with glass, silk, wood, straw, heavy cork and parchment were sold in the well-stocked English tobacco shop as far back as the 1860s.

Title Bout Set Dec. 4 In Canada

TORONTO (AP)—Floyd Patterson will defend his world heavyweight championship against Tom McNeeley here on Dec. 4 — all because they couldn't agree on a referee in Boston.

Originally, the bout was set for Boston on Nov. 13, but was called off because the Massachusetts Boxing Commission refused to go along with Patterson's request for an out-of-state referee.

Patterson apparently felt that McNeeley, who comes from Boston, might have an advantage with a local referee.

Promoter Tom Bolan made the announcement Tuesday that the Patterson-McNeeley bout would be held here in the 15,000-seat Maple Leaf Gardens.

The bout will be televised in Canada and the United States, but an area within about 100 miles of here will be blacked out.

Schafrath Gets OK To Play With Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns can thank the commanding officer of offensive tackle Dick Schafrath's Air National Guard unit at Mansfield for one of the club's biggest breaks so far this year.

A Browns spokesman said Tuesday the 255-pound Schafrath had received permission from his C.O. to play and practice with the Browns, provided football does not interfere with his Air Force training duties. He said Schafrath has permission to play against the Washington Redskins Sunday.

Field Goals Are Coming Fast On College Scene

NEW YORK (AP) — College football's reborn kicking specialists are at it again this season, booting field goals at a clip that will boost the record for the fourth consecutive year.

The collegians, who began to put the toe back in the game when the goalposts were widened by almost 5 feet in 1959, have kicked 52 three-pointers in 123 games among major colleges so far this year. If the rate is maintained it will easily surpass last season's alltime high of 224.

Meanwhile, Northwestern has taken the initial lead in total offense with 488 yards gained in its first game while Dartmouth is the over-all defense leader with only 58 yards permitted, according to NCAA Service Bureau statistics released today.

Northwestern also is No. 1 in rushing offense with 478 yards and Dartmouth tops in rushing defense with only six yards given up. West Texas State, with 111 points in two games, and Columbus, with 50 in its opener, are running 1-2 in team scoring.

It is not known just how or when the Golden Rule in the Bible was first so-called. It is found in the English language as early as 1674, when it was cited in Murray's Oxford Dictionary.

The United States' No. 1 health-hazard, according to estimates, is obesity. Because an excess of flesh makes the heart work harder, obesity contributes an even greater threat than cancer.

Wants To Keep Playing

By YOGI BERRA

NEW YORK (AP) — For the last few years fellas keep asking me what World Series record gives me the biggest thrill. I really couldn't answer that one. I get a thrill every time I put on a Yankee uniform.

I'm 37 now and I guess Lou Gehrig said it best when he said "I'm lucky to be a Yankee."

The World Series scheduled to start today against Cincinnati is my 12th. It used to be that I looked forward to the winner's share. But as you get older your sense of values change and you realize money isn't everything.

I see where I've earned $71,841 extra for playing in 68 World Series games. You know, I never added it up.

To me it's more important to be playing. I have no idea what I'd like to do when I'm finished playing. I don't even think about that. And I have no plans about retiring. I just want to play from year to year.

This series means a lot to me because this will be the first time I've started in one as an outfielder. Oh, I played some outfield last year and in 1947 when I was a rookie of 22 and the Dodgers ran wild on the bases in my first two series games as a catcher.

In the third game I pinch hit for Sherman Lollar and became the first player to hit a pinch home run in a World Series.

But I don't like to look back and maybe when I get older those dozen records I hold will mean much more. It's still nice to have fellas come up to you and remind you of them.

Club Purchases Special Glasses For EL Gridder

Purchase of a pair of "goggle glasses" for a Potter football player to use in future games was approved by the Blue and White Nonpareil Club at Tuesday night's meeting in the YMCA.

The glasses with unbreakable lens will be used by a Potter gridder instead of ordinary spectacles which are considered unsafe for use on the gridiron. Cost is about $25.

The club was told that its membership campaign for this year is lagging, and heard reports from Coach Bob Hedmond, Coach Rey Peduzzi, Coach Dom Cascio and Coach Norm Six in other business.

J. Allen Montgomery, membership campaign chairman, said this year's drive for new members is behind and dues are needed badly because of expenses incurred in spending $827 on renovation of showerrooms and lockerrooms at Patterson Field.

Membership cards for $2 and $5 are being sold by club members. Proceeds will be used for a number of other projects designed to boost athletics in the city. Another big expense was the purchase last month of special mouthpieces for the Potter squadmen.

Russell E. Hall, president, termed an auto caravan to the New Philly game a "big success." Another caravan will be organized for the trip to Alliance later this season. Hall said 200 booster emblems have been ordered for sale to fans.

"The boys and I were real happy to win over New Philly, the kids did a real good job," Hedmond told the club of last week's game.

Canton Central, the Potter opponent this Friday, will have a huge weight advantage with a number of 200-pounders plus and a 3-1 record to recommend it as being plenty tough, Hedmond declared.

"Central is very strong defensively," Hedmond said. Canton's only loss was 13-6 to Akron St. Vincent, also a big squad.

Coach Peduzzi reported on two victories by the Potter reserves recently, including a 50-0 romp over Beaver Local. "We can look to the future with these kids, and if the sophomores stay out for the sport, East Liverpool will really have some size," Peduzzi said.

Cascio reported on East Junior High's victory over Steubenville—first over the Stubbers in five years—and added the East Enders will play Thursday at Toronto.

Six reported on Westgate's recent victory over East Palestine. His Wildcats will also be in action Thursday against Wellsville.

Coaches Nunzio Polichene, Jack Blair and Larry Foltz also were present. Movies of the Potter-New Philly game were screened. Thirty attended.

West Virginia Seeking First Win Against VPI

MORGANTOWN (AP) — West Virginia University's football team will be meeting a team that has had three weeks to get ready when it tackles Virginia Tech at Mountaineer Field Saturday.

"They could have installed the single wing for all we know," WVU coach Gene Corum said.

"Actually," Corum added, "we won't know until the game starts whether the long layoff hurt or helped them. They have had a lot of time to throw in some new stuff."

VPI opened with a 20-6 victory over William & Mary last Sept. 16, and hasn't played since.

The Gobblers possess a one-two quarterback punch in Terry Strock and Warren Price. Strock also operates out of either halfback slot.

The two seniors accounted for both touchdowns in VPI's victory over WVU last season. Price ran 28 yards for one score, then passed to Strock for the second.

Fred Colvard continues to lead the Mountaineers in rushing. Statistics released yesterday showed the sophomore quarterback with 86 yards in 26 carries for a 3.3 average.

Jim (Shorty) Moss, however, owns the best rushing average, 6.5 yards on 13 carries.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

Be sure it's game before you aim. . . .Never point a gun at anything you do not want to kill . . . .Treat every gun as if it was loaded, etc. This is a few of the cardinal rules of hunter safety as being taught by the Salem Hunting Club. A new class is being formed on first come first served basis.

YOU wouldn't want your youngster to get behind the wheel of an auto with no driving experience whatever. Neither does the law allow it so keep in mind, both are lethal weapons that can kill when under control of an inexperienced person.

Any person under 16 years of age is not allowed to hunt unless accompanied by an adult person. Regardless of age everyone must have a hunting license to hunt with the exception of the landowner, his children or the tenant of a farm and his children.

HUNTING season for ducks begins at noon Eastern Standard Time until sunset. After opening day ducks may be taken from sunrise to sunset until Nov. 18th, both dates inclusive.

Open season for geese is the same as ducks, however, geese may be taken until December 18th inclusive. Shooting hours are the same as for ducks. See special regulations for both ducks and geese.

ALL DUCKS taken still living but crippled must be killed immediately before being legal quarry. Only one wood duck at any time can be had in legal possession. Suppose you crippled a wood duck and wanted to take it home and get a permit to keep it. As long as that wood duck is in your possession you would not be allowed to shoot another, neither can you get a permit for a wild wood duck as they cannot be taken alive.

REDHEAD and canvas back ducks cannot be taken this season on account of the scarcity of these ducks. It remains to be seen just how long it will be before these ducks will again be legal quarry.

That's where State and Federal laws come in. To protect any migratory bird from becoming extinct like the passenger pigeons when adequate laws were not in effect. It is up to the individual hunter to be able to identify ducks according to species just the same as it is to know a hen from a cock pheasant.

Hunters have a responsibility the same as the enforcement officers to see that the rules and regulations are not violated.

I HAVE a few pamphlets of duck identification and the table of sunrise and sunset official for this area which I will pass along to persons requesting them from me personally or I will put them in the mail providing you enclose a self addressed and stamped envelope. My supply is limited. My address, Box 202, Beloit, Ohio.

Mets, Colts Can Stock Up On Former National Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets and Houston Colts, the two new National League baseball clubs, will be able to form their teams from a list that includes former league stars Robin Roberts, Gil Hodges, Red Schoendienst, Sam Jones, Richie Ashburn and Johnny Antonelli, The Associated Press has learned.

The selections from the lists of 15 players made available by each of the eight established clubs will be made by Houston and New York the day after the World Series ends.

Although the lists are in the hands of officials of the Mets and Colts, they will not be officially disclosed by the league.

The AP has learned, however, that Roberts, Hodges, Schoendienst, Jones, Ashburn and Antonelli are on the lists together with such other name players as Clem Labine, Johnny Logan, Vinegar Bend Mizell, and Bobby Shantz of the Pittsburgh Pirates, Billy Loes and Eddie Bressoud of the San Francisco Giants; Norm Larker and Roger Craig of the Los Angeles Dodgers, and Pancho Herrera of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Cincinnati's current list, the AP learned, contains only the names of those not eligible for the World Series. It is reported that Gus Bell, Dick Gernert and Jay Hook may be among those made available once the series ends.

Teamster Tactics To Nip Rebellion Of 4 Locals Fail

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Teamsters Union's delaying tactics in trying to overcome the rebellion of 4,000 members of four Cincinnati locals seems to have failed.

John C. Getreu, regional National Labor Relations Board director Tuesday ordered that an election be held to let members of the largest defecting group—the 2,200 dairy drivers—vote whether they want to quit the Teamsters.

The dairy drivers voted to leave the International in August, but the validity of this action was challenged by Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

Rebel leader James T. Luken, former president of Teamsters Local 98 and leader of the now-independent Milk & Ice Cream Drivers & Dairy Employees Union of Greater Cincinnati and Vicinity, then petitioned the NLRB for an election.

In granting the election, Getreu upheld the action of an NLRB examiner who accused Teamsters attorneys of deliberately stalling the issue.

The field emission microscope can see individual atoms. But scientists want to see smaller things, like the atom nucleus, which is only 1,100,000 the size of the atom. No microscope yet invented can do that.

Soviet Bares Crop Failure In 2 Sections

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has disclosed a virtual crop failure in Kazakhstan and the virgin lands. This may have a considerable effect upon both domestic and international policies.

Pravda reports that delegates to a Communist party meeting in the central Asian republic "spoke with great uneasiness about the fact that this year Kazakhstan cannot give the state much grain."

The first secretary of the Communist party in Kazakhstan, D. A. Kunayev, said: "We must report to the Congress (the 22nd Congress of the Communist party, meeting here Oct. 17) that we do not cope with out task in the production of grain. We cope with our tasks completely unsatisfactorily."

Last year Kazakhstan and the virgin lands also had a disastrous harvest. The first secretary, Nikolai Belyaev, was fired from his local job and from his top job on the Moscow Presidium.

The development of the virgin lands is a pet project of Premier Khrushchev, who sees those vast reaches of central Asia as a means of overtaking the United States in food production.

By all accounts, the harvest in western reaches of the Soviet Union is not much better.

The crop setback may have its influence on foreign policy. On the international front, the Soviet Union almost always lowers its demands when there is a bad harvest since, unlike the United States, it has no reserves on which to fall back.

Navy Man Will Attend 2 Electronics Schools

He is Seaman App. Robert Reark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kayle Reark of Williams Ave., who is spending a 14-day leave at home after completing recruit training at San Diego.

He will report to the Naval Post-Graduate School at Monterey for a six-month course in basic electronics. Then he is scheduled to attend a 26-week school in advanced electronics at Treasure Island, San Francisco.

A 1961 graduate of East Liverpool High School, he enlisted in July, choosing the electronics field. His mother attended graduation ceremonies at San Diego that marked the end of recruit training.

$15,000 Bond Set In Illegal Re-Entry

CLEVELAND (AP)—U.S. Commissioner Herbert A. Horn has ordered bond of $15,000 and set a hearing for Oct. 24 for Leonard A. Smart, charged with illegal re-entry into the United States.

The U.S. Immigration Service said Smart was deported to his native Canada in 1948 and returned without permission. A charge of first-degree murder against him in the Aug. 15 slaying of Louis Hamblin of Cleveland was dropped by Medina County authorities recently.

It's Getting Easier

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Everyone knows it is all but impossible today for a husband to fool his wife.

But how about wives fooling husbands?

On the evidence, it's getting easier for them all the time.

"No woman can pull the wool over my eyes," brags many a husband. Such men are pitiful examples of self-delusion.

Usually a woman has pulled the wool over their eyes so long ago they have become used to it. They have forgotten what a clear view is like.

Civilization ties husbands in knots; it merely gives wives more loose threads to knit to their own purpose.

A man is kept so busy trying to fool his boss he doesn't have the time to fool his wife, and attempts it only in what he regards as emergencies. As a result he usually fails.

But fooling a husband is both a game and a duty to a wife. She regards it as a marital necessity, for she feels if she doesn't keep him fooled she can't keep him happy.

Husband, going over check stubs: "Here's one you wrote for $150. It looks like it says, "frammis oglesrack.' What in the world was that for?"

Actually, what she did write down was "frammis ogleserack." To her it stands for $150 for 10 charm school lessons to lose weight and improve her personality. But she knows that if she told her husband she spent the money for this vital purpose, he'd go through the ceiling—thus creating an unnecessary repair bill.

Example of the second way:

"Wife: "Dear, you're looking a bit shabby, and you really can't afford to in your business. Promise me you'll buy yourself a new suit today."

Knight's Proof Slated Today On Nixon's Luring Attempt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Goodwin J. (Goodie) Knight staked his bid for a political comeback on promised proof today that Richard M. Nixon tried to lure him out of the Republican race for governor.

The 64-year-old former governor called an afternoon news conference and said he would disclose the who, what and where to back up his charge.

Knight, who has clashed with Nixon before, alleged that a Nixon emissary offered him anything in the state if he wouldn't oppose the former vice president's candidacy for governor.

Nixon denied it. He said he is willing to swear on the Bible that he had nothing to do with any attempt to keep Knight from running for the job he held from 1953 through 1958.

Knight announced his candidacy for re-election in 1959, then withdrew after Nixon and other state party leaders threw their pre-primary support to then Sen. William F. Knowland, who lost to Democrat Edmund G. (Pat) Brown. In 1956, Knight for a time fought Nixon's renomination for vice president.

J. Howard Edgerton, president of a Los Angeles savings and loan association and a former Knight campaign finance chairman, said he wouldn't be surprised if Knight named him as the supposed emissary.

Edgerton told newsmen, however, "I have never been an emissary of Dick Nixon on any matter in my entire life."

First Aid Teams Face Simulated Casualties

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — First aid teams from seven states were confronted with another set of simulated casualties today in the concluding session of the 19th National First Aid and Mine Rescue Contest.

The 44 squads—from Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia—began the first aid phase of the competition Tuesday. Mine rescue contests were held Monday.

The winners will be announced at a banquet tonight.

Duties Given PTA Groups

Committees for the Highland-town Parent - Teacher Association were named at the initial meeting of the year Friday night. They are:

Mr. and Mrs. John Cuhart, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hays, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Francis, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hays, playground; Mrs. Wanda Pisarsky, Mrs. Gladys Bentley and Mrs. Millie Lewis, library; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Leatherberry, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hays, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gilmore and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Crist, ways and means; Mr. and Mrs. James Hogue and Mr. and Mrs. Francis, membership; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hays and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Buzzard, program, and Mrs. Laura Meyer, press.

The singing of "America" and the Lord's Prayer in unison opened the meeting. Jerry Russell, principal, introduced faculty members, Mrs. Alice Faloon, first grade; Mrs. Gladys Boyd, second and third; Mrs. Sara Smith, third and fourth; William Chrifield, fifth and sixty, and Mrs. Katherine Leatherberry, seventh and eighth.

The proposed new school board plan for the district was explained and Jack Stewart was endorsed as a member. Officers who assumed their duties include Robert McPherson, president; Ralph Hays, vice president; Mrs. Agnes McKenzie, secretary, and Mrs. Olive Witherow, treasurer.

Mrs. Smith's room won the attendance banner. Two movies were screened and the executive committee served lunch.

Reservists Sought For Marine Corps

Sgt. James H. Aubrey, Marine Corps recruiter stationed on the third floor of the City Hall, said volunteers are being sought among corps reservists with critical military occupational specialties in order to accelerate the buildup to a force of 190,000 by Dec. 31.

Maj. John A. Daskalakis, officer in charge of the Marine Corps Recruiting Station in Pittsburgh, announced that Marine Reservists of the rank of sergeant (E-5) and above may now apply for extended active duty for a period of two or more years provided they held, or now hold, military occupational specialties.

Many of the specialties qualify the man for consideration of drawing proficiency pay in addition to regular salary.

This is a volunteer program and applies to all Marine Corps Reservists regardless of whether they are in an organized unit or inactive status.

Reservists desiring to apply for extended active duty under this program may contact the local Recruiter.

8 Mental Health Directors Named

They are Mrs. Charles Mann and Charles A. Capper, both of Beaver Falls, Dr. John E. Ford and Dr. A. E. Chadwick, both of New Brighton, Abe Farkas and L. H. Major, both of Beaver, Mrs. Ivor Davies of Aliquippa and Mrs. Thomas Vernon of Baden.

Clifford Conklin, president, presided, and Bishop John J. Wright of Pittsburgh spoke on "Patience and the Other Virtues in Planning for the Mentally Unwell."

Seven were presented National Mental Health volunteer pins for serving over 200 hours as volunteers at Dixmont Hospital the Friendship Room and the office. Psychiatric aides at Dixmont were also honored.

Canton Lawyer Seeks Seat In Congress

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — John Locke, a Canton lawyer, has announced plans to seek the Democratic Party's nomination for Congress next May.

Locke, active in his party for more than 30 years—and making his first attempt for public office—will seek the nomination for the 16th Congressional seat now held by Frank T. Bow of Canton, a six-term Republican.

Insect Alert Received

LISBON — Floyd Lower, county agricultural agent, said the October insect alert for farm and home has been received from Ohio State University, as prepared by R. P. Holdsworth and D. D. Blair, extension entemologists. For the farm:

Ear and shelled corn — Most farms carry a residual infestation of grain insects from one year to the next. Old grain and broken kernels that remain in the storage, in truck beds, and spillage from broken sacks of food can breed insects that infest corn stored on the farm.

Use a broom and scoop shovel and get rid of all the old grain and grain waste.

Spray and clean storage ceiling, walls and floor with Methoxychlor or Malathion. For special protection against angoumois grain moth use premium grade Malathion dust at the rate of one ounce of 1 per cent per bushel of grain. Mix directly with corn while loading into crib or bin. This also protects against other grain insects.

Northern corn rootworm — Inspection of May farms in Northwestern Ohio indicates that the root damage to corn has been more extensive than previously realized. The extent of losses, however, is not such that it will pay all farmers to use soil insecticide on an insurance basis.

There are farms, however, where it will pay next year to use a soil insecticide. Where the stalks are so bent at picking time that picker losses occur, fields have had large numbers of pale yellow-to-green beetles feeding on the silks, or weak or damaged root systems have been noticed in field where corn is a continuous crop. A change in rotation, or the use of a soil insecticide at planting time next year, is suggested.

Face fly on dairy cattle — results with DDVP 0.5 per cent face fly sirup on dairy cattle are good enough to justify a recommendation for 1962.

Results were not spectacular and did not elminate face flies from any area, or an individual farm, but when used every day face fly counts were low as opposed to untreated cows. The sirup made a noticeable difference in grazing behavior.

Alfalfa weevil — Heptachlor has been newly registered for alfalfa weevil control at the rate of one pound actual insecticide per acre as a fall treatment, either as 2½ or 5 per cent granules, or as a spray (2 quarts 23.4 per cent Heptachlor in 20-25 gallons of water or 1½ quarts or 31.4 per cent Heptachlor).

Treatments will be applied on a demonstrational field in Southeastern Ohio this fall, since we fully expect serious economic losses to occur on first - growth alfalfa in that part of the state in 1962. Heptachlor cannot be used after Nov. 15. Do not pasture or harvest treated fields until time for first cutting next spring.

Chicken and turkeys; Northern fowl mite, chicken mites and lice will build up in the fall and may give trouble during the winter.

The new dust box treatment for chickens, using one pound of 4 per cent Malathion in a box 12-x-12-x-3-inches deep. For cold weather emergency control, use 4 per cent Malathion dust directly on birds. We strongly recommend against any spray on birds during cold weather. For chicken mites, use Malathion spray on litter, walls, roosts, ceiling and nests. For lice and northern fowl mite, use nicotine sulfate painted on roosts, or use 4 per cent Malathion dust, or Co-Ral dust (5 per cent) on birds.

Hog lice — Lice build up during the fall and may become serious during winter and early spring. The most practical cold-weather treatment is to dust 4 ounces of 1 per cent Lindane evenly over each 100 square feet of bedding.

For the home:

Clover mits — Clover mites became active in cold weather and swarm to roughened surfaces to lay eggs and accidentally enter houses in the process.

Control involves a combination of mite killer plus an 18 inch band of bare soil around the house. The bare ground reduces the numbers by about two thirds, but Malathion, Kelthane, Aramite or Chlorobenrilate can be redusted on the ground around the house for better control. Foundations can be sprayed, but there is the possibility of unsightly residues on dark paint or brick.

Boxelder bugs — Boxelder bugs are one half-inch long with conspicuous red marks on the back. They will swarm on tree trunks or the sides of a house before attempting to find a place to overwinter. They are harmless but a nuisance. They are best controlled when bunched together by using Chlordane or Dieldring at 2 to 4 times the dosage recommended for other insects.

Brown dog tick — We get occasional calls from people who own dogs and whose homes are infested with ticks. This is the brown dog tick. It seldom bites people. It is necessary to use a residual spray, such as 5 per cent DDT, 2 per cent Chlordane or 1 per cent Lindane, making spot applications to the dog's sleeping quarters, baseboards, around door and window moldings, behind pictures, under furniture, around the edges of rugs and in all cracks.

It may be necessary to take down and wash curtains or draperies. At the same time, de-tick the dog with 4 per cent Malathion, or 1 per cent Lindane. Do not use oil-based spray on dogs, although wettable powder spray is all right.

Cluster flies — Cluster and face flies will enter the house soon in order to overwinter. The best prevention is to screen and build them out, caulking cracks around windows, under the eaves and pulley sash cord channels with cotton. The use of 10 per cent DDT solution of 2 per cent Chlordane may be of some help when painted around the window frames or sash cords, but this is secondary to closing openings. Once flies enter, an aerosol space spray of Pyrethrum is best.

19 Incumbents Win In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Nineteen of 33 incumbent councilmen won virtual re-election in the primary election Tuesday by receiving better than 50 per cent of the total votes cast in their wards. Their names will appear on the November ballot unopposed.

Falling in this category are the Democratic leaders of the Council—President Jack P. Russell and Charles V. Carr. However, the Republican minority leader, Richard M. Masterson, faces a showdown fight with Democrat William McWilliam at the general election.

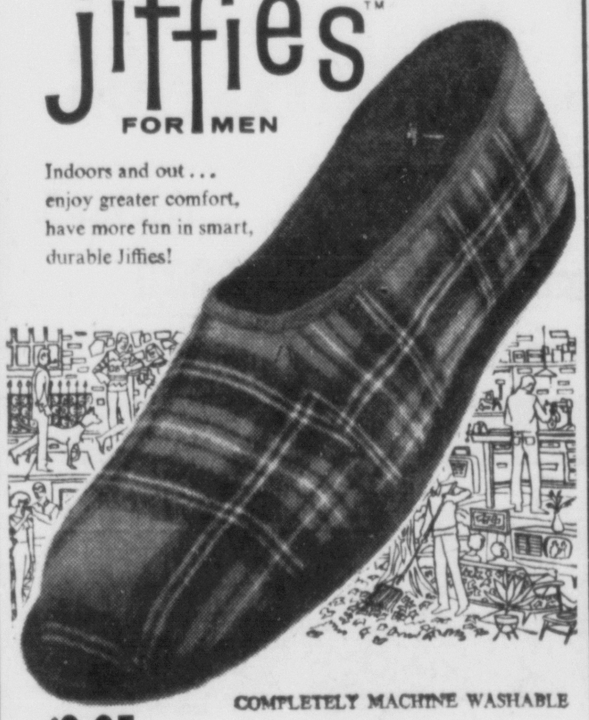

It was not a good showing for the Republicans, whose minority of eight in the Council could be even smaller next year.

In suburban Fairview Park, Councilman Homer E. Cook Jr. lost to Wayne W. Chapman, a newcomer, for the Ward 4 Republican nomination. Six other Republican councilmen won nominations.

To Be Arraigned

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Fred Conger will be arraigned Monday on a charge of second-degree murder in the shooting of his nephew, James O. Hayslip, 26, and the wounding of Hayslip's brother Charles, Clinton County Common Pleas Court Judge C. Luther Swaim said Tuesday.

Washington Film Shown To Rotarians

Behind-the-scenes glimpses of the country's form of government were illustrated in a film, "Washington at Work," screened at the Rotary Club's meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Travelers Hotel.

The 20 minutes black-and-white sound film was prepared by the Kiplinger Washington Editors, publishers of the Kiplinger Washington Letter.

It emphasized that Washington is not all monuments and official titles, but a city where decisions made by the government affect everyone in the country in one way or another.

The film illustrated some of the long, complex processes necessary in a Democratic system of government, showing scenes from many of the governmental offices in the nation's capital.

Atty. William E. Dunlap was program chairman.

Dr. R. Jay Kinsey, president, reminded members of tonight's "Rotary Ann" party at the Country Club, and of a Rotary Foundation dinner Oct. 10. There will be no noon meeting Oct. 10.

A representative of the Quota Club reminded members of a series of travelogue films being presented four consecutive Tuesdays beginning Oct. 17 at Westgate auditorium. The films will be on "Switzerland," "Germany," "Arizona," and "Japan."

Guinea Pig Stolen, He Can't Figure Why

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Rudy Delmore, who operates an auto junk yard, can understand why someone would steal 65 of his auto radiators and 13 batteries, but he couldn't figure out why the raider took his pet tan-and-white guinea pig.

Later an 8-year-old boy confessed that he was the guinea pig thief, but didn't know anything about the other loot.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Parent Shouldn't Argue With Child

It's amazing how many parents argue with their children, sometimes getting so angry that they feel mentally ill. There are two main types of occasion for this argument: 1. Opinion or statement of fact by the parent which the child challenges. 2. Decision or command by the parent that the child resists. Either type of argument with your child may begin when he is very young. Concerning the first, I can see no good reason why any parent should feel angry with a child who calmly challenges a statement meant to be a fact or even an opinion.

SUPPOSE YOUR child challenges you. If you can find printed proof of your statements, present it calmly. If you can't, say nothing, do nothing. Let the child have the last word; trusting he will revise his judgment by and by. And don't act mad about it.

The moment you get angry you are not reasoning, you are fighting. Only when you present the facts calmly and persuasively are you really reasoning. If you are always careful about your opinions and statements of facts, your child, after months and years, will incline to accept them.

It is the second type of argument over which there is most heat, as a rule. You make a decision denying the child what he wishes or requiring him to do what he strongly dislikes to do. He asks why. Trying to be reasonable, you explain. Your explanation may not satisfy him at all. He asks more questions and soon you and he are arguing angrily.

AS A RULE, he knows why you made the decision. He has learned from experience that, if he can get you into an argument, he is pretty sure to win and you to be humbled ignominiously.

Accordingly, many a child, from eight to 12, often puts you on the witness stand, questioning and cross - questioning you as if he were a prosecuting attorney.

When about to make a decision or command that you are pretty sure your child won't like, be certain first in your own mind that it is reasonable, and that you can enforce it. If you have the slightest doubt that he won't see your reasons, state them in the fewest possible words before decision or command is made. Then expect him to abide by it. Refuse to talk back.

LET HIM KNOW from experience that if, after he has obeyed, he still thinks you were unreasonable, he may come back to you and say so.

If you have always been consistent in your decisions affecting him, he will nearly always know beforehand what they will be. With ample, reasonable regularities and requirements as to family routines and chores, there need be relatively few occasions for making decisions and commands.

My bulletins, "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" and "A Parent's Prayer," may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Nurse Magazine Publishes Article By City Woman

Miss Janet L. Powell, a registered nurse and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orin C. Powell of Beechwood, is the author of a paper, entitled "The Basic Chemistry and Physics of the Radioisotope," which was published in the September issue of "The Pennsylvania Nurse."

Her article was written to give a clearer understanding of the elementary chemistry and physics of the radioisotope to increase the nurse's ability to give safe nursing care. The article covers six pages and contains her picture.

A 1954 graduate of East Liverpool High School, she graduated from the Presbyterian - University nursing school in 1957. She is a bachelor of arts degree candidate for 1962 at the Winthrop College for Women at Rock Hill, S. C. She plans to attend graduate school at Duquesne University in the fall of 1962, continuing in the field of nursing education.

45 Enter County Jail During September

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reported a total of 45 prisoners were received at the County Jail during September, in addition to the 30 already confined as of Sept. 1.

Forty - four were released during the month and one mental patient was conveyed to a state hospital. There were 159 visitors.

A total of 2,795 meals were served at a cost of $816.96, making the average daily expense per prisoner 88 cents.

Sheriff VanFossan said 304 papers were served and 5,983 radio transmissions were handled, along with 1,050 phone calls at the jail. The sheriff's office in the Courthouse accepted 20 sets of fox feet for bounty and fees totaling $821.39 were also collected.

Revival Series Opens

School Asks Fuel Oil Bids

The Western Beaver County Board of Education Monday evening authorized Frank Meredith, supervising principal, to advertise for bids for fuel oil for Fairview School and for art and general school supplies for the district.

The board also selected colors for the new junior - senior high school being built in Industry. B. J. McCandless, Ellwood City architect, submitted plans for the color schemes of the panel work.

Meredith said a report for auditing school books for the year ending July 6, 1958, was read and only minor discrepancies were found by the auditor general. These have been corrected since then, Meredith said.

Ronald Young, seventh and eighth Grade teacher, was given a military leave of absence. He was called to active duty with the 475th Quartermasters Corps of Beaver Falls.

The Children's Theater Guild was granted permission to use a classroom in the Fairview School for practice Tuesdays from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m.

The Beaver County PTA Council was granted use of the Ray W. Snyder school cafeteria for a county meeting Jan. 6.

495 Doctors, 154 Dentists Facing Call To Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department ordered Tuesday the drafting of 495 doctors, 154 dentist, and 67 veterinarians for the military services.

It said they were needed because of the general buildup of the Army, Navy and Air Force.

The veterinarians are being called to meet an increased demand for food inspection services, preventive medicine, and research and development, the Pentagon said.

This is the second time this year that the Defense Department has ordered a medical draft.

Unity Establishment Gets Liquor Permit

LISBON — A permit for the sale of high-powered beer and wine and for liquor by the glass until 1 a. m. has been issued by the Ohio Department of Liquor Control to the Hide-A-Way of Route 165 in Unity Township, operated by Edgar A. Mort.

The department is processing an application for the transfer of similar permit from Helen E. Fernengel to Frank J. Citino for the Fernengel's Tavern of S. Broadway, Salem.

Dear friends,

In arranging a funeral, the family should realize that added costs include newspaper notices, transportation fees, automobile rentals, musicians, cemetery, crematory or mausoleum fees — these items alone often exceed the funeral director's total bill. Keeping this in mind, the total expenditure should not exceed the family's ability to pay.

HAL HUMPHREY

Verna Gets The Old Heave-Ho

Hilda Crocker, that bumptious old neighbor gal of the Porters in "Pete and Gladys," has been evicted.

Hal Humphrey

"Yes, it's true," says Verna Felton, the 71-year-young actress who created Hilda. "After six years they've decided Hilda didn't belong in the show. Isn't that something?"

Verna refers to her role as Hilda on the old "December Bride" series (still being rerun), which had a year on radio and four on TV. When creator Parke Levy parlayed Pete Porter (Harry Morgan), the neighbor in "December Bride," in a new series last season, Hilda moved over, too.

THE SECOND SEASON of "Pete and Gladys" began two weeks ago with no mention of Hilda Crocker.

"I would rather not go into detail about it," says Verna about her eviction. "I'm too old to fight. Tell my fans they'll see me soon on a Jack Benny show, and I hope some other shows, too." (Verna has played Dennis Day's mother on the Benny show for years.)

Producer Levy says Verna was dropped because there was no logical reason for Hilda to be a friend of Gladys Porter, and that viewers believed she was Gladys' mother.

ERNIE KOVACS says he doesn't mind getting rapped by the critics, but he wishes they would watch the show before they write about it.

"You won't believe this, but one of the New York critics accused me of bad taste for using a mechanical cockroach in my first special of the season.

"Believe me," cries Ernie, "there was no mechanical cockroach. I had a turkey with a thermometer sticking out of its back, but if that looked like a cockroach to this critic, then everybody on TV is in trouble!"

ANYONE who asks Bob Cummings what kind of character he is playing in his new series opening on CBS-TV Thursday night is told, "I play a professional positive thinker."

Cummings is deadly serious about thinking positively, and insists it is the key to his own success. He believes that anyone who wants to do something passionately enough has only to think that he already has accomplished it, and the ambition is as good as realized.

Recently he hosted a posse of TV columnists at the weekend spa in Palm Springs and showed the first film in the series. Immediately after the showing, however, Cummings asked that we please not review what we had seen until it had been on the air. He probably decided we weren't good enough positive thinkers yet to be trusted.

NOW THAT NBC set a precedent by refusing to let Rosemary Clooney sing a song ("If Love Were All") because of the connotations engendered by her separation from husband Jose Ferrer, the tunesmiths along Tin Pan Alley busily are composing songs which can fit any TV occasion.

"No More Ring Around Our Rosie" wasn't composed soon enough to save Miss Clooney, but the boys say they'll never be caught napping again. They've already got a hit for Liz Taylor. It's titled, "When in Rome, Let the Romans Do it."

CLINT (Cheyenne) Walker has two more years on his Warner Bros. contract, but he states that unless the studio takes him out of "Cheyenne" next year he will just sit the last year out.

"I'm sick and tired of horses," allows Clint. "I just finished building a walk-in camper, and I'll pack my family in it and we'll just go out and see the word."

Clint's latest hobby is shark fishing, which he does whenever he gets away from that horse.

"I ain't much on killin', but I can sure kill those sharks. They're mean," he says.

JAY WARD and Bill Scott, creators of "Bulwinkle," report that they had five pilot films that didn't sell before they hit on "Bullwinkle."

Santa Parade Details Aired

The traditional Santa Claus parade ushering in the Christmas shopping season probably will be held Nov. 24, the Friday after Thanksgiving, the East Liverpool Merchants Association was advised Tuesday at its monthly meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Jack Steinberg, co-chairman of the community Christmas activities committee, reported on initial plans for the parade, which again will be arranged by the Junior Chamber.

Steinberg also reported the city has recieved the donation of a large evergreen tree for use on the Diamond.

A schedule of store hours was adopted for the holiday shopping season. Stores will schedule about the same number of additional night openings as in 1960, but the extra hours will fall closer to the holiday. ELMA said specific schedules will be announced later, shortly in advance of the gift-buying season.

The schedule of hours was worked out by the Executive Committee, with James Locke as chairman for the project.

Harold Allison announced the annual Rural - Urban Day has been scheduled Wednesday, Nov. 15. Rural residents of the district will be guests of the merchants for a program that will include tours of business places and a luncheon.

The exchange of visits is made annually, with urban and rural organizations alternating as hosts.

Details of the program will be announced later, Allison said. He is chairman of the ELMA rural-urban committee.

Ralph Finley, ELMA chairman, reported the Business & Professional Women's Club is co-operating with the merchants' downtown improvement committee in a beautification project that will get under way next spring.

The group voted a resolution of respect in memory of John Robins, a veteran member who died recently. The next meeting will be Nov. 7.

Civil Defense Head Speaks At Lisbon Teachers' Event

The Lisbon Teachers Association held its initial meeting of the term at Lincoln School Monday and a talk was given on Civil Defense.

Mrs. Arlene Homan, president, conducted business.

Reports were given and plans made to hold a public chili supper after the football game Friday night, Oct. 13 at the school. Proceeds will go to the Teachers' Scholarship Fund.

Husbands, Wives Guests

Husbands and wives of the members were guests.

For the program, Col. Leo McCarthy of Youngstown, former area director of Civil Defense for 14 counties, spoke on "Civil Defense In Relation To The Schools."

He was introduced by Alex Rutecki, county Civil Defense coordinator. Miss Dorothy Cameron was program chairman.

A social time followed and refreshments were served by Miss Nancy Shattuck and committee.

Next meeting Nov. 14 will feature an Hawaiian theme.

Some 50 were present when members of the Christian Youth Fellowship and councilors of the First Christian Church entertained the Alliance CYF Sunday afternoon.

Museum Is Toured

The Young people toured the Tuscarora Museum west of Lisbon, followed by a wiener roast on N. Park Pl., near the Fred Reese home where the business and worship service were held because of the weather.

Miss Carmen Gibson, president, presided.

The Altar and Rosary Society of St. George's Catholic Church met at the Parish Hall Monday night with Mrs. William Thompson, president, conducting the business.

The group voted a donation to the teachers Scholarship Fund and to cancel the bake sale scheduled for Oct. 28.

11 Plan Pilgrimage

It was announced that 11 women of the parish will join with the two bus loads from the county for the pilgrimage to the shrine at Washington.

Miss Mary Smith won a prize.

Mrs. John Vokovich and Mrs. Robert Harrold, program chairmen, showed color slides with recording on "The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass" and of "The Sacrament of Matrimony."

For the meeting Nov. 6, Atty. Joseph J. Baronzzi will speak on "Wills" and answer questions.

Monday Club Meets

Mrs. R. V. Parry of Signal Rd. was hostess to the Monday Club.

Mrs. C. F. Wright presented the program on "Architecture, 1803-1961," giving historical facts on Lisbon homes and their occupants.

Mrs. Robert Leggett, president, presided. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. R. F. Marlatt.

Donation Given Fund

Conference Announced

Announcements made were of the fall conference Oct. 27 at West Lafayette and the County Council session Oct. 17 for a masquerade party with the Glenmoor unit. A membership drive has started and yearly dues are now payable.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Robert Fife and committee.

Next meeting is Nov. 6.

Mrs. Vida Davies, president of the Mid-County Republican Club, issued a reminder of the meeting to be held tonight at 8 in the Village Hall.

Mrs. Harold Armstrong of Columbiana will review "Conscience of a Conservative," by Sen. Barry Goldwater. A coffee hour will follow.

Plans will be made for a dance Oct. 28.

Steubenville College Deadline Is Monday

Students who plan to attend the College of Steubenville's fall term — delayed one month to a starting date of Oct. 19 — have only until next Monday to file an application for admission, it was announced today by Miss Audrey Savastone, registrar.

The usual procedure of registration cannot be followed this fall, due to the late opening date.

This year students seeking to enroll must complete their applications before next Monday at 4:30 p. m. This includes those desiring to enroll on a part-time as well as a full-time basis.

Dance To Open Irondale's Fete For Homecoming

IRONDALE — A round and square dance Thursday night from 9 to 12 in the high school auditorium will lead off the community's 21st annual homecoming observance.

A home talent and minstrel show will be held Friday night at 8 in the high school when a homecoming queen will be named.

Saturday's activities open with games and contests for children at 10 a. m. at Memorial Field.

The queen will be crowned at halftime of the Stanton Local-Salineville football game at 2. A public dinner will be served at the school following the game.

"Memories" is the theme for the homecoming round dance Saturday night in the school gymnasium. Glenn Ross' band will provide music.

South Side PTA Will See Movie

A movie, "Second for Survival," will be screened at a meeting of the South Side Parent - Teacher Association Monday evening at the elementary building near Hookstown.

It will be held in the multi-purpose room and William Faulk, president, will conduct business. Mrs. Joyce Stewart will be in charge of refreshments.

The PTA is now using a new point system to increase attendance. Fathers and teachers count two points and mothers one. At the end of the month, the room with the most points will get ice cream.

Mrs. Frank Moore is publicity chairman.

South Side Fund Dinner Awaited

The divisional goal is $500. Chairmen of the areas are Paul Lyle, Mark Hilliker, Mrs. Bruce Hobbs, Donald McHaffie Jr., Mrs. Juanita Patton, Mrs. Willis Swearingen, Donald C. Morgan, Claire D. Gamble and William Boros.

Solicitation will be made among small businesses, self - employed and retired persons in Hookstown, Georgetown, Shippingport, Frankfort Springs, and Raccoon, Hanover, Greene and Independence Townships, with about 40 volunteers.

Each borough and township chairman will recruit sufficient number of people to assist them in order that no one person calls on more than five to 10 prospects.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: This office has been a battleground for three solid months. The war is about the air conditioner. I realize summer is over but please solve the problem now — for next year.

We have a single window unit in this office which must be adjusted manually. One girl is always "dying from the heat." She insists on turning the unit up as high as it will go. Yesterday she set the controls to suit herself, then she put masking tape over the knobs and attached this sign: "Do Not Change!"

Must the entire office force be subjected to colds, sore throats and sinus infections because of one oddball? The same girl has bought a fan which blows on her all summer. Doesn't this indicate that something is physically wrong with her?

The boss is neutral. He says temperatures don't bother him. Is there a solution?—KANSAS CITY COMPLAINT.

Dear K. C. Complaint: The oddball should see a doctor — and the boss should take some positive action even though "temperatures don't bother him."

An expert ought to be called in to decide the ideal temperature for your office. He should then adjust the air conditioner (for the summer) and no one should be permitted to touch it.

The girl who is always "dying from the heat" should be given the desk closest to the unit. You should be at the other end of the room.

Mother's Favorite

Dear Ann: When my sister Judy lived at home she got whatever she wanted from Mom. Now that she is married, it's still going on — only worse.

Judy has had four babies in four years. Her husband barely makes a living. My dad is far from rich and there are many things we need but can't afford. Yet Mom buys clothes for Judy's kids, carries groceries over there and sits for them every Saturday and Thursday night.

Last week Mom and I went shopping for our winter clothes. She didn't get anything although she needs shoes and a new coat. She spent $40 on dress clothes for Judy's kids. This burned me up. What can I do?—PLAIN MAD.

Dear Mad: Nothing. So stop trying. Your Mom has always put Judy first and she always will. It's too bad when married children are a financial burden to parents, but some parents promote it—so keep silent.

Plagued By Pledge

Dear Ann: Last year my husband and I signed a pledge card obligating us for a substantial amount of money. In recent months our business has gone bad and we've had to pay heavy medical and hospital bills. It's impossible to meet the pledge.

Yesterday we received a letter from the director of the organization with a warning that the matter would be placed in the hands of an attorney if the pledge was not paid within 60 days.

Are we legally obliged to pay? Please hurry the information. We are humiliated and worried. — KZO.

Dear KZO: No ethical charity sues for collection of pledges.

Whether or not you are legally bound depends on the language of the pledge card. If you do not have a copy, get one—and see an attorney.

Ann Landers Will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

Teen-Ager Needs Courageous Critic

Dieting isn't easy, and it seems to be a bigger hurdle for teenagers. But it's not fun to be a fatty, particularly when you are young. So a 14-year-old, who weighs 150 pounds asks to correspond with another overweight girl who is trying to slim down and shape up. Our teen-ager writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"I feel that if I had someone I could write to and report my results that I would be able to reduce better. My measurements are 36-30-40. I am 5 feet 4½ tall and weigh 150 bulky pounds."

It may help when you have someone to report to regularly. If you have a good friend who has a similar weight problem, the two of you can perhaps help each other. Ask your gym teacher to check your measurements and show you calisthenics to slim inches off waist and hips.

YOUR MOTHER could be your ally. Also, it is enormously helpful to report to the doctor regularly.

However, the plan of reporting to a pen pal has not proved effective. Bear in mind that the person whom you choose to help you must be your severest critic, not in a condemning way of course, but one with the courage to tell you the truth.

For many reasons it must be someone you trust and admire and whom you know to have your interest at heart. She will sense when you need encouragement, or when a prod will best serve to put you on your mettle.

If you are on the level about imparting the whole truth to a friend, and even more important, to yourself, keep a diet-diary. Write down everything you eat. Let her see the list at the end of each week.

As one dieter wrote, "You think twice before eating something frightfully fattening when you know you are going to have to write it down for someone else to read!"

A 15-year-old asks if it is all right to just think about tempting goodies. "Thinking about food can't make you fat, can it?" she inquires wistfully. Indirectly, yes. Thinking makes it so! After all, when you are thinking of food you are not devising ways to help yourself slim down.

ON THE DIET diary, you will find it most enlightening to make a mood-memo too. As you jot down the various items of food consumed... write opposite the entry just what you were thinking about at the time. Were you feeling a bit lonely or trying to put off doing the homework?

Put it all on the record. When the pattern stands out you get a better perspective. The next step is to ACT to change things.

Send long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Teen-Age Slimming Challenge." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Cub Scouts Stage Program At Pughtown PTA Meeting

The theme was "What the Cub Scout Program Does for the Youth of America" and skits were presented by the four dens. Jack Johnston is pack leader.

Reports were presented on a PTA workshop held in the school by the Hancock County PTA Council. Mrs. Herman Bartlett of Weirton was director. Next council meeting is Oct. 31 at 7:30 p. m. in the Cove School in Weirton.

Plans were approved to have photographers take both group and individual pictures of students for the parents.

Committee chairmen were introduced. They will meet every fourth Monday in the school. Devotions were led by Mrs. Robert Swain.

Police Sound Alert In Shaker Robbery

CLEVELAND (AP)—A county-wide police alert was broadcast today for a man sought in the $1,729 robbery of a woman outside a bank in suburban Shaker Heights.

Police said a license number of a late-model car furnished by a witness may help in the capture of the gunman who Tuesday held up Mrs. Joseph A. LoVullo, 34, in a shopping center parking lot.

Arrested In Robbery

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Louis F. Raucci, 31, was arrested by the FBI Tuesday night in connection with an armed robbery July 17, 1959, at Niles, Ohio. The FBI said Raucci had been living in suburban Wilkinsburg.

Unemployed Dips 457,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joblessness dropped by 457,000 in September and should decline below four million this month for the first time in a year, the Labor Department reported Tuesday.

At 4,085,000, the September unemployment total was 6.8 per cent of the civil labor force—a disappointingly small change from the August rate of 6.9 per cent, equivalent to the high point of the recession.

However, the department's manpower expert, Dr. Seymour Wolfbein, said there were elements in the September picture which indicate there should be "some real improvement" in October.

Joblessness among adult men dropped more than seasonally, as did long-term unemployment.

There also was a drop in the number of workers working short hours for economic reasons.

Total employment dropped by 1.5 million in September to a total of 67,038,000.

This was about twice the decline normally associated with the return of young workers to school, and was attributed to the severe curtailment of farm work due to Hurricane Carla during the week in which the Bureau of Labor Statistics made its job survey.

Cuyahoga Area Employers Face BUC Rate Hike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cuyahoga County claimants received 19 per cent, of $83,661,000, of the $442,972,052 paid out of the state jobless compensation fund from July 1, 1959, to July 1, 1961, reports Ward A. Riley, area director of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

Riley said Tuesday that because of a low balance in the fund —$178,632,789 on July 1—20,000 employers in Cuyahoga County will be assessed $5 more per $1,000 on the annual taxable payroll, pursuant to state law, effective Jan. 1. Minimum payments, now $1 on $1,000 of payroll, automatically will be at the rate of $6, while those employers now paying $27 annually per $1,000 will be paying $32. Those are the extremes, on a graduated scale. Employers of three or more pay into the fund.

The added rate is called for under the Ohio law when the amount remaining in the BUC fund on July 1 is less than the total jobless benefits paid out in the previous 24 consecutive months.

10 Syracuse Families Plan Fallout Shelter

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Ten suburban families plan to begin construction next week of a community fallout shelter large enough to house 11 families.

Each family will contribute $300. The 20 by 30-foot shelter will have 11 cubicles along the walls and a central area for group activities.

Retired Admiral Dies

READING, Pa. (AP) — Cmdr. Frank C. Brandenburg (USN, Ret.), 46, a developer of underwater sound equipment for the federal government, died Tuesday. Brandenburg, who operated a research and development plant in sound equipment, served in the Navy from 1941-1957. He was born in Arlington, N.J.

New Syrian Army Leader Cites Nasser

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser's agents moved "like an octopus to weaken the Syrian army, suffocate freedom of citizens and to fill prisons," says the new Syrian army commander.

Gen. Abdel Karim Zahredin told reporters Tuesday that was the reason the Syrian army rose against Nasser's United Arab Republic last week and forcibly severed Syria's 2½-year-old ties with Egypt.

Zahredin also accused Cairo agents of stealing millions of dollars worth of Syrian arms and equipment for shipment to Egypt.

He said Nasser's intelligence officers filled Syria's prisons with political prisoners and stifled individual liberties.

"The army's only aim was to redress wrongs and it was pledged not to interfere with the political life of Syria," he said.

Informed sources said that one way Nasser weakened the Syrian army was to send several dozen Syrian officers to Communist countries as students. They said Syria now has demanded their prompt return.

Interior Minister Adnan Kuwatly told newsmen the new Syrian regime had found a large number of political prisoners but had been unable to come up with an accurate count. Premier Mamoun Kuzbari estimated the number at about 30,000.

Kuwatly said the dreaded internal security system at one time had about 6,500 secret agents with a monthly payroll of about one million Syrian pounds — $2,800,000.

Syria will continue its ban on the Communist party, Kuwatly said, adding that "we will leave the question of political parties to Parliament."

43 Are Arrested In Plot To Kill Ghana President

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Forty-three men, including leading political opponents of President Kwame Nkrumah, were arrested Tuesday night on charges of plotting to assassinate him.

Among them were Dr. Joseph Danquah, opposition candidate in Ghana's 1960 presidential election; opposition leader Joseph Appiah, son-in-law of the late Sir Stafford Cripps, once chancellor of the British Exchequer, and former Social Welfare Minister Patrick Quaidoo, ousted from Nkrumah's Cabinet last May.

Three members of Parliament and seven women also were arrested, the latter on unspecified charges.

The roundup brought to about 370 the number of persons held under Ghana's preventative detention act, which permits interning "political undesirables" up to five years without trial.

Especially For You . . .

THE WARMTH AND FRIENDLINESS OF AN OPEN FIREPLACE on a winter evening is yours in the large carpeted living room of this fine home on Calcutta Smiths-Ferry Road. An oil furnace keeps the 5 rooms and 1½ baths cozy all winter, too. The 6½ acres of ground are a beautiful setting for this brick home surrounded by planned landscaping. A dream home, at a modest price. Drop by and see it for yourself. $19,000.00

BRAND SPANKING NEW? No, but it's a well taken care of older home. A two story 6 room home on Chester Avenue with 1½ baths, garage, oil furnace, and many extras. All rooms except 1 of the 3 bedrooms are carpeted, and there's a plate glass mirror to reflect your pride in being a "happy home-owner". Give it a good look and it will give you plenty of good living. $10,500.00

THE MAGIC CARPET is already laid in the hall and 1 of the 2 bedrooms of this 1 story home in LaCroft. The kitchen has built-in cabinets, and it's all heated by a gas furnace. A fairly new home at a fair price. Shrubs and trees provide the final touch to this cozy home.

ARE YOU THINKING
of selling your home or business? Give "Mac" a call for complete realtor service . . . appraisal, listing, advertising and SELLING! Years of experience in East Liverpool and vicinity make "Mac" your man, for the finest in real estate service for both home and business.

Army To Fire Nike Zeus Antimissile In Test Shot

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army plans to try again next weekend to fire its Nike Zeus antimissile out over the Pacific.

The test, probably on Saturday, will come at a time when the Army is bidding anew for money to start limited production of parts for the controversial system.

Nearly a month ago, on Sept. 9, Army technicians made their first effort to shoot the Nike Zeus from Point Mugu, Calif. Shortly after the missile shot skyward it exploded.

Although rebuffed repeatedly in the past, the Army is known to be seeking again to win an allocation in next year's defense budget for starting production of long-range items for the Zeus system.

Officials declined to say how much money was being sought, but it appeared likely the request might be about $100 million. The Army hoped for that amount a year ago but was turned down.

In addition to production money, the Army is asking for about $200 million in the 1963 fiscal year for further development work on the Zeus, the most advanced U.S. antimissile system. This would bring to about $1.4 billion the amount applied to Zeus research and development.

Testifying before congressional groups earlier this year, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara spoke of "widespread doubts as to whether the Nike Zeus system should ever be deployed."

He said then that the system, mostly above ground, is vulnerable to ballistic missile attack. He also indicated he was not convinced that the Zeus could work effectively against enemy missiles screened by decoys.

Since then, resumption of Soviet nuclear testing has given rise to speculation that the Soviets may be working on an antimissile system.

The Army hopes this development, plus Soviet threats to build a super nuclear bomb with the explosive power of 100 million tons of TNT, may cause defense officials to look more favorably on the Zeus.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I clean light felt hats?

A. One of the best methods is to rub the soiled spots, or the entire hat, with a cube of French chalk, which may be purchased at any drugstore. Allow this to remain on the hat for a few hours, or overnight, then brush off with a soft brush.

Q. How can I prevent my pie shells from bubbling or shrinking during the baking?

A. Try baking your pies between two pie pans of the same size. These tins should be of light material, such as tin or aluminum. After 10 minutes in the oven, remove the top tin, and continue baking until brown.

Q. How can I clean acoustical ceiling and wall materials?

A. Use the brush attachment on your vacuum cleaner to do this job. Stubborn smudges can be removed with wallpaper cleaner, or a cloth moistened with soapy water.

Same Problem

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Indian educator G. K. Chandiramani insisted on writing his name for an interviewer while visiting Erie County Technical Institute. "They misspell it even in India," he said.

Hi-Fi Music In '70 May Come From Walls

The Institute of High Fidelity Manufacturers foresees a tiny audio instrument containing electronic moleculars (the next step after transistors) and a thin 2x2 inch sound cartridge containing a whole evening's music. The walls will tune into the music's frequency and you will be surrounded by true stereo sound. For a change in mood music, the wall colors will change, too.

Project Should Bring An Occasional Laugh

Comedians Jack Benny, George Burns and George Jessel have all bought lots, says President Joseph Timan of Horizon Land Corp., the developer. Actor Kirk Douglas and his producer, Ed Lewis, are among other purchasers.

The community, a little more than half the size of Manhattan, encircles an 18-hole golf course.

Roving Cabbage

PERRY, Fla. (AP) — When the county school board recently tried to sell the Cabbage Grove school, it found the building was half a mile from the land it was supposed to be on. Nobody knew how the miscalculation was made 50 years ago when the school was built, but it delayed the board's move to sell the building.

Army Carries Out 'Frosty' Operation

HANOVER, N. H. (AP) — The Army picked the right men to supervise the transfer of glacial ice cores, crystals and permafrost from Wilmette, Ill., to its Cod Regions Research Laboratory in Hanover.

The specimens were driven in a specially designed refrigerated trailer, attended by the Army's Robert Frost and civilian Ralph Frost of Chemetron Corp., designer of the trailer.

The Frosts are not related.

Vitamin Discoveror Not 'Money-Minded'

SUMMIT, N. J. (AP) — The scientist who discovered Vitamin B-1, then relinquished his rights to the discovery, says: "I have no regrets. It was never my purpose to make money on it."

Since 1936, $7 million in royalties has been disbursed by the Research Corporation of New York to universities and other nonprofit organizations for research into problems of nutrition.

From Cape To Class

MARIANNA, Fla. (AP) — A surplus missile tracking unit from Cape Canaveral will help inmates of the State Boys School learn electronics. Scottish Rite Masonic bodies of Miami bought the surplus missile tracking unit and gave it to the Boys School. It was dismantled and the complex electronic instruments put into use as models in the classroom.
